Dear Mom and Pop,

I came home from Milan this morning. Ryo and I went to hear the Toscanini concert. It was pretty good. I had a letter written and had it on my desk but I forgot to mail it. It was still there when I came back. When I came back I found four letters and a package waiting for me. The package had a carton of cigarettes, lots of magazines, and two cans of pineapple. Thanks very much. It's sure nice to receive things from home. Oh, yes I also received a pair of socks too.

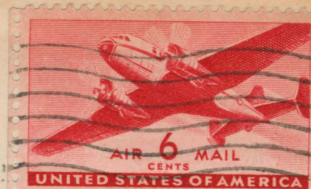

I bought some Chanel No. 5 for you. It's imported from Paris. It's only a small bottle but it costs too much to buy a big one. I hope you like it. I have some stamps for To-chen too. I'll send it with some other stuff as soon as I get a box for it.

Well, I'm glad to hear that you're all settled in the new place. It's nice to have a place of your own no matter how small the place is. The idea behind it is the same large or small.

I took some snapshots with Terry's camera up there so when it's ready I'll send them to you.

Well, this is about all for today so I'll write more tomorrow,
