My dear Rev. Sai:

June 11, 1943

Please excuse my office stationery, because I am writing this at the office.

First let me thank you for your beautiful letter and let me thank you <sup>for</sup> the sentiments expressed in your letter.

I do know and understand just how you feel and your desire and your hope and aim in regard to our Church and those who are connected with the Church. I feel, deep in my heart, nothing but a gratitude and a profound respect and admiration for you.

There was absolutely no need for you to write to me, because you and I understand each other so well. My respect and admiration for you shall never change, no matter what happens and while I appreciate your letter, and I always enjoy receiving letters from you, I do not need any letter from you expressing your thanks.

In the first place we do owe much more. I only regret that the amount was so small.

However, I do like to ask you a favor and I hope you will grant me this.

It would make me much happier if you will write another letter addressed to Mr. & Mrs. Matsumoto.

Please do this for me because I feel that he should <sup>be</sup> first <sup>to</sup> receive it and then pass it around for all of us to read.

I am sure he will feel much happy
if it were so.

I wish to thank you and Mrs. Sai for the coffee, but we feel guilty of robbing you of the pleasure.

May the Grace of God be upon you and Mrs. Sai this day and ever.

Sincerely yours.

Harry K. Shigeta
