

BAKKE SONG

Marching on the road to liberation
Holding high the banner of full equality
Against oppression and super-exploitation
Third World people struggle daily to be free.

Ten years ago, we waged a bitter struggle
We organized and took the streets to fight the state
Now they use the lie "reverse discrimination"
Trying to reverse the gains that we have made.

We have learned through fighting our oppression
The battle must be fought from day to day
For every gain is won and kept through constant struggle
What one hand gives the other tries to take away.

Bakke, the Regents and the courts
have all conspired to push a boulder in our way
But we'll move not just this boulder we'll move mountains
Till we finally reach our liberation day.

BAKKE SONG

Marching on the road to liberation
Holding high the banner of full equality
Against oppression and superexploitation
Third World people struggle daily to be free.

Ten years ago, we fought a bitter struggle
We organized and took the streets to fight the state
Now they use the lie "reverse discrimination"
Trying to reverse the gains that we have made.

We have learned through fighting our oppression
The battle must be fought from day to day
For every gain is won and kept through constant struggle
What one hand gives the other tries to take away

Bakke, the Regents and the courts
have all conspired to push a boulder in our way
But we'll move not just this boulder we'll move mountains
Till we finally reach our liberation day.