The Adventures of the Black girl in search of God - Bernard Shaw - July 1934

Black girl talks with Allah and image maker about what or who God is:

"And when you have one you know why there is no beginning and no end; for you can count count one less and less and less and never come to a beginning; and you can count one more and more and never come to an end;
thus it is three numbers that you find eternity."

"Eternity in itself and by itself is nothing" said the Arab. "What is eternity to me if I cannot find eternal truth?"

"Only the truth of number is eternal" said the black girl. "Every other truth passes away or becomes error, like the joys of childhood;
but one + one are 2 and one and 10 eleven & always will be.

Comment - very interesting and cleverly written on topic of religion and missionary with sparks of Shaw's wit.

Scarlet Sister Mary - Julia Peterkin

Sept '34

"Yesterday's sun is set, " Last year's rain is dry. It's better to let old sorrows sleep an' tink on what's a-comin tomorrow.
Plenty o' to-morrow too, if you'll be ahead o' your. Plenty of good to-morrow too.

— people's children are not their children
Nobody belongs to anybody. Everyone belongs to God.

Lyrics of Life - By Douglas Malloch

"Sunsets"

S.F. Chronicle Sept. 27, 1934

The sun slips down a saddening sky,
The waters darken, land grows dour,

THE EVERYDAY
DIARY

WITH THIRTY-THREE PAGES
OF CONVENIENT RECORDS
AND USEFUL INFORMATION

JANUARY 1

A glorious day! With the sun out and shinning upon the grand Cardinal football team which beat S.M.U. of Texas against great pre-game odds.

Had a pleasant day with callers - and sufficient food.

Father was feeling grand, too. Oh, it makes me feel so good to see him so gay. I can't help but "bubble".

It was good to hear from Son to greet 1936.

JANUARY 2

I've never welcomed rain, as I did the light drizzle today. It was complete for my day of rest. I just didn't do anything - not even a letter to Son. Just lounged in front of the heart-warming fire.

Food - no menu to plan to-day.

A dish of $\pi \approx 3.14$; 8 rolls $\approx \frac{1}{2}$; π ; $\pi - \pi$; chicken;
fruit cake, jello, $1 + 2 + 4$;

JANUARY 3

Too much holiday for Pa. I guess. In bed today.
Occasional visitors!

JANUARY 4

Yuri left this morn for a conference at Mills.

Visitors late aft. so tomorrow no dinner - that is special Sunday dinner.

Pa. has decided to stop smoking and hasn't touched one for 2 days now. I give him credit for he insists that he shove a package at his elbow. for he says "

JANUARY 5

"It is easy, ^{not} to say I won't spend when one is poor; but hard not to when rich."

I guess one must get himself to that frame of mind, if he wants to succeed in breaking a habit.

As yet my reducing device is at the stage of don't have any food around, then I won't eat.

JANUARY 15

Are you a Christian? - Study of Personality of Christ reveals an absolutely ideal adjustment to his Major Person. He believes he could have anything he wanted by asking - his blunt assurance that anybody else could do the same thing if he cared to. Amazed that more aren't interested in that part of it - now - if that's being a Christian - I'm a Christian.

What church teaches - whole subject sentimentally soul as congenital disease to be cured. "Received in Bad Order." As for things one reads in papers about churches, either they're campaigning for money to build something, aid elect a new attorney, stopping prize fight or panning some other sect's belief.

Nobody want to go to the bother & expense of making his own connections with his Major Personality. He'd decide to sing about power. Watt didn't sing for his. No! Faraday did his in an attic, alone, on an empty stomach!

JANUARY 17

Finished reading "Magnificent Obsession" by L. Douglas at 2:30 a.m. A very well written book championing religion in living. - reiterated advice to approach life undecisively; anyone who wanted anything earnestly enough could open any kind of a door. Philosophy of life - To live by extending your "personality" then act to others unknown to any with no reward expected. Religion treated as "Major Personality" the main axis who supplies our personalities with added energy, as we ask for it and obey.

JANUARY 18

the rules for getting it --- Well - that's God, isn't it? (I say maybe!) Once in vital contact with "Major Personality" aware its power independent of material things - Personality is all that matters! Things have reality only after declared real by our personalities.

What you're doing to, for, & with your soul? misleading "my soul" not like I say "my hat" - I am a soul: I have a body which wears out; ends in junk-pile; but I don't have to be junked with it; fortified to Major Personality! - I'll not lose my power unless he loses this! - If that's religion, I'm religious.

(Marquise Henry)

She was like the air he breathed, necessary, but scarcely noticed. (O. Henry)

She, (referring to his wife) was obedient and convenient.

JANUARY 24

With the lovely weather continuing with a shade toward cooler days, Yuri and I took a fling with the tennis racket on the Hayward courts while Pa. looked over the nursery. Gee, he hasn't touched a smoke yet. What a man! I think even Ma. would be surprised. He really is looking much better. - his face looks more firm, - especially his cheeks seem in tone - loosing the sag and the wrinkles under the eye. He let me punch them today.

have known who seemed never to grow homesick for the old — He never left the prow of the boat where he loved to feel the spray of the future against his face —
Glenn Frank, of Zora Gale's father.

JANUARY 26

Ring Lardner's 1929 Christmas Card.

How utterly ridiculous you'd feel,
How damned unpleasant,
If you sent just a card to us
And we sent you a present.

In order that no such thing
Can happen to you, comma,
This card is all you'll get from Ring,
His kiddies or their mamma.

so to speak by staying in bed till the same hour, listening to a good rain pouring down - An enjoyable good rain. Tomorrow I shall reach that quarter mark and altho it probably run the same as many before, I am anticipating the day with an inner thrill of living, ^{with} a little taste of life upon my lip. At least, it must be life as it seems. Went to see "Mutiny on the Bounty" in late evening and as I'm finishing the day by writing this just before I turn in, a mouse ran up my leg as I sat by the fire.

JUNE 28

Handwritten notes for June 28, mostly blank lines.

JUNE 29

Took a day off and read "North to the Orient" - by Anne Morrow Lindbergh. A most delightful account of her flight to the Orient told in a truly manner revealing the simplicity of a charming woman, a daughter of a diplomat. After such an enjoyable after of a "chat" I had to pay for my leisure for evening I found the canary ("my" canary if I may call it so) dead in his cage outdoor. A murder indeed. "Who killed the canary?"

"Beggars at the Gate" - Kathleen Melley July 1934

Take my hands + comfort me
I am tired of wandering.
I am tired of all the things
I ever thought I wanted to do!
Take my hands and hold them still,
Lull me of the songs I'd sing,
I'm so tired of everything —
Do not let me go!

JULY 3

The straight line
and so the world's gone around again and suddenly like sunken pain
Another day has passed me by,
Another night is on the wane;
But what to me the turning sky!
And what care I — and what care I
How many suns are strung on high!
The songs I've sung are still a cry and wondering still is pain.

Suna Moeth

You want too much, you lovely thing,
Who wants too much will soon be dead;
You can not beat with a broken wing,
The walls where once your dreams have bled,
You can carry the load you bring,
You dream too much, you lovely thing—
And they are gone too soon, too soon,
Who beat their wings against the moon!

"Bride + Prejudice" play by Helen Jerome adopted from Jane Austen's novel.

An amusing comedy, indeed of the ambitious mother of three daughters of marriageable age. "She chuckles" - giggles effectedly, gasps "are descriptive words of this helpless but well-meaning mother.
The "Bride" of ^{the} titled and ^{the} rich causes prejudice on part of others - but alas, not the class but the individual.

Mad One, mad One whether are you ^{bound?} bound?
Oh, I'm just out a-walkin' around and around
Mad One, mad One, you come along with me
I'm not so mad as to want company

Mad One, mad One, you know it's not right
To be walking alone in the night —

I know if you want to see the moon ridin' high
You'd best be lookin' when the moon's in the sky

JULY 11

Reality —

If I should rouse from dreams of you
So sudden see your wanted face,
I would not cry that dreams come true,
I would but smile as people do,
And look upon your laughing grace —
and say, " 'Tis such a pretty face "

The Bitter Boast.

Oh, she had known what women knew,
And she had seen what women see;
But she was quieter than most,
And so tried to hear them boast
That they were wiser far than she,
Who only knew the things that show
And never knew the things that be.

JULY 13

Libation

Give give — Oh give!
Oh, lover, let me give!
And come what may,
We two can only live!
Till death and life are one —
And we are told like shadows on the sun.

Be calmed —

There is no flow to the string of pain —
A string must go to come back again

JULY 14

Z. E. D.

Because I love the back of you
And both of you love me —
We all must be unhappy
For one and two are three

Explanation

You say I do not love you
But I do:

You are three things I wholly do desire:
A mountain lake of calm — — —
A sudden crimson blaze of forest fire

JULY 15

A quiet rain upon a funeral pyre.

To say I do not love you

Is not true

I simply do not love the whole of you.

Fancy Free!

Why should I wear fancy dresses,

Fancy goes with make believe,

They desire who deceive;

Who desires grapes and guesses,

Who is hoping soon will grieve —

I've no use for silken sleeve.

Requiescat

When I am dead —

Oh, let there be

No half-remembered parts of me.

Placed round about for folks to see

When I am gone —

Oh, do not leave

My black and dead heart ^{on} your sleeve

To show a careless world your griefs,

I will not mind

If folks believe

JULY 17

That you have quite forgotten me,

But sometimes

When you are alone

And have a moment all your own —

Oh, then recall the songs we've known!

And laugh.

And let me be.

Lament -

Mourn! For a weary moment
Has lost a life-long goal.

Weep! For a weary body
Has killed a singing soul.

Pacifist

I smile and answer what they say
My mesh is very clever;
But am I to go on this way
Forever and forever?

JULY 19

Civilization

Pattern clutters our mind
Pattern laid out by dead things
Long ago.
Why do we follow
Why do we bow to the dead
Forever
Uncrying
Have we no designs of our own?

Lyrics of life - Douglas Malloch

"Sunset" S. F. Chronicle Sept. 27, '34

The sun slips down a saddening sky,

The waters darken, land grows lower,

And yet no mortal wonders why

The night succeeds some brighter hour

But when the day of life grows gray,

We watch some joy's departing ray,

Observe the sunset, and suppose

That what is gone forever goes.

JULY 21

No heart but knows its time of grief

Whatever bliss it may have known

And yet a promise and belief

By every setting sun are thrown Across the waters and the land.

How strange it is we understand

A sunset when night arrives,

Yet not the sunset of our lives.

We know, although the sun goes west,

Again it rises in the east,
Although our loved may go to rest,
We know the earth was quite the least
Of their existence, is of ours —
That we who mourn life's fleeting hours,
Who see some lonely sunset done,
Again and soon, shall see the sun

DECEMBER 1

Road on the track all day to-day from Santa Barbara. Stopped at Kaeck whom I was anxious to see, not having seen her for about 6 months. Slept home about mid-night, with my heart full of its thanks ~~blessings~~ and thankful - deeply - for its comforts and blessing. Never know the value of a thing until we miss it -

How true, - "no place like home".
Was I homesick? I wonder.

DECEMBER 2

Surprises on top of surprises. They got a set of books over at museum. Gee, I'm glad.

Xmas - a nice quiet one with the immediate family only. Tok & Min couldn't come because Min took sick. Greatly disappointed but I too had a bad cold and was wondering how I'd last with great for the week-end. It is the first Xmas in years that we've exchanged gifts and a truly happy - contented day for me.

Father healthy as could be expected and everyone happy - me with a lump in my throat when I got the gift from Tom + Rich - a 20 order at Pa's again - I do get the breaks and I don't know what to say or do. I do babble but that isn't expressive so try to convey my feelings by actions, my. But, they shouldn't have been so generous - go.

THE CAPITOL AT WASHINGTON

The Capitol is situated in latitude $38^{\circ} 53' 20'' .4$ north and longitude $77^{\circ} 00' 35'' .7$ west from Greenwich. It fronts east, and stands on a plateau eighty-eight feet above the level of the Potomac.

The entire length of the building from north to south is seven hundred and fifty-one feet, four inches, and its greatest dimension from east to west, three hundred and fifty feet. The area covered by the building is 153,112 square feet.

The dome of the original central building was constructed of wood, covered with copper. This was replaced in 1856 by the present structure of cast iron. It was completed in 1865. The entire weight of iron used is 8,909,200 pounds.

The dome is crowned by a bronze statue of Freedom, which is nineteen feet six inches high and weighs 14,985 pounds. It was modeled by Crawford. The height of the dome above the base line of the east front is two hundred and eighty-five feet, five inches. The height from the top of the balustrade of the building is two hundred and seventeen feet, eleven inches. The greatest diameter at the base is one hundred and thirty-five feet, five inches.

The rotunda is ninety-seven feet, six inches in diameter, and its height from the floor to the top of the canopy is one hundred and eighty feet, three inches.

The Senate Chamber is one hundred thirteen feet, three inches in length, by eighty feet, three inches in width, and thirty-six feet in height. The galleries will accommodate one hundred persons.

The Representatives' Hall is one hundred and thirty-nine feet in length, by ninety-three feet in width, and thirty-six feet in height.

The southeast corner-stone of the original building was laid September 18th, 1793, by President Washington with Masonic ceremonies. The corner-stone of the extensions was laid July 4th, 1851, by President Fillmore.

The room now occupied by the Supreme Court was, until 1859, occupied as the Senate Chamber. Previous to that time the court occupied the room immediately beneath, now used as a law library.

THE PRESIDENTIAL SUCCESSION

The Presidential succession is fixed by law. In case of the removal, death, resignation, or inability of both the President and the Vice-President, then the Secretary of State shall act as President until the disability of the President or Vice-President is removed or a President is elected. If there be no Secretary of State, then the Secretary of the Treasury will act; and the remainder of the order of succession is as follows: The Sec'y of War, Att'y-General, Postmaster-General, Sec'y of the Navy and Sec'y of the Interior. The acting President must, upon taking office, convene Congress.

BASEBALL

How to Figure Standing of Baseball Clubs; Also the Batting and Fielding Averages

Every person interested in baseball wants to keep posted on the standing of the clubs, and sometimes is eager to know what the percentage is without waiting for the newspapers to publish it.

Many baseball enthusiasts do not know how to compute the percentage. It is ascertained by dividing the games won by the total number of games played.

To Find the Batting Average

Divide the total number of base hits by the total number of times at bat. Example:—Player makes 171 hits and is 490 times at bat. 171 divided by 490 gives .349.

To Find the Fielding Average

Divide the total number of put-outs and assists, by the number of chances accepted, i. e. the total of put-outs, assists and errors. The result will be the fielding average. For example:—If player has 316 put-outs and 494 assists—total 810. Add to 810 the number of his errors, 61, and the total chances accepted are 871. Divide 810 by 871 and the result is .930, player's average.

RULES FOR SPELLING

Words ending in -e drop that letter before the termination able, as in move, movable, unless ending in -ce or -ge, when it is retained, as in change, changeable, etc.

Words of one syllable ending in a consonant, with a single vowel before it, double that consonant in derivatives, as ship, shipping, etc. But if ending in a consonant with a double vowel before it, they do not double the consonant in derivatives; as troop, trooper, etc.

Words of more than one syllable ending in a consonant preceded by a single vowel, and accented on the last syllable, double that consonant in derivatives; as commit, committed. Exception: chagrin, chagrined.

Words of one syllable ending in l with a single vowel before it, have double ll at the close; as mill, sell. Exceptions: nil, pal, sol.

Words of one syllable ending in l, with a double vowel before it, have only one l at the close as mail, sail.

The words foretell, distill, instill, and fulfill retain the double ll of their primitives. Derivatives of dull, skill, will and full also retain the double ll when the accent falls on these words; as dullness, skillful, willful, fullness.

Words of more than one syllable ending in l have only one l at the close; as delightful, faithful; unless the accent falls on the last syllable; as in befall, etc.

Words ending in l, double that letter in the termination -ly.

Participles ending in -ing, from verbs ending in -e, lose the final -e; as have, having; make, making, etc.; but verbs ending in -ee retain both; see, seeing. Dye, to color, and singe, to scorch, however must retain the e before -ing.

All adverbs ending in -ly and nouns ending in -ment retain the e final of the primitives, as brave, bravely; refine, refinement; except words ending in -ge; as judge, judgment.

Nouns ending in -y, preceded by a vowel form their plural by adding s; as money, moneys; but if y is preceded by a consonant, it is changed to -ies in the plural; as bounty, bounties.

Words whose primitives end in -y change the y into i as beauty, beautiful.

AEROPLANE NUMBERS AND THEIR SIGNIFICANCE

The numbers of an aeroplane appear on the under surface of the lower left wing and on top of the right wing as well as on both sides of the rudder. All aircraft must display identification mark when in flight.

Identification	Meaning	Example
Numbers only	Unlicensed or license pending	867
C before number	Licensed for commerce and passengers	C-814
S before number	Licensed but for Govt. use only	S-18
X before number	Experimental purposes	X-836
R before number	Licensed for special purposes	R-189
N before other letters or numbers	Licensed to fly internationally	NX-759

Letters following the numerals have no significance as to purpose of aircraft but are used only to shorten numbers.

Army planes bear the star and circle insignia on top of both upper and on bottom of both lower wings. The rudder has a vertical blue stripe at the rudder post and thirteen alternate red and white stripes running horizontally.

Navy planes bear the star and circle insignia on both upper wings. The navy plane rudder has three stripes: red, white and blue, running vertically with the red stripes always at the tail end of the rudder. The lettering U. S. Navy appears on the fuselage of navy planes.

Army and navy planes bear other numbers and symbols used for identification and designation purposes.

One cubic foot of bituminous coal weighs 47 to 50 pounds.

One ton of coal is equivalent to two cords of wood for steam purposes.

A gallon of water (U. S. standard) weighs $8\frac{1}{3}$ pounds and contains 231 cubic inches.

A cubic foot of water contains $7\frac{1}{2}$ gallons, 1728 cubic inches, and weighs $62\frac{1}{2}$ pounds.

Each nominal horsepower of a boiler requires 30 to 35 pounds of water per hour.

A horsepower is equivalent to raising 33,000 pounds one foot per minute, or 550 pounds one foot per second.

The average consumption of coal for steam boilers is 12 pounds per hour for each square foot of grate surface.

To find the pressure in pounds per square inch of water, multiply the height of column in feet by .434.

Steam rising from water at its boiling point (212 degrees) has a pressure equal to the atmosphere (14.7 pounds to the square inch).

To evaporate one cubic foot of water requires the consumption of $7\frac{1}{2}$ pounds of ordinary coal, or about 1 pound of coal to 1 gallon of water.

The Unit of electrical output is known as the Watt, and is equivalent to $\frac{1}{746}$ of a horse power. Therefore, one thousand Watts or one kilowatt, is equal to 1.34 horse power.

One-sixth of tensile strength of plate multiplied by thickness of plate and divided by one-half the diameter of boiler gives working pressure for tubular boilers. For marine boilers add 20% for drilled holes.

SOURCE OF THE WINDS

From the heat of the sun our winds are all derived. We live at the bottom of an aerial ocean, in a remarkable degree permeable to the solar rays and but little disturbed by their direct action. But those rays, when they fall upon the earth, heat its surface, and when they fall upon the ocean they provoke evaporation. The air in contact with this surface shares its heat, is expanded, and ascends into the upper regions of the atmosphere while the vapor from the ocean also ascends, because of its lightness, carrying air along with it. Where the rays fall vertically on the earth, between the tropics, the heating of the surface is greatest. Here aerial currents ascend to the higher regions of the atmosphere while to supply their place cold air flows from the poles to the equator.

HOW TO REMOVE STAINS

ALABASTER. Use strong soap and water.

BLACK SILK. Brush and wipe it thoroughly, lay on table with the side intended to show, up; sponge with hot coffee strained through muslin; when partly dry, iron.

TO REMOVE STAINS or GREASE FROM OIL PAINT. Use bisulphide of carbon, spirits of turpentine, or if it is dry and old, use chloroform. These and tar spots can be softened with olive oil and lard.

STAINS, IRON RUST, or INK FROM VELLUM or PARCHMENT. Moisten the spot with a solution of oxalic acid. Absorb same quickly by blotting paper or cloth.

RUST FROM STEEL. Take half ounce of emery powder mixed with one ounce of soap and rub well.

FRUIT SPOTS FROM COTTONS. Apply cold soap, then touch the spot with a hair pencil or feather dipped in chlorate of soda, dip immediately in cold water.

GREASE FROM SILKS. Take a lump of magnesia, rub it wet on the spot, let it dry, then brush the powder off.

IRON RUST may be removed from white goods by sour milk.

SCORCH STAINS FROM WHITE LINEN. Lay in bright sun.

MILDEW. Moisten the spot with clean water; rub on it a thick coating of castile soap mixed with chalk scrapings; rub with end of finger, then wash off.

OIL MARKS ON WALL PAPER. Apply paste of cold water and pipe clay, leave it on all night, brush off in the morning.

PAINT SPOT FROM CLOTHING. Saturate with equal parts turpentine and spirits of ammonia.

TO CLEANSE WALL PAPER. Rub a flannel cloth dipped in oatmeal.

BLACK CLOTH. Mix one part of spirits of ammonia with three parts warm water, rub with sponge or dark cloth, clean with water, rub with the nap.

FINGER MARKS FROM FURNITURE. Rub with a soft rag and sweet oil.

CHROMOS. Go over lightly with a damp linen cloth.

ZINC. Rub with a piece of cotton cloth dipped in kerosene, afterwards with a dry cloth.

VEGETABLE STAINS FROM HANDS. Rub with a slice of raw potato.

WINDOW GLASS. Paint can be removed by a strong solution of soda.

TO CLEAN TINWARE. Common soda applied with a moistened newspaper and polished with a dry piece, will make it look like new.

SWIFTNESS OF THE EARTH'S REVOLUTION

In order to accomplish, as it does in $365\frac{1}{4}$ days the immense distance round the sun, our sphere is obliged to travel a distance of 1,580,765.28 miles a day or 65,865.22 miles an hour or 18 miles a second. We sail, then, in immensity with a velocity seventy-five times swifter than that of a cannon ball.

AUTOMOBILE RECORD

Valuable in case of loss of car by fire or theft, also when registering, selling or exchanging car.
