

Jap Centers Feed Selves

WASHINGTON, March 28.—

Japanese-American farmers living in the ten War Relocation Authority centers have converted 10,000 acres of idle land into gardens which are producing virtually all of the vegetables needed by the 90,000 residents of those centers, Dillon S. Myer, W. R. A. director, reported today.