Councilman Alexander Reed Withdraws His Impeachment Complaint Against Tacoma's Mayor, for Lack of Evidence.

Declares, However, That J. W. Linck Will Have to Answer to More Serious Arraignment -Meeting Proves Farce,

The Times Special Service.

TACOMA, Tucsday, June 30.—Citizens of Tacoma who packed the council chamber, the lobbies and the entire third floor of the Tacoma city hall last night in anticipation of hearing witnesses substantiate the sensational charges brought against Mayor John W. Linck by maleonients in the city council for the purpose of removing the mayor from office were treated to the most humorous farce ever enacted in the local city hall. Councilman Alexander Reed, chief complainant against the mayor, after jockeying in an unsuccessful effort to gain time to bring new charges, admitted that he had nothing to substantiate the impeachment charges already before the council.

Reed withdrew his charges and the council adjourned amid an entitusiastic outburst from the thousand citizens who load crowded into the city hall and who joined in alternately cheering Mayor Linck and jeering members of the council responsible for the attempt to ous the city's chief executive.

council responsible for the attempt to oust the city's chief executive.

Will Contain Dozen Gounts.

Councilman Reed announces that he will bring new charges against the mayor in which he will, charge malfeasance and misfeasance in office in a dozen counts. He declares also that he will be prepared, when the charges are filed, to produce witnesses substantiating each charge. The appointment of aged men, alleged to be incompetent, in the police and public works departments will be one of the principal charges added to those which were dismissed last night.

Councilman Ritter Wilkeson, at the opening of last night. Councilman Ritter Wilkeson, at the opening of last night's hearing, attempted to back water from his former stand in favor of impeaching Mayor Linck. He presented a resolution stating that, as Mayor Linck has been guilty of issuing orders to policemen and allowing the establishment of a restricted district, in direct violation of the city's statutes, be it resolved, that the council demand the mayor to enforce this and all laws of the city. Jattorney B. W. Coiner demanded that he resolution councilman Reed asked the resolution. Councilman Reed asked the resolution to the their of the prosecute the charges against the resolution to the their of the resolution of the cities.

drew the charges and the council adjourned.
Popular sentiment is so overwhelmingly against the impeachment of Mayor Linck for any mistakes he has made in his administration of the city government since his inauguration two months ago, that there seems no possibility of any further impeachment proceedings being made successful. Petitions from twenty-two clurrches. the Ministerial Alliance and the Young Men's Christian Association asking for the abolition of the restricted district were read at last night's session of the city council but no action was taken concerning the matter by that body.

HIGHER ASSASSMEN FOR RAILROADS

State Tax Commission Adopts 60 Per Cent Basis on Valuations Fixed by the Railway Board After Investigation.

Rate Expert Will Segregate Findings and Revenue Will Aggregate Three Times What Lines Have Been Paying.

The Times Special Service.

OLYMPIA. Quesday, June 30.—With the completion of the railway commission's findings on the valuation of the three principal railreads of the state the state tax commission has begun its work of fixing the valuation of the railroads for taxation purposes. It will be necessary for the tax commission to segregate the totals furnished by the railway commission into county valuations and this will probably be done on a mileage basis.

For the purpose of making this segregation the tax commission has employed E. J. Coors, who has been rate expert for the railway commission. Coors' services terminate with the railway commission June 30.

'To aid the tax commission in arriving at the valuation of the smaller railroads of the state, the railway commission's findings do not include the valuations of the smaller roads, that portion of the work having been postponed, pending the preparation of the findings on the more important lines.

The tax commission will assess the railroads on a basis of 60 per cent of the valuations of the smaller roads, that portion of the work having been postponed, pending the preparation of the findings on the tax commission will assess the railroads on a basis of 60 per cent of the valuations determined by the railway commission, as other property in the state is assessed on that basis. This will about-treble the assessed valuation placed on the railroads last year, making the total about $165,000. The Times Special Service.

JAPANESE FISHERMEN BARRED FROM LICENSE

Attorney-General Gives Opinion Which May Keep Sons of Mikado Out of Local Waters.

of Local Waters.

OLYMPIA, Tuesday, June 30.—The attorney-general has given an opinion, which, if sustained by the court, will put the Japanese fisherman in this state out of business.

The legislature of 1907 passed a law providing that no license should be issued to any person who is not a citizen of the United States unless such person has declared his intention to become such one year prior thereto. Several Japanese have been endeavoring to obtain licenses by filing a statement of their intentions to become citizens. The attorney-general holds that this is ineffective as under the federal laws Japanese are not entitled to naturalization, and therefore are not entitled to fishermen's licenses in this state.

PULLED CUSH OUT OF

Ankeny Secured Warships for Tacoma After Congressman Had Ingloriously Fallen Down in the Matter.

Representative Must Now Do Some More Explaining to the People of His Home County in Order to Square Himself.

TAÇOMA, Tuesday, June 30.—It is generally understood that Congressman F. W. Cushman faces a rather serious war with his own constituents, all on F. W. Cushman faces a rather serious war with his own constituents, all on account of the recent visit of a portion of the Atlantic fleet to Tacoma harbor. In brief, Cushman was willing to cut his home town off with only four battleships at anchor. That Tacoma secured more was due to the personal eforts of Senator Ankeny; and now the people wish to learn why the Congressman was "asleep at the switch." He will be called on repeatedly to answer that question. Seattle was visited by thirteen of the war vessels, while Tacoma's allotment would have been miserably cut down, and those without any illumination but for the friendly intercession of Ankeny.

The original program was that eight vessels should steam into Tacoma harbor and maneuver for awhile, after which the flagship of the squadron, accompanied by three others, should sail for San Francisco. When the full import of the order was understood there was much righteous indignation; and anumber of clitzens formulated a telegram to the Senator. Six hours later Admiral Sperry at Seattle received an order changing his itinerary so that Tacoma secured eight vessels for the night.

Ankeny Gets the Warships.

night. Ankeny Gets the Warships.

Senator Ankeny not only arranged for double the number of ships in Commencement Bay, but he also secured a change of the order so that the ships were illuminated. His telegram to the citizens of Tacoma, was as follows:

"Congressman Cushman, representing Tacoma, was present at a conference with the secretary of the navy several weeks ago, when the fleet itinerary was decided upon, and his wishes were of course respected by the other members of the Washington delegation. In the absence of any word from Tacoma, we have not sought to chanse the plans until today. The navy department has now arranged that eight war vessels will steam into Tacoma harbor and anchor until the 28th, when four will leave for San Francisco that date; there will remain a few days.

"LEVI ANKENX."

Commenting on the fact that Senator Ankeny came to the rescue, the Tacoma Forum draws some interesting comparisons. Cushman, it states, has gone so far as to give out a newspaper interview declaring that every man who voted for the sculor senator is a "brass-mounted grafter."

Quietly Ignores Cushman. Ankeny Gets the Warships.

who voted for the senior senator is a "brass-mounted grafter."

**Quietly Ignores Cushman.

**But Senator Anken-** says The Forum. "Is too big a man to pay any attention to Cushman and his unbridled tongue, and will always be found-ready to act for the best interests of Tacoma, when any of its citizens feel that Cushman is not properly representing them. Notwithstanding the fact that Bill Jones, president of the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce, would not take this flect matter up with Senator Ankeny (because he—Jones—is an enemy of the Senator) a small band of citizens did take it up—and held the ships—much to the delight of one hundred thousand people. Senator Ankeny is our Senator as much as he is Senator for Seattle and Walla Walla, and he will be found doing his dutv all the time." So it happens that the great majority of the people of Pierce County know just how the ships hammend to be held in Commencement Bay—and they propose to learn from Cushman himself what he was doing at Washington, D. C., instead of representing his constituents.

JAPANESE EXCLUDED PENDING ELECTION

Winpon Paper Published in Vancouver, B. C., Makes Interesting Comment

VANCOUVER. B. C., Tuesday, June 30.—An interesting statement of fact and comment regarding the Japanese labor situation in Canada appears in The Canadian News, a Japanese dally newspaper of Vancouver, as follows: "The Tokyo Emigration Company, whose office is at Section 5 Benton Street, Yokohama, has received an order from the Canadian Nippon Supply Company of Vancouver for 2,000 laboring men. The Tokyo company applied to the department of foreign affairs for ing men. The Tokyo company applied to the department of foreign affairs for the necessary permits, but the department replied that since the arrival in Japan of the Canadian minister of labor an agreement had been entered upon that no more laborers would be permitted to sail for Canada without the expressed consent of the Canadian government, even though such laborers should be invited by Canadian operators. Permission, was therefore refused.

As a matter of fact, however, the "As a matter of fact, however, the Canadian government recognizes the importance of Japanese laborers in the work of construction by the railway companies, but being confronted by a general election, the government holds back in fear of arousing the opposition of the white laboring men, not having the courage to grant the necessary permits for the importation of Japanese laborers. Thus the emigration society is in a predicament, being unable to advance or retreat."

NEW SOLDIERS' HOME READY IN SEPTEMBER

Cottage Plan at Port Orchard Institute Will Permit of Veterans Taking Their Families.

OLYMPIA. Tuesday, June 30.—The branch soldlers' home at Port Orchard, for which the last legislature appropriated funds for site, building and maintenance, will be ready to receive the first occupants about September I, according to the board of control.

The institution is to be conducted on the cottage or colonizing plan and the old soldlers admitted will be permitted to take their families with them. The facilities of the institution will not permit the acceptance at first of all the veterans who have made application for admission, and those admitted will probably be selected in the order their applications were received.

Fresh air.
From telegrams found in Lindstrom's pockets it was believed that he had been the victim of a blackmail plot and this fact added to the weight of original opinion that he had committed suicide. In his pocket was a telegram from C. R. Greene, dated Aberdeen, June 27. which read: "Cannot accomplish anything without you. Hagan advises return and commence prosecution for blackmail." I Another telegram is from the Bendixen Shipbullding Company, Eureka, Cal., and reads:
"One week notice received. Will call meeting July 6 If this message is not intercepted."
Lindstrom also had a check for $790 meeting July 6 if this message is not intercepted."

Lindstrom also had a check for $750 on the San Francisco National Bank and a key to room 109. Oregon Hotel. Portland, to which place the telegrams were addressed. Bendixen is a prominent shipbuilder, having yards at Eureka, Cal., and Aberdeen. Wash. Lindstrom arrived in Salem last night with 4. H. Cal., and expected to leave for "bat place o" Thursday of this week to "bat place o" Thursday of the construction of the vessel.

Reclamation Service Engineers Investigate the Feasibility of Watering Big Tract in Port Neuf Valley.

Tuesday, June 30.

PRELIMINARY investigations have just been Ampleted by the cugineers of the reclamation service of the irrigation possibilities of Port Neuf Valley in the vicinity of American Falls. Idaho, and of the fensibility of diverting the waters of Blackfoot River into the Port Neuf drainage. It is believed that about 20,000 acres lying partly in the Fort Hall reservation south of Port Neuf River and cast of Snake River can be served with water from Port Neuf River and cast of Snake River can be served with water from Port Neuf River. There also exists a small tract of land north of Pocatello, which lies above the reservation ditch and which can be reached by a canal out of Port Neuf River diverted a few miles above Pocatello.

Another tract of fine irrigable land of can be reached by a children out of Fort Neuf River diverted a few miles above Pocatello.

Another tract of fine irrigable land of about 40,000 acres in the vicinity of Chesterfield probably could be irrigated by diverting the waters of Blackfoot River into the Port Neuf frainage. As these lands lie well up on the stream all the drianage would revert back to Port Neuf for use below. A small tract could also be irrigated on Blackfoot River on the canal which would convey water through the divide. The Port Neuf River could be used as a channel for the waters diverted from Blackfoot River, and from it the water could be diverted at will. The settlement of Chesterfield was established about twenty-five years ago, but scarcity of water forced many settlers to abandon their places, either selling at practically nothing or renting for pasture.

Owing to the present condition of the pasture.

Owing to the present condition of the reclamation fund, it is extremely doubtful if the reclamation service will be able to assist in the construction of this work, but if it is found feasible and the cost reasonable the settlers may be able to organize and do the work themselves. The water supply is controlled by the Indian office.
