SNOHOMISH IN GIBBONS WILL LIMELIGHT TODAY

SNOHOMISH County citizens by the thousands made a brave showing today when they paraded First and Second avenues to the martial strains of half a dozen bands, and displayed in the long line of march floats and banners exemplifying the resources and industries of the county north of King. The parade itself was in many respects the most noteworthy since the opening of the fair, inasmuch as the local citizens of Marysville, Stanwood, Mukilteo, Edmonds, Granite Falls, Monroe, Snohomish, Arlington, Lowell, Index, Sultan and Everett forsook their business and left their homes to let the exposition crowds and visitors in Seattle know how really great is Snohomish County.
Men and women carrying infants in arms were frequently seen in the line of

TACOMA WILL NOT SEE TAFT

THE TRAGIC END OF A YOUNG MAN
TACOMA, Tuesday, Aug. 3.—The announcement in a dispatch from Washington, D. C., that President Taft would cut out Tacoma in his visit to the Northwest has caused consternation here.
The dispatch stated that the President would go direct from Seattle to Portland, not deigning to give Tacoma even one hour of his presence. Leading citizens of Tacoma began to inquire as to the cause, then came the greater sensation.
When President Taft was in Tacoma on September 1, 1907, a great crowd had gathered at Wright Park to listen to his campaign speech. Presently he was seen approaching the speaker's stand, accompanied by S. A. Perkins. The contrast was striking, and the unpopularity of Mr. Taft's campaign was made manifest. Mr. Taft's companion was so great that the crowd began to cheer, hoot and hiss.
Mr. Taft was assured that the hisses were not intended for him, and went away seemingly believing the statement.
Now it is thought here that President Taft has cut Tacoma off his itinerary to avoid a possible recurrence of the scene at his former visit.

Refused in turn by all of the sixteen clergymen in Walla Walla, the local justice of the peace and Judge Brents of the superior court, the couple assert they will bring mandamus proceedings against the superior judge to force him to perform the wedding ceremony.

SWEDEN NEAR STATE OF REVOLT

STOCKHOLM, Tuesday, Aug. 3.—A labor war throughout Sweden that is scheduled to begin tomorrow threatens to develop in Stockholm into something approaching a revolution. The trouble will be aggravated by the present general strike and lockout.
The members of the young Socialist party are striving to give the movement a revolutionary character and the government, warned that a political campaign is on, has taken steps to nip the expected disorders in the bud. The authorities have decided at the first signs of insurrection to declare Stockholm in a state of siege.
Soldiers are being quartered in different sections of the city and suburbs, and the entire standing army of Sweden is ready for action.
The situation has suddenly taken a serious turn that King Gustava has summoned Parliament to Stockholm and a special session of the Rigsdag is expected.
A civil corps guard is being organized for the protection of property and the banks are closed and guarded.
All the ferries running out of Stockholm have ceased operating and the largest steamers engaged in carrying visitors and residents to the seaside resorts in the archipelago have suddenly stopped running, discharged their crews and laid up for the winter. The summer traffic is usually continued until October.
It is expected that the present total of about 100,000 idle workmen will be largely increased by tomorrow. It is anticipated also that the street car service in Stockholm will stop Wednesday, and arrangements are being made today to run the waterworks and the electric light plants by soldiers.
The bridges leading to the islands adjacent to Stockholm are closely guarded. Many stores have been closed and no milk is being delivered in the city. The sale of spirits, beer and wine has been prohibited.
True labor conflict that it at the bottom of this trouble originated in a dispute over wages in the woolen and cotton industries.

Former Residents of Gopher

GOV. JOHNSON DELIVERS ELOQUENT ORATION

Prominent Speakers Pay Tribute to Material and Intellectual Resources of North Star Commonwealth.

JOHNSON IN FINCHES
Additional honor will be paid to Governor Johnson tonight when his portrait in a set piece surrounded by the state motto, the features of the fireworks entertainment.
JUDGED from all possible standpoints, Minnesota Day at the position today was in every way credit to the Great North Star whose sons and daughters—those who now claim allegiance to the pivotal commonwealth of the north—the and those who, though citizens of Washington, still proudly boast that they come from the Gopher State—were through the gates at an early morning hour. How much Washington owes to the state whose flesh and blood and treasure has contributed so greatly to the upbuilding of this state was epitomized in the unveiling of a statue to the empire builder, James J.
Hill, which was the big event of the day.
The occasion was rendered the more momentous by the presence of Gov.
John A. Johnson of Minnesota, who speech was a masterly summing up of the ties of commerce and sentiment that bind the state of the west to the great lakes with its dominating slender on the North Pacific Coast whose nameless sea the father of their common coun is.

No Jarring Note.
Any jarring note that might have been injected into the exercises incidental to the day, because of the rivalry between President John E. Chi-lberg of the exposition, and Gov. Johnson, was happily avoided by the presing genius of the exposition himself.
Gov. Johnson's speech was a masterful banquet last night, Mr. Chilberg said to the occasion of both states sitting on either side of him.
"Here's to the health of Gov. Hughes of New York, and Gov. Johnson of Minnesota, of Gov. Johnson of Minnesota, and Gov. Hughes of New York. One of them will be the president of the United States, and it don't matter much which."
That was all that was needed to fully establish the entire cordial between Minnesota's distinguished son and the official host of the exposition, and the day was effectively disposed of the late unpleasantness, particularly after Gov.
Johnson's speech, which was a failure to arrive in Seattle in time for the Swedish Day exercises was apparently a closed incident.

Big Party Attendance.
The vast host that flocked steadily through the gates from the opening hour up to the beginning of the program has every indication of proving to be the banner crowds of the fair in point of attendance when the exercises began. The big exposition auditorium at 3:15 o'clock.
Gov. Johnson and party, including his staff in uniform, boarded automobiles in front of the New Washington Hotel at 11:30 a. m. and went direct to the exposition where they were met by the exposition management at luncheon.
They waited about the intervening time until the beginning of the program inspecting the exhibition palaces.

Judge Burke Presides.
The big assemblage in the Exposition Auditorium was presided over by H.
S. Walker, president of the Minnesota Club of Seattle, who made a brief address appropriate to the occasion. He introduced as chairman Judge Thomas Burke, of Seattle, who spoke of Minnesota's great contribution to the nation from both a material and an intellectual standpoint. Her sons, he said, had not only gone forth to people and develop the farther West, which was almost an impenetrable wilderness when pioneer Minnesota came to the fore, but the trails of the great state in which were the last outposts of the frontier scarped more than a half century ago. To the East also they had come to add their contribution to the nation's greatness as captains of industry and as intellectual giants whose overmastering personalities had left an indelible impression upon the country.
His reference to the debt of gratitude that Washington owed, and was about to recognize in the unveiling of a statue to James J. Hill, whose far-seeing genius had linked Washington with the East with bands of steel had added vastly to the upbuilding of the state.
