Dear Mom and Pop,

I just loafed all day today. We're going out tonight to town.

I don't go to breakfast so this morning I ate the "Eradin" you sent me and had a bottle of coke. I traded all my beer ration for cokes. It seems the Latvijins drink more beer than cokes.

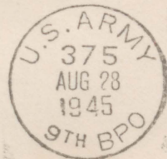

Well, how's every thing at home? How is Poni and the family getting along in the new home? I guess Fuji is going to school. Well, you can tell her I'm going to school too.

I don't have very much to write about so this is all for today.

Write tomorrow

PS
Don't send me airmail stamps for awhile because I have more than enough. I'll let you know when —
