

LEAP ON CAMPUS KILLS EX-STUDENT

Arrangements to send the body of Max Garth Miller, 39-year-old former University of Washington graduate student, who leaped four stories to his death from the roof of the Social Science Hall on the campus yesterday afternoon, to his parents' home in Clarion, Iowa, were being made today by the Bonney-Watson funeral home.

Miller's death was listed by the coroner as a suicide. He died at Harborview County Hospital at 5:10 o'clock yesterday, about three hours after the fatal plunge.

University authorities said the former student, who lived at 4633 21st Ave. N. E., was discovered sitting on the roof of the building, his legs dangling over the edge, shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday by three faculty members.

Knowing it was a trap to wait, Miller smiled, waved and said, "So long," then pushed himself off.

The three faculty members, Assistant Prof. William H. Pierson and J. C. Sherman and T. K. Kelly, instructors in geography, had followed Miller to the roof after he had gone into the geography department and asked the secretary, Mrs. Marjorie Harris, to write a letter for him to his parents, telling them not to come to Seattle.

Miller then thrust a handkerchief, filled with personal belongings, into Mrs. Harris' hands and asked her to send them to Dr. Robert W. Brown at the Western State Hospital, St. Paul, Minn. Dr. Brown's wife is Miller's sister.

Miller had told acquaintances on the campus that he felt despondent and the world was against him. He was employed as a waiter at the Coon Chicken Inn, 800 Bothell Way. He last was enrolled at the University during the fall quarter of 1941.

Writer, Cited In Contempt, Defies Solons

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—The House veterans committee today cited for contempt a newspaper man who refuses to divulge the source of information on which he based a series of articles criticizing the Veterans Administration.

Albert Deutsch, 39 years old, of the newspaper PM, based his refusal on "professional ethics."

The committee voted, 13 to 5, in executive session to take the contempt action, but Chairman Rankin, Democrat, Mississippi, refused to say how individual members voted.

"I consider myself bound by my own personal integrity and professional ethics not to reveal" the names of Veterans Administration officers who gave him the information, Deutsch replied when Rankin insisted he reveal the names.

Deutsch emphasized that the articles were based on information obtained from many people outside the Veterans Administration, as well as those in it.

Told by Rankin that the oath he took as a witness was "superior to any journalistic ethics," Deutsch said: "I stand on the freedom of the press."

The House Parliamentarian's office said the committee's citation must be approved by the House itself if the case is to be submitted to the Justice Department for prosecution.

GERMAN MEDICS MAY BE INDICTED

LONDON, May 18.—(UP)—The United Nations War Crimes Commission was today to be considering the indictment of leading German physicians and scientists for the deaths of thousands of persons in Nazi "human guinea pig" experiments.

Victims of ruthless human vivisection and experimental injections were slave workers and political prisoners seized in territories occupied by Germany, investigators for the commission said.

Two groups of investigators, one Czechoslovak and one Polish, were slated to leave London for the Continent today at the invitation of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to investigate charges against the medical profession of Germany.

Kaiser, Jr., Listed In Black-Market Case

DENVER, May 18.—Hendy J. Kaiser, Jr., identified by the Office of Price Administration as the son of the West Coast industrialist, has been listed as a customer of a black-market dealer.

The O. P. A. said Kaiser bought 144 pounds of beef without ration points from David B. Sailer and Velma G. Sailer, owners of frozen-food lockers, who were accused of black-market operations.

No charges were filed against Kaiser, who, the O. P. A. said, promised to leave the meat in his locker until the case is settled and then surrender ration points for it or give it up entirely.

Injuries Fatal to Brakeman

Charles Junkins, about 60 years old, of Pacific City, a brakeman for the Northern Pacific Railroad, died this forenoon in Auburn Suburban Hospital of injuries received while getting off a moving freight train yesterday, the coroner's office reported.

His glove was caught in a flagstaff and he was dragged along the roadbed, coroner's deputies said.

The British royal family has planted oaks in Windsor Great Park as a memorial of the great work for the Red Cross achieved by British agriculture.

N. W. AIR MAY USE BOEINGS

Strong possibility that Northwest Airlines will use the Boeing Stratocruiser, commercial version of the record-breaking C-97, for transcontinental and transpacific operation from Seattle, was disclosed today by Croil Hunter, airlines president.

The C-97, modeled after the B-29 Superfortress, recently crossed the nation in six hours, three minutes and 50 seconds.

Hunter said plans under consideration call for 16 flights daily in and out of Seattle to New York from the Seattle-Tacoma Airport at Bow Lake, where the company plans to spend more than $1,000,000 for flight facilities.

C-97 'Attractive'

Hunter said the company has been studying the C-97 and has found that "the operating cost of this plane makes it appear to be a very attractive ship with which the company could operate at a good profit."

Boeing officials say the ship has the lowest operating and maintenance cost of any of its type.

Hunter's announcement followed yesterday's first transcontinental flight of Northwest Airlines over its new Seattle-New York route, which will be put into commercial operation next month. Sixteen New York and Detroit newspaper men made the trip.

Hunter last night had predicted at a dinner, held at the Washington Athletic Club by the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, that Seattle is destined to become the West Coast hub of a vast air route between United States and Alaska and the Orient.

Application already has been made for the routes, which would make Seattle a twin gateway to Alaska. The other would be St. Paul-Minneapolis which would be the terminal for an "inside" route through Canada to Alaska, for military service.

The Boeing Stratocruiser accommodates from 75 to 100 passengers. "Our thinking is that that the next planes will be four-engine ships, of the super-passenger type," Hunter said. "The Boeing craft appears to be an excellent type for lines we hope to put into operation between Seattle, Tacoma and Portland to Honolulu and through the Seattle gateway to Alaska and the Orient."

Line to Boost Pacific Northwest

Hunter said the line has drafted extensive plans for promotion of Seattle and the Pacific Northwest, not only as a great traffic center but also as a trade territory and one of the nation's greatest vacation and recreational lands.

"This plan," he said, "will be put into operation as soon as Office of Defense Transportation and wartime restrictions permit."

Although Hunter was doubtful as to when Boeing ships might be ready for delivery, Fred B. Collins, Boeing sales manager, said the "future looks bright."

FORD PETITIONS TO HALT HOUSING

DETROIT, May 18.—(AP)—Seeking a Federal Court injunction to prevent the Federal Public Housing Authority from proceeding with a temporary 1,410-unit war housing unit, the Ford Motor Company today charged the F. P. H. A. with "wilfully shutting its eyes" to changed employment and housing conditions in the Detroit area.

The Ford petition, filed by Harry H. Bennett of the Ford Company, added that the F. P. H. A. was seeking "a means of prolonging the life of this agency" and had "hurried up" the protested project in order to get work started before June 30, when its appropriations expire.

Bennett, in the petition, contended that more war workers are leaving Detroit than are coming here, and that no lack of housing for war workers exists or is likely to exist.

George Schermer, F. P. H. A. area representative, said the project was designed to meet "a great backlog of need for dwellings for war workers and their families, and particularly Negroes who moved into the Detroit area to take war jobs."

WOMAN DRIVES OFF ATTACKER

Screaming and struggling, Mrs. Dohna Weissinger, 1415 Belmont Ave., fought off an attacker shortly before midnight last night after he knocked her to the pavement with a blow in the face.

Mrs. Weissinger told police she was walking in Boylston Avenue between University and University Streets when a man stepped from between two buildings and knocked her down.

She said the man stood over her and reached for her throat, but she scratched his face and kicked at him, and he fled.

Mayor Assails Vandalism At Japanese Home

All facilities of the Police Department should be used in tracking down the vandals who recently painted threatening signs at a house at 1810 Walker St., prior to its occupancy by a returning Japanese family, Mayor William F. Devin notified Police Chief Herbert D. Kimsey today.

A strongly worded letter from the mayor pointed out that "this matter of intimidation through threats, violence and vandalism must not be permitted in our city."

The mayor told the chief to "use the facilities at your command to vigorously pursue this type of law violation, wherever it is found, and bring the guilty parties before the court."

Chief Kimsey said his department has been working diligently on the Walker Street depredations, and will take steps to cope with any other vandalism.

Mrs. Helen C. Twitchell, 1710 37th Ave., whose son was killed in the war, has written to the mayor protesting strongly against such vandalism, the mayor said.

Twitchell, referring to the Walker Street Japanese family, said: "I do not know these people, but the fact that our military authorities allowed them to return means that the F. B. I. has passed them, that they are considered safe."

"... Of what avail is the death of my son and countless other mothers' sons, in an effort to end Hitlerism and totalitarianism, if we allow the ugly beast to spring up in our midst. We cannot be true to our boys and keep quiet, when the democratic rights of our citizens are violated."

Chaplain Chief in Europe

REIMS, France, May 18.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. William R. Arnold, assistant inspector general and former chief of Army chaplains, began a tour of inspection of chaplains' activities in the European and Mediterranean theatres of operations today by visiting Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower at the supreme Allied commander's headquarters.

Bombs Miss; Squib Fatal

COVENTRY, May 18.—Edward Thomas Brooks, 51 years old, chief air-raid defense messenger, who survived the terrific German bombing of Coventry, died from the effects of a wound received when a squib (firecracker) exploded near him during a V-E Day celebration, a coroner's jury decided today.

G. E. Engineers to Speak

H. L. Palmer of Schenectady, N. Y., on the staff of General Electric's industrial division, arrived in Seattle today to address a meeting of the Institute of Radio Engineers at 8 o'clock tonight at Bagley Hall, University of Washington. Palmer is a 1925 graduate of Washington State College.

Plane Engineer Loses $2,000 To Auto Thieves

Elbert W. Tingle, a chief engineer in the Army Service Forces, reported to police today that personal effects valued at $2,000 were stolen from his car parked at his home last night.

Tingle, a veteran of actions at Leyte Gulf, New Guinea and the Dutch East Indies, explained that he had driven here from Green Bay, Wis., and had brought many of his effects with him in the car, expecting to be discharged from the service soon.

He parked the car in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Shaver, 908 20th Ave. S., where he stayed overnight.

Tingle especially regretted the loss of several souvenirs he had brought back from his Pacific travels, including two Jap officers' swords.

9 DOGS DIE FOR KILLING WOMAN

MIAMI, Fla., May 18.—(AP)—An entire pack of more than 25 Pit Bull Terriers was ordered destroyed today, because nine of them fatally attacked attractive Mrs. Doretta Zinke, explorer and lecturer.

The nine dogs in the assault were shot to death at the Greater Miami Hurricane Sance kennel, this morning and officers who carried out the execution left for the home of Joe Munn, 43, owner of the dogs, to kill the others.

Thus authorities fulfilled the impounded Munn's request.

"They are a bad strain. They must be destroyed."

The investigators said the episode was without parallel, so far as they knew.

Prosecutor Robert Taylor said he would prosecute the case "to the full extent of the law" but a knowledgeable final disposition of the manslaughter charge against Munn was in doubt.

Constable W. M. Hudson quoted Munn, a driver for a Miami laundry, as saying he had known Mrs. Zinke slightly for a year and a half, and acquaintance consisting largely of listening to her stories of travels in the Flits, Alaska, Australia and New Guinea.

Juvenile Court Is Restrained In Churchill Case

A writ of prohibition, ordering the Juvenile Court and Police Chief Herbert D. Kimsey to refrain from further proceedings in the case of Edward John Churchill, 4 years old, who was taken from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Churchill, 4933 52nd Ave. S., was served today on Superior Court Judge Chester A. Batchelor, acting Juvenile Court judge.

The State Supreme Court issued the writ yesterday upon petition by Will Lanning, attorney for the Churchills. Through it the Juvenile Court is prohibited from holding a hearing on the adopted boy's case until further order of the Supreme Court.

The Juvenile Court took custody of Edward April 28 when the Police Department received a report he had been beaten by his foster parents. The Churchills, in an affidavit supporting the writ, contend they always treated the child well.

The Churchills have a suit pending in Superior Court against Kimsey in which they ask $25,000 for being deprived of their child and for humiliation due to publicity of asserted unjust accusations about their treatment of the boy.

No Peacetime Use For Hanford Project

WENATCHEE, May 18.—(AP)—Complimenting residents upon keeping speculations on the plant's production at a minimum, Col. F. T. Matthias, Army engineer in charge of the huge Hanford War Production project, declared last night the project has no basic peacetime purpose and probably never will be operated except by the government.

He spoke at a Chamber of Commerce gathering and said he did so to "combat widespread rumors that it will be used for peacetime production of new products."
