To a reporter for The Times Mr. George N. Wodgett said: "We are going to get together, which is the main thing, on a satisfactory basis to all three elements of the Fusion party."

"There never was a time," emphatically declared S. C. Childerhead to a group in the lobby of the hotel, "when there was such perfect harmony among the opponents to Republican rule, and when there were so few factions in our ranks."

Mr. Callison, committeeman from Chehalis, declares emphatically that the Fusionists are going to carry Lewis county this year by a nice majority.

COOL AFTER DARK

But New York Sizzles by Day. The Kissing Bug, the Boot-black Trust and the Missing Match Boy.

By EDWARD S. LUTHER. THE TIMES BUREAU. No. 21 Park Row, New York.

Although the mercury in the thermometer is settling in shockingly indecent manner our town has many compensations for its conduct.

After dark, even the most reputed to be a hot place, loses its reputation when one gets to the roof gardens, where the winds like infant prodigies among the tornado class.

Like Death, the continuous performance is gradually getting everybody. One by one the bravest names of the drama have succumbed to the allurements of Mr. Keith or Mr. Proctor.

Our old friend, the kissing bug, so popular with the maiden ladies of uncertain age last year, is with us again.

MR. SABIN REPLIES

Intimates That Old Operators Will Have to Go. His Message Under Consideration by Committees of Chamber Commerce and Business Men.

When the committee from the business men and the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon to receive the answer of Superintendent Sabin...

Mr. Sabin, again obtaining the floor, made the statement that the reason he had not reported back to the committee to report back was simply that they might be instructed by the business men and undoubtedly he given full power to act in any matter...

After the meeting had practically broken up, and the men had gathered in little groups to discuss the probable outcome of the strike, a telegram from Mr. Sabin at San Francisco arrived.

Messrs. Collins, Goldsmith and Chesley, Seattle, Wash., Telegram received. The first fact, stating that you wish to act in a spirit of perfect fairness, shows we both occupy the same ground.

Now that these fifty-five new operators all Seattle girls, and compare favorably with any we ever employed, have assisted us in the transaction of your telephone steady under my direction...

This, of course, put a new light upon the matter, and after a hasty conference it was decided by both committees to report back to the bodies they represented...

"I am afraid it will be a losing fight. The dream of the telephone company had was to play a lay-off game, and they have accomplished their purpose."

As long as they can hold us off until the service gets in good running order they will win. We need not possibly ask them to remove girls from the line...
