Dear Mom and Pop,

Before anything else, will you please send me two or three towels? There was some mix up at the laundry and only my towels didn't come back. At the present I have a towel but I don't think one is enough. Of all things, the PX doesn't have any at present.

Well, I received your box of Lard cookies. Boy, you sure sent a big box. Thanks very much. I won't need candy now for a foot two years. I also received the stationary and the mending tape.

We just loafed around all day today. We slept till around 11:30 AM this morning and barely got up for lunch. After lunch we went to the movies to see "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo," with Spencer

Tracy. It was a very nice picture.

We had dinner at the service club and then we went to the library. For tea we decided to go to the show again. Shiro, John and I went. We saw "The Sign of the Cross." It's an old Cecil B. DeMille picture revises. The star was Elissa Landi and Fredrick March.

I want to read a bit now so I'll write to you again tomorrow
