

Natural Methods May Be New to You but It Is Not New to the Scientists of the Old World.

I Will Tell You More About Your Trouble Than Anybody Ever Told You and I Will Relieve You if You Permit Me.

Do you want to remain an invalid? Are you satisfied to go on through life suffering the tortures of a broken-down nervous system, half starving yourself because your stomach is diseased, sacrificing the pleasures and enjoyment of life because of some affliction? If you are not, I would advise you to get cured, because a cure is at your disposal any time you care to avail yourself of it.

There was a time when many afflictions seemed practically incurable, but that time has passed, and there is just as much sense in saying that you cannot use the telephone to talk to a friend in another part of the city as there is in saying that you cannot be relieved of your present disease. The telephone is at your disposal when you want to use it, and so is the science of Natural Methods, and one is just as conducive to results in its particular field of usefulness as the other.

I want to tell you that the science of Natural Methods, as practiced by me will absolutely and unqualifiedly cure you of any trouble from which you are suffering, if, after examination, I tell you that you are curable. I know that there are many people in Seattle who are reading these advertisements, but who are skeptical and will not call for an examination just because they do not know what system I use, and not knowing, doubt my ability. Thirty years ago our parents doubted the utility of the telephone. There are people today who doubt the feasibility of wireless telegraphy, but science has proven them perfectly practical, and ten years from now wireless telegraphy will probably be as common as the telephone today. Science can do just as much in the treatment of the human body as it can in any other field, and I have demonstrated that the science of Natural Methods is a positive cure for practically every phase of nervous troubles, stomach and kidney diseases, as well as liver complaint. I might make the sweeping assertion that if you add improper heart action to the afflictions of the stomach, kidney and liver, you have the cause of every disease that the human body is addicted to, and if you remove the cause of these ailments, you will remove every subsidiary ailment, such as indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, lame back, cold and clammy extremities, as well as others too numerous to mention. These things Natural Methods absolutely cure. Are you willing to use your own judgment to a sufficient extent to allow you to call at my office and undergo an examination? It will not cost you a cent of money or put you under any obligation to me, and it will save you many an ache and pain, as well as hours of anxiety.

I have been in Seattle for a considerable time, and I expect to be here for many years to come. I own real estate here, and have made every arrangement to make this city my future home. This being a fact, I cannot afford to deceive you for one moment, as my future practice will be built up entirely from the results of the cures I effect and the suffering women I make healthy.

Ladies, I have made a specialty of your troubles, and I have never yet failed to give relief in one single case that I have accepted and where I told them that a cure could be expected. I want you to call at my office tomorrow and talk with me. I am particularly anxious to meet you, because I feel that you need the services of a specialist that thoroughly understands your case and who can effect a cure that will be permanent and speedy. My telephone number is Independent A 5201, and if you will call me up I will make arrangements so that you will lose no time in waiting for me, and will not be detained more than ten or fifteen minutes. Come prepared to put yourself under my treatment, if you think I understand your case after I have explained it to you.

SIGNALS FOR FIREMEN.

Officers of South Park Volunteer Department Issue Instructions.

Chief F. M. Sharpe, Captain R. J. Spencer and Secretary George C. Griffith, of the South Park volunteer fire department, have issued circulars for the benefit of the members of the department and other citizens of the suburb giving information as to fire alarm signals. The alarm of fire is sounded by a toll from the fire bell of thirty seconds' duration. This is followed by a pause of five seconds, and then by the various taps that designate the location of the fire. The places where the firemen are to go when alarms are sounded are the following: Bell tower; Cloverdale Avenue and Eighth Avenue South; Joann's market, on Ninth Avenue South; Dudley's store, on Eighth Avenue South; corner Fourteenth Avenue and Cloverdale; Portland & Puget Sound Railway Addition; and Abrams' Addition. A meeting of the department will be called by three taps on the bell, repeated three times.

Endeavorer Society Has A Plethoric Treasury

Miss Viva K. Gilmore, treasurer, and John S. McRobbie, vice-president, of St. Andrew's branch Christian Endeavor of First Presbyterian Church.

quainted with conditions in the farming communities to the south through his friend, Robert Bridges, former land commissioner of this state, who owns a ranch at Orilla, and who, Conway says, has been observing the actions of the Nipponese carefully.

Water Supply in Danger. "Every one of those Japanese farmers, seemingly so quiet, carries a rifle," said Conway this morning. "They are shooting everything in sight. They are even killing off all the meadowlarks, which are such sweet singers. Perhaps they want them for food. Perhaps they simply want to get some rifle practice to be prepared in case war breaks out between this country and Japan. Just think for a moment how a few hundred of those Japs, thoroughly organized, could play havoc with a great city like Seattle in an event which they are so situated down there that they can cut off our supply of water and light from Cedar Lake without the least trouble, and corral thousands of cattle and pigs with which to feed a hostile army. I believe it is a situation well worthy of serious investigation."

Farmers Are Peaceful. When asked about the matter this morning, T. Tanaka, Japanese consul in this city, said: "I think the facts as reported are much exaggerated. I am positive that the Japanese gardeners in the White River Valley have no warlike intentions. Neither has Japan for that matter. There are not more than six or sixty Japanese in the valley. "If the Japanese and American ranches down there understood each other's language I believe all suspicion would quickly be dispelled. Possibly the Japanese are holding meetings, but with no other purpose, I am sure, than for sociability or to discuss crop conditions. They are not more than that, but perfectly legitimate reasons. I go hunting once in a while myself. The Japanese are not more than that, but perfectly legitimate reasons, like farming people the world over."

CALLBREATH TO MEET MINING MEN TONIGHT

Secretary of American Mining Congress in Seattle to Arrange for Big Assemblage March 23 and 24.

J. F. Callbreath, secretary of the American Mining Congress, with headquarters in Denver, Colo., is in Seattle, having arrived here last night for the purpose of organizing a big meeting of mining men to be held in this city on March 23 and 24. At a meeting to be held tonight in the rooms of the Alaska Club he will meet a number of mining men and steps will be taken to start a campaign to obtain the 1909 convention of the American Mining Congress for Seattle.

In speaking of the meeting to be held in March Callbreath said this morning that it would be for the purpose of getting views of a majority of mining men as to the proposed changes in the mining laws of Alaska to be asked of the coming session of Congress. He said that Secretary Callbreath is planning to make such legislation an administration measure. The question of smelter rates will also be discussed at tonight's meeting. The Montana mining men have already organized an independent smelter association and it is probable that similar action will be taken in this district.

Something Is Left Out. In speaking of the meeting of the board of public works yesterday that an important provision had been left out of the new building ordinance, on which several years were spent in its formulation, the omission is in that part of the ordinance treating of walls and ceilings no provision being made for metal ceilings. At a report from the building inspector was sustained, and an amendment will be prepared to cover this point.

of the taxpayers of the city have been able to see, the executive head of the city government has been at odds with the city council and other officials of the city, so the bulk of the general improvement ordinances had to be put through without the cooperation of the executive. Taking this into consideration, officials believe that the record for the two years has been a splendid one. In 1907 the appropriations authorized by the council amounted to $2,500,000. It is considered a significant fact by members of the council that whereas the legislative body has gone out of its way to obtain the funds to meet the demands of the people, many of the ordinances calling for necessary improvements have been vetoed by the executive, necessitating their re passage. The appropriations are roughly divided into the following items:

- Fire apparatus, $54,742.50.
- Fire boat, $50,000.
- Engine houses and sites, $101,842.
- Underground wiring, $14,000.
- Stables and lots, $132,393.
- Garbage destructor, $52,657.
- Public comfort stations, $12,000.
- Improvements opposite public property, $10,000.
- Contributions in public improvements, $52,000.
- City contributions to public improvements, $55,000.
- City portion sewers, $22,400.
- Electric street cars, $1,415,000.
- Condensers, including street widening, $72,971.
- Electric fund rebates on local improvements, $5,213.
- Two electric sprinklers, $12,783.

Extraordinary expenses, including personal injuries damages to property, codification of ordinances, cost of annotations and payment of debts of new territory, asphalt plant, health department plague work, auditing city books, $349,000.

ALASKA FISHER TO FACE TRIAL

Standing by his contention that neither an act of Congress nor the statute of Alaska compel payment of the same duty on dog salmon packed aboard ship in bulk as is required for the higher grade of fish, Joseph Kildall, president of the West Coast Commercial Company and director in the company, will on January 23 at Juneau face a criminal charge in the United States district court at that place. It is alleged that Kildall has violated a statute by aiding in sending the ship Agenor out of Saginaw Bay, in the fall of 1905, and he has been indicted, with his brother, H. C. Killman, M. B. Johnson and the West Coast Commercial Company.

The ship Agenor's hold was filled with 500,000 dog salmon and 1,250 better fish packed in bulk and discharged. The rate is 10 cents per barrel. This was paid on all except the dog salmon before the Agenor sailed. When she arrived at Yokohama the vessel was libeled and sold by the consignees of the cargo of fish. A few weeks after that the ship was scuttled and sank.

Suit was brought in this state against the Agenor and the consignees, owner of the cargo, for $108,800, which action has not been settled. Last year United States District Attorney John J. Boyce began suit against the West Coast Commercial Company and its individual members to collect the unpaid taxes, said to amount to $250,000. Both criminal and civil actions were brought. The men and corporation were charged with dodging a tax on salmon and with fishing in Alaskan waters without a government license. Joseph Kildall was arrested at Minneapolis and discharged there after a hearing before a United States commissioner M. B. Johnson, manager, was later arrested and discharged. E. F. Kildall was apprehended in Portland and the United States commissioner there remanded him to Juneau for trial. The department of justice and the President have been appealed to in an effort to show that the government's action is wrong, but Washington has declined to interfere.

W. H. Morris, of the firm Morris, Southard & Shipley, of this city, left last night on the steamship Jefferson for Juneau to defend S. F. Kildall. The attorney was accompanied by his wife. Freight Men Elect Officers. The Seattle Freight Agents' Association met yesterday afternoon and elected officers for the coming year. It was also decided to have the annual banquet of the association on the evening of January 29, after which the association will attend the Burns concert to be held at the Moore Theatre. The new officers are: J. W. Allen, president; E. T. Pope,

PROFESSORS IN DEMAND.

Western Instructors Have Received Requests for Services.

Honors are pouring thick and heavy upon the faculty of the University of Washington. Summer schools throughout the country from Harvard down are seeking the services of the Washington professors for the coming summer months. The University of Washington is not called upon by Eastern universities to assist them in educational work. This condition is accepted by the university authorities as a gratifying commentary on the ability and class of the instructional force at the University of Washington.

The most signal honor up to date is the offer made Dr. E. O. Sisson, of the department of English, to teach in the Harvard summer school. Dr. Sisson is widely known in the East for his proficiency in things pedagogic. He will accept the honor from the Cambridge institution. Dr. Allen R. Benham, of the English department, is sought by the group of spelling reformers, who want to change English orthography, and will meet with committees in New York during the summer months to effect changes which the reformers hope to have adopted.

Dr. W. Meisner, head of the German department, has been appointed president of the language section of the Educational Association. Dr. J. Allen Smith, of political economy fame, and Prof. H. D. Kincaid, a socialist, are others sought for conventions or summer schools.

Prof. David Thomson is planning to spend a year's leave of absence in Europe, studying educational customs there.

HEALTH REPORT

Shows Two-Thirds of Office Men Are Victims of Dyspepsia.

Recent official health reports make the surprising revelation that 60 per cent of men employed at office work are afflicted to a greater or less degree with dyspepsia.

Commenting on this, one of the head medical advisers of the department says that if dyspepsia or indigestion even in its milder forms is allowed to continue it will in a short time poison the blood from putrefaction of food in the stomach.

This eventually undermines the whole system and the sufferer is prey to almost any disease, especially affections of the kidneys. He advises any one with indications of indigestion, such as bloating, belching and headaches to relieve it promptly. He says this can be most effectively done by using a digestive and gives the following formula which he strongly recommends: "Two ounces Essence of Pepsin; three ounces Syrup of Ginger; one ounce Candied Compound. These to be well mixed and used in doses of from one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal also at bedtime for the first week."

This is a very simple home remedy, the ingredients obtainable at any well-stocked drug store. It is pleasant to take and probably is the most effective formula known for restoring the stomach to its normal activity.
