PICNICKERS LISTEN GOOD PIANOS TO PILES

United States Senator Makes Address at Sultan and Wins Support for Ankeny, Though Avoiding Politics.

Many Candidates From All Parts of Snohomish County Take Part in Gathering. Editor J. A. Swett Presides.

SUL/TAN, Saturday, Aug. 8.—Sultan's big picnic today was ettended by no less than a thousand citizens from all parts of Snohomish County. The celebration was held in a beautiful grove on the south bank of the Skykomish, where, after an ample luncheon, the people listened to speeches in recognition of the services of County Commissioner John Anderson in securing the endorsement of the commissioners for a new bridge to be built across the river at this place.

new bridge to be ball as this place.

Although the gathering was on the surface non-political, the drift toward politics was unmistakable. No less than thirty-two candidates for office were distributing cards among the voters prestributing cards among the voters present.

The guest of honor was United States Senator S. H. Piles, who spoke for nearly an hour. He observed faithfully his promise made at the Moore Theatribuse in Seattle that he would not talk politics outside of King County. He paid a tribute to the people of Snohomish, his second home, mentioning by name John Mallor, Carl Missimer, Ches. Thornton and the late Eldridge Mokse. He made a plea for good roads and traced at length the history of the Oregon country, referring in eloquent terms to the sturdy pioneers of the 40's who saved an empire to the American fiag.

try, referring in eloquent terms to the sturdy pioneers of the 40's who saved an empire to the American flag.

Ankeny Sentiment in Evidence.

Although Senator Piles refrained from a discussion of politics, his auditors did not overlook the deep political significance of today's ovent. His recent declaration that he would work for and vote for Senator Levi Ankeny, and wished his friends to do the same, was a topic of conversation, and his course was generally commended.

Among the candidates present were Joe Irving and A. J. Falconer, who are contesting for the state Senate as successor to Hon. T. E. Summer. The Sultan people understand that Senator Piles in his Seattle speech referred to Irving when he said he would help any friend who had helped him, "though the heavens fall." The instant effect of Senator Piles visit to this part of Snohomish county has been to enhance Irving's chances, and today's speech undoubtedly will contribute to his success at the September primaries. Of the thirty-two candidates present, Everett contributed twenty-one, as follows: State senator—Joe Irving, A. J. Falconer; Representatives, Forty-eighth District—H. W. North, J. W. Keim, George Hilzinger, John Campbell, John T. Rogers; Coroner—Dr. James Chisbolm, Dr. O. D. Wilson, Dr. W. D. Smith: Superior Judge—Judge W. Bereck (re-election), ex-Governor Albert W. McIntyre; Auditor—Tom Fleming, Capt. T. J. Sherfey, Or, D. Reeves; Sheriff.—Jeff Beard (re-election). Every-orment of the county were: Representative, Forty-eighth District, G. G. Assisting in the arrangements were B. C. Williams, Thomas Casey and E. A. Peticlerk. John A. Swett, editor of the Sultan Star, presided at the celebration. The address of welcome was given by Dr. T. W. Musgrove. Addresses were also made by Mayor Newton Jones of Everett, Judge W. W. Black and ex-Governor Albert W. McLutyre. The only candidate to make a speech was G. G. Startup, who is running for the Legislature from the Forty-eighth District, and in his remarks he avoided political lines except to insist that this part of Snohomish County be recognized in a proposed scheme to issue half a million bonds for new wagon roads.

Take the Skeptical view towards all advertising literature that promises large returns from a small investment. Instances are mentioned in these advertisements where a few hundred dollars made thousands in a short time. It is a fact, nevertheless, that such cases are few. Nothing is said about the thousands of times that the small investor loseswhere the loss is total. Everyone knows that there are some opportunities for the small investor, but usually he is not in a position to know the real cannot separate the good from the hazardous. TOWNES GIVES HUGHES SOME BREEZY VIEWS

Virginia Breeder Says Legislation Has Not Stopped Racing—It has Simply Cheapened Sport.

Gen. William T. Townes, one of the foremost breeders of thoroughbreds in the country, has made the announcement of the sale of his Virginia breeding farm "on account of recent unfavorable legislation." At the same time he sent the following letter to Governor Hughes of New York:

"On account of your recent legislation the values of thoroughbred horses have been so materially reduced that we, in this fine blue grass section of Northern Virginia, are forced to go out of the business of raising fine horses. I enclose a circular descriptive of my farm property and would like to have a purchaser for it and all the horses, either as a whole or otherwise.

"I spent several weeks in New York City during this month and noted that racing was progressing regularly, as of old, and that many men were making wagers between themselves on the races. I also believe that your appellate court has decided that such wagers are within their rights.

I also believe that your appellate court has decided that such wagers are within their rights.

"All of these facts should clearly show that the only effect of your recent anti-racing laws has been to destroy the breeding industry of the United States. Horses will be racing daily around New York long after your bones have crumbled into dust—the credit will be yours for baving done all you could to destroy the highly respectable industry of improving the breed of horses.

"The recent laws enacted have not stopped racing, nor can they or any other laws stop betting between individuals. The only effect of your laws has been to lower the class of the sport, cheapen admission to the tracks, lowers the class of horses to race in future years and destroys the well-equipped breeding plants throughout the country. Racing, betting and poolrooms will remain, but most of the breeding farms must go out of business."

Heretofore it has been believed that the ascent was impossible. According to a superstition of native Indians, death was sure to come to any person who made the attempt. They say that of the many who have tried, none ever returned. Dunn reports the volcano as being active.

SHERIFFS

Associated Law Officers of State Go on Record Against Governor Because of His Pardoning Policy.

The Times Special Service.

BELLINGHAM, Saturday, Aug. 8.—
Because Albert E. Mead's abuse of the pardoning power has discouraged the ef-Because Albert E. Mead's abuse of the pardoning power has discouraged the efforts of every sheriff in the state, and because of his proposition to place the sheriffs under the thumb of a state board of control to further curb their energies, the Washington State Sheriffs' Association this afternoon put itself on record against the governor's policies. Not one man in the assembly came forward with a syllable in Mead's defense, and only one sheriff would admit that Mead has any chance of election. The Washington State Sheriff's Association individually and collectively, is against Mead for governor.

The sheriffs' association is not a political organization, but every member was thinking politics, and the men who adopted the resolutions denouncing the Nead policies say they were slashing at the governor and at the same time placing the association against him. Nothing, say officers, discourages a guardian of the peace more than to see some case-bardened criminal pardoned when life and limb have been risked for his capture.

case-nardened criminal partocate when the and limb have been risked for his capture.

But this is not the least of Mead's offenses against the sheriffs. He has recently proposed the appointment of a commission to go over the state and check their work. To this they are opposed because the term of the appointing power of the governor is four years, while a sheriff's term is only two. A subsidized board could easily pick flaws in the work of any sheriff not in sympathy with the governor, and thus great opportunity for the construction of a political machine would be available, declare the sheriffs.

DEATH LURKING IN WIRELESS WAVES

Scientists Believe Marconi System Means Danger to All and Predict Dire Results Similar to X-Rays.

No Disastrous Effects Reported, but Famous Photograph Machine Caused No Damage Until After Years.

Special Cable to The Times.

LONDON, Saturday, Aug. R.—Is the increasing use of wireless telegraphy a menace to the human race?

Has the town worker, who spends so many of his open air moments in avoiding the obvious perils of the streets, to face a new, secret and powerful danger?

The following letter suggests some such possibility:

"It is stated that the admiralty is now sending cressages to the fleets at sen by means of wireless telegraphy.

"As is well known, this means that ether waves are being let loose in one of the densest parts of London, in my opinion a most dangerous experiment, considering the fearful, and at first totally unsuspected, results produced by X-rays, which are only another form of ether waves, upon people coming into frequent contact with them.

Danger to Every One. Danger to Every One.

Danger to Every One.

"This wireless system once in general use, the people, not only of London, but of all England, will be continually subjected to these mysterious and little understood ether disturbances, with possibly calamitous results in the shape of some fearful and obscure disease akin to that now unhappliy known to be caused by X-rays.
"Moreover, it will not be a few habitual operators whose lives will be endangered, as in the case of X-rays, but every one whose daily business lies in London. dangered, as in the case of X-rays, but every one whose daily business lies in London.

"For all we know these high tensile discharges of an unknown force, which is admittedly similar to that of the X-rays, may be extremely injurious."

Prof. Sir William Crookes, F. R. S., the eminent scientist, whose name is so well known in connection with "Crookes tubes," was consulted on the subject, and he immediately admitted the possibility of some such result.

subject, and he immediately admitted the possibility of some such result.

Evil Effects Long Delayed.

"Marconi rays and X-rays are both vibrations of the ether," he said. "The X-rays did not produce any injurious effect for some years, and the fact that they were at all dangerous was not suspected. Personally, although I have worked with the X-rays from the beginning. I have escaped harm.

"It is possible that the wireless rays may have an ill effect upon people constantly subjected to them, though I have not heard of a case as yet."

One of the scientific profesors at King's College said:

"It is so uncertain at present in what way tho X-rays generate skin disease that I do not care to affirm that wireless rays have no such effect. All I can say is that nothing of the sort has been heard of as yet."

The same thing exactly might have been said of the X-rays some years ago, might it not?" was asked.

Danger May Lurk, He Says.

been said of the X-rays some years ago, might it not?" was asked.

Danger May Lurk, He Says.

"That is true, For a considerable time no one imagined them to be harmful, and then several bad cases occurred. It is impossible to be sure that the Marconi ether waves are not injurious when we know that the X-ray ether waves are so dangerous.

"Scientists do not know how the X-rays cause the trouble they do, and it cannot be denied that another set of either waves might have their own special action upon the human system.

"It might be undiscovered for years, and then cause speedy death. Experiment alone can determine whether these wireless rays are harmless or not."

The Marconi company said that so far no such results had been noticed among operators of the Marconi system.

"X-rays and those emanating from wireless telegraphy instruments are certainly both ether waves, though of difting the caterpillars come. They make use of what they call electric light trap. This consists of two large and power-

The last "New Country" and the last

The man who becomes financially interested in Nechaco Valley lays the foundation for his future so solidly, so firmly, that financial depressions and panics will be things to scoff at. Nechaco Valley, the Farmers' Paradise, represents the last "new country," the last "pioneer country" in the entire West.

How much does "pioneer country" stand for? In your own knowledge of your old home what is the financial and social position of the former pioneer?

And Nechaco Valley, a new country whose resources have not been touched, offers you identically the very same opportunity that, years ago, was given the "settlers" of your old home. Nechaco Valley, the beautiful, means freedom, independence, happiness and presperity, not only for you, but all who will follow you. It is the last real "Western Oppor-

Nechaco

Valley

Nechaco Valley is about as far from Vancouver as is Portland. It is on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific, the finest transcontinental railroad on the continent.

Nechaco Valley has climatic conditions uplike those anywhere on the Coast-locked just across the mountains from the ocean directly East of the lowest section of them, it enjoys the full benefit of the warm winter breezes of the Japan current-the mountains are sufficiently high, however, to protect the valley from excessive rainfall, thus bringing about an ideal climate not enjoyed in any other part of the West. The summers are tempered by the presence of the surrounding mountains, and the temperature averages from 75 to $5 degrees.

The rainfall, which comes in the growing season, is ample for all crops, and the settlers in Nechaco Valley do not have to put up with irrigation labors or expenses in any way. The soil is a rich silt variety, and is entirely free from sand, gravel and stones-all kinds of grains, vegetables and grasses grow luxuriantly and the climatic conditions make as good a place to raise fruits, especially the hardier varieties, as Eastern Washington or Southern

But, besides all that, there is the dollars and cents side for the pioneer to consider. The land is being sold at the present time for 60c down and 30c

Besides, all taxes and other assessments that may fall due are paid through the entire contract period.

The contract provides, among other things, that we must give you good agricultural land. That we must, at our expense, clear, plow, plant, cultivate, grow, care for, harvest and market suitable crops on and from the land, and that we must pay you half of the net profits. We guarantee that these profits will be dividends of at least 4 per cent (more likely they will range from 10 per cent to 40 per cent) and we are absolutely bound to pay these dividends annually.

Furthermore, to protect you and make your investment secure, we will buy back your land if you so notify us at the time you make your last payment, at a profit to you of 20 per cent over your purchase price.
