Government Aids Union Rivalry, N. L. R. B. Is Told

A charge that an unfair-labor practices action brought against the Marine Cooks & Stewards' Union (C. I. O.) is a case of one union attempting to supplant another, with government help, was voiced in a hearing today.

The charge was made by Allan Brotsky, San Francisco attorney, representing the Marine Cooks. The National Labor Relations Board hearing is being conducted in the United States Courthouse.

Question Opposed

Brotsky's statement came during argument over an objection to a question Brotsky had asked Don L. Rotan, organizer for the rival Pacific Marine Stewards' Union (A. F. of L.) on cross-examination.

Rotan was asked if his union were not seeking a hiring hall similar to that in operation by the C. I. O. union. After lengthy argument, Rotan answered: "Yes."

Unfairness Charged

The N. L. R. B. action, with the C. I. O. union and several West Coast ship operators as respondents, charges unfair labor practices in hiring-hall agreements between the Marine Cooks and the ship owners.

The rival A. F. of L. group, members of which filed the complaint on which the N. L. R. B. action is based, was formed more than a year ago by former members of the C. I. O. Marine Cooks.

U. S. Treatment Of Nisei Draws Strong Protest

SPOKANE, Dec. 5. —(AP)— A Nisei speaker at a conference here yesterday said Nisei are proud to be Americans, but he expressed some dissatisfaction with treatment accorded his group.

The speaker, Mike Masaoka of Washington, D. C., told more than 100 second-generation Japanese from Spokane, Seattle, Tacoma, Portland and Hood River, Or., that the Nisei have given proof of their devotion to America in their own blood on the field of battle.

Masaoka is a veteran of the 442nd Infantry Battalion, most decorated unit in American history, which distinguished itself in Second World War battles in Italy.

Targets of Masaoka's wrath included the incarceration of Japanese-Americans in "American concentration camps," the alien land law and the Hood River American Legion Post, which removed the names of Nisei from its honor roll.

'Missing' Hiss Witness Refuses to Answer Queries

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—William Rosen, once named as a Communist by the House un-American activities committee, refused today to answer most of the questions asked him in the second Alger Hiss perjury trial.

Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard upheld Rosen's right to refuse to give certain information, and told the jury that his silence should not prejudice the case against Hiss.

The 65-year-old Rosen, who couldn't be found during the first Hiss trial, appeared this time under a government subpoena. He declined to answer most of the questions on the grounds of constitutional privilege.

The government had hoped to show that Rosen was a Communist who took over an old Ford roadster from Hiss in 1936.

Rosen took the stand over the protests of Defense Counsel Claude B. Cross, who told the court: "I object to this witness testifying. He has had nothing to do with Mr. Hiss and does not know the case."

Judge Goddard overruled the objection and Assistant U. S. Attorney Thomas F. Murphy began questioning Rosen. Judge Goddard had ruled earlier, in his chambers, that Rosen's testimony could be admitted.

"In 1936—about July of that year—were you at any time connected with the Communist Party?" the prosecutor asked.

Rosen replied: "I respectfully decline to answer this question on the ground that any answer I will give will incriminate me." He said the same things when asked if he was the William Rosen who registered a 1929 Ford in Washington during 1936.

Whittaker Chambers, Hiss' chief accuser, named Rosen at the first trial as the man who received the car. Rosen disappeared shortly before the first trial opened. F. B. I. agents found him in Los Angeles last September 26.

Rosen refused last year to tell the House committee on un-American activities whether he was a Communist. He also refused to discuss the car transaction.

Chambers' story is that Hiss turned the car over to the Communist party for the use of one of its workers after getting the Hiss' lawyer continued today his efforts to show that Chambers got secret State Department documents from someone other than Hiss. He cross-examined the State Department's record chief, Walter H. Anderson.

Before Hiss' perjury trial recessed Friday, Anderson testified under cross-examination that 40 to 50 copies of some of the confidential papers were circulated to various divisions.

REMEMBER O-M TABLETS

for | Gastric Attacks | Poor Digestion | Dizziness | Due to Constipation

The O-M TABLET COMPANY has felt for over thirty years that a truly fine laxative should do more than just temporarily eliminate bowel congestion.

It is our opinion the correct laxative should stimulate necessary regularity without discomfort or disagreeable after-effects. It should not upset the stomach or disturb sleep. It should encourage the flow of bile and other digestive fluids which promote normal bowel action. Relief should come quickly from headaches, backaches, gas pressure palpitation, sluggish liver, and the many ills due to constipation. Our sincere understanding is that a laxative should not contain harsh, habit-forming minerals or chemicals. Therefore we have made O-M TABLETS a prescription-like compound of pure vegetable herb medicines. They are skillfully blended for young and elderly alike.

Thousands of happy customers are daily praising O-M's soothing results after taking many ordinary remedies without satisfaction.
