ASSYRIAN BEAUTY STEELE IS TAKEN TO MONTESANO IS SHOT

Juletta Corey Fired on From Upper Story Window as She Was Walking Along Streets of Portland With Aunt.

Bullet May Have Come From Gun of Jealous Suitor—Friends Carefully Guard Paralyzed Young Woman.

JULETTA COREY. The Times Special Service.

PORTLAND, Thursday, Nov. 14.—Guarded night and day by a score of loving friends and relatives who fear that in some way her life will be taken if they relax their vigilance, Juletta Corey, the most beautiful Assyrian girl in Portland, lies at her home, 1085 Hoyt Street, paralyzed from the effects of a bullet fired from an unseen hand as she walked along the street in company with her aunt last evening.

No one knows who fired the bullet, which plowed its way from the waist line of the right hip down through the fleshy part of the thigh. Since the mysterious shot which nearly deprived the pretty girl of her life was fired, she has been hopelessly paralyzed. The lead ball severed two nerve cords and has taken from her completely the use of nearly every muscle in her body.

Thought She Was Frightened. The young woman was with her aunt, Mrs. Apach, when the shot was fired. They were walking on the west side of Everett Street and had just reached the two-story building near the center of the block when they heard the report of a revolver. Juletta cried out, staggered forward saying she was shot, then sank to the sidewalk suffering intense pain.

The elder woman thought the girl was merely frightened and urged her to get up. Juletta, however, told her she could not move. Then the aunt carried the girl to a drug store and from there she was taken to her home.

Juletta is a favorite among her people. She has been much courted by the young men of the Assyrian community, and they fear that an assassin has been looking for a victim in the young woman.

Juletta's relatives are not satisfied, however. They fear there is cause for further action and have called on Seattle and have called in friends from Seattle to help them hunt down the person who fired the shot.

JAPANESE IMMIGRANTS SUPPLIED WITH MAPS

Former Secretary of Consulate at Vancouver, B. C., Declares His Countrymen Bound for Washington.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Thursday, Nov. 14.—One Japanese calling another a liar in a quarrel over Japanese immigration matters was the spectacle presented yesterday at the consular office of McKenzie King's Oriental investigation, Mr. Noshi, former secretary of the Japanese consulate at Vancouver, declared that the Japanese government is assisting immigration which had been made by K. Ishiwaga, president of the Japanese House of Representatives Union. Ishiwaga retracted though warned by Commissioner King of the consequences of perjury.

Noshi told the court that he had seen Japanese with specially prepared maps in their possession, showing easy places for crossing the international boundary line and how to reach them in going to the United States. The object of the immigration, he declared, was that the Japanese might get into Washington State.

Man Alleged to Have Confessed to Frank Todd's Widow That He Killed Him Is Removed From Hoquiam.

Demonstration of Loggers Is Feared by Law Officers—Woman Suffered Fearful Strain During Ordeal.

The Times Special Service. HOQUIAM, Thursday, Nov. 14.—Herbert Norman, alias Ralph W. Steele, charged with the murder of Frank Todd, has been taken to the county jail at Montesano, where he will remain until his case comes before the superior court. It was decided not to give him any preliminary examination, but to file information against him direct in the higher court.

The prisoner's removal was carried out with the utmost secrecy, the authorities fearing there might be some demonstration on the part of loggers, who are now coming to town in large numbers on account of the rain causing suspension of operations in the woods. The report of Steele's alleged confession to Mrs. Todd has aroused public indignation, as Todd was a general favorite. To prevent any violence being done Steele is being guarded best to hurry him away to Montesano.

The trying part which was played by Mrs. Todd in order to obtain a confession from the suspected murderer is now becoming more evident and, after his statement, she was anxious to be relieved of the burden of endeavoring to obtain further evidence.

That Steele was madly in love with the woman is proved by the ardent declaration of affection and his anxiety to meet her. Time and time again it is said that Steele threatened to take his life when she failed to keep her appointments or refused to carry out some of his plans.

Throughout all this time she played with his affections and he was obedient to her slightest whim, but she never once betrayed herself, although at each interview with Steele, she returned home on the verge of prostration, so that she was unable to work.

Steele has displayed remarkable nerve and his determination to fight the case to the bitter end is demonstrated by his declaration to the local newspaper men: "They can't convict me—all to do is to wait."

Able Brothers, attorneys, will probably look after the case for the accused.

CRUEL POLICE SPOIL DAN CUPID'S PLANS

Oregon Couple Crosses Columbia to Wed in Vancouver and Is Stalled by Law Officers.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Thursday, Nov. 14.—Ass. Johnson and Miss Ethel Brush came from Oregon yesterday and applied at the county auditor's office for a marriage license. The girl said she was twenty years old, and the mother of the would-be groom was on hand to give her consent to his marriage. Officers of Oregon, however, were ahead of the couple in the city and the county auditor not to grant the license until the couple were eloping, the girl being only sixteen.

The mother of Johnson proposed that the auditor date the license back and that the girl would escape trouble. She said the girl was running the streets and hence would be better off married, she said. Johnson, however, while he held their presence telephoned to the local police and they were arrested.

TACOMA, Thursday, Nov. 14.—A. M. Ingersoll, retired president of the Tacoma Warehouse & Sperry Mills, and intently friend and adviser of Albert J. Earling, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad, has returned from an extended trip abroad, having spent considerable time in New York, Chicago and St. Paul on his way home.

After talking with the president of the Milwaukee at St. Paul, Mr. Ingersoll is positive that the officers of the road are financial stringencies, and that it will not affect the early completion of the extensions of the line across the continent to terminals at Seattle and Tacoma. Mr. Ingersoll is of the opinion that President Earling may pay this section an early visit, and that his trips to Puget Sound cities will soon be separated only by frequent intervals.

Youthful Thieves Taken.

TACOMA, Thursday, Nov. 14.—City Detectives Fitzgerald, Brown and Ehlson swooped down last night upon a party of boys gathered around a big bonfire in the heart of the city, where the federal authorities are clearing the site for the postoffice and arrested the youthful thieves, and arrested the Montana Kid, Pat Berry and Art Patterson. With the capture of the youthful thieves, the police believe they have rounded up the ringleaders of a band of burglars responsible for more than a score of robberies of rooming houses, hotels and mercantile establishments, which have perplexed the detectives of the department for months and which have been so skillfully executed as to leave almost no clue as to the identity of the guilty ones.

could not be levied because the town was not incorporated on March 1, when the assessment was levied. This is, however, contingent on whether or not the city authorities made such a levy before the rolls were turned over to the treasurer. If they acted upon the commissioners' advice and did not make a levy, it would now be too late otherwise the municipal taxes are held to be legal.
