Dear Mom and Pop,

I didn't get a letter from you today so I guess I'll get one or two tomorrow.

We went out into the woods today for a compass problem. They gave us a certain azimuth or degree to follow on the compass to a certain point a foot a mile away. Well, we (ten of us) started out through the woods but we all got lost. Matter of fact all the squads were lost. We couldn't find the place so we followed a dirt road out and walked back to the company area by ourselves.

We're not going out tonight. I think I'll get in to bed and read a while. There wasn't too much to write today. I'll write to you again tomorrow.
