

WAR-EMERGENCY POWERS NEEDED

—Congress Told

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Administration leaders asked Congress today to go slow in revoking war powers granted the executive branch of the government.

John W. Snyder, reversion director, declared such action now would "seriously interfere with the reversion program." He told a House judiciary subcommittee: "No wartime control will be exercised one day longer than is absolutely needed."

But Representative A. L. Miller, Republican, Nebraska, pleading for immediate action on his bills to proclaim a legal end to the war, said:

"It is morally wrong to keep men in the service who enlisted for the duration and six months by this legal trick of continuing hostilities beyond the end of the shooting."

Meanwhile, the compulsory military training plan got a full-steam ahead signal in Congress today. President Truman's proposal for a year's military training for all youths put Congress on a political hot spot, leaders feel.

Congressmen want to get the issue out of the way, well before the 1946 congressional election campaigning. Senators also are likely to feel a urge for speed.

A new fight popped up about the Pearl Harbor attack probe, and Walter George of Georgia, Senate finance committee chairman, said the new tax-cut bill will furnish all the relief people can expect on their 1946 incomes.

Truman Order Criticized
About the Pearl Harbor investigation:

Republicans protested hotly a White House order permitting only a majority of the ten-member Senate-House joint Pearl Harbor committee summon witnesses or records.

The four G. O. P. members had wanted freedom for each to slouch out leads of his own. This is the way the Senate's war-investigating committee operates. Mr. Truman, when a senator, headed up that committee. But as President he has rejected the plan for the Pearl Harbor investigators.

About taxes:
House and Senate delegations got together to iron out different versions of income-tax cuts.

Navy Wants Money Back
Whatever comes out of it—and the aggregate slash is sure to be somewhere near $5,500,000,000—Senator George said that's all anybody can count on for next year. Congress will go to work later on a long-range postwar tax plan but George made it clear that won't apply before 1947.

Also in Congress, a senator disclosed the Navy wants back some of $17,662,000,000 withdrawn by the House appropriations committee.

The Senate had only a routine session scheduled. Its committees studied such problems as raising the minimum legal wage and establishing a scientific research foundation.

Nisei May Sue For Citizenship

It was reported by the paper that many of the Nisei said they did not fully understand what they were doing. Some asserted they were coerced by pro-Japanese pressure groups and others said they acted only to preserve family unity, the paper declared.

King George Urges Atomics for Peace

LONDON, Oct. 26.—(AP)—King George VI, called last night upon the world's scientists and statesmen to use atomic energy "solely for the promotion of peace and raising of standards of life everywhere." "Regard your knowledge and your skill always in the light of a trust for the benefit of humanity and thereby ensure . . . that science may never be put to uses which offend the higher conscience of mankind," the King said.

For world statesmen, he asked for the acquisition of wisdom so "that means may be found, ere it is too late, of insuring that new knowledge recently gained is used solely for the promotion of peace and the raising of standards of life everywhere."

NEW CAMERA IS BETTER THAN EYE

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—(AP)—A camera which will bring television out of the studio and make it possible to telecast anything the eye can see comfortably, has been announced by the Radio Corporation of America.

R. C. A. and the National Broadcasting Company, which operates the New York television station WNBC, demonstrated the camera yesterday. It features a new tube which can see at times better than the human eye.

The device picked up studio scenes with the aid of a small flashlight, a couple of candles, a match and even the glowing end of a cigarette.

What's more, it reproduced a scene in the dark, relying only on infra-red rays—which the human eye cannot see at all. The new tube, a wartime development described as "image orthicon," will make it possible to telecast news events, indoor meetings, and football games down to the last play in waning light.

138,000 JAPS TO QUIT PHILIPPINES

MANILA, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Western Pacific Army headquarters said today 138,000 Japanese prisoners of war and civilians are being repatriated from the Philippines to alleviate feeding, guarding and housing problems.

Similar action was under way in the Ryukyus, headquarters added.

The total to be repatriated indicated there were more Japanese in the Philippines than headquarters estimated last summer when Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced that the liberation campaign was completed.

Manila newspaper editorials protested the removal of the Japanese before they were made to clean up the debris left by war and to help rebuild the islands' war-smashed cities.

Headquarters said the repatriation job will be carried out by Japanese ships, supplemented by a few Liberty ships.

Turin, Italy, estimates that about 266,000 of the 626,000 rooms in the city were damaged during the war.

During 44 months of the Second World War, Philco research scientists and engineers developed 48 different radar systems for the Army and Navy, and the company's production of radar equipment totaled well over $250,000,000.
