Prof. Pupin Tells What His Wonderful Discovery Can Do.

By Leased Wire. NEW YORK, Tuesday, Jan. 15.—The Herald says: According to the statements of Prof. Michael Pupin, adjunct professor of mechanics in Columbia University, the American Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company has paid him, instead of $200,000, as originally stated, nearly $500,000, for his recent invention of a system by which ocean telephoning is made possible. This is in addition to the annual royalty of $15,000 a year during the life of the patents.

Neeley Case Settled In Court.

Compelled to Stand Trial Under Cuban Flag and Laws.

(As announced exclusively in The Times, yesterday.)

By Leased Wire. WASHINGTON, D. C., Monday, Jan. 14.—The United States Supreme Court today announced its decision in the case of C. W. F. Neeley, charged with embezzlement of the public funds of Cuba while acting as financial agent of the department of posts of that island, holding that Neeley is subject to extradition. Justice Harlan handed down the court's opinion, which was unanimous, and immediately after the opinion was concluded an order was issued requiring that the mandate in the case be issued at once. The opinion embraced a complete review of the case, explaining Neeley's crime and arrest, and his efforts to prevent extradition to Cuba. The opinion also detailed the laws relating to extradition, and quoted the act of June 6, 1900, extending the provisions of section 5270 of the Revised Statutes to foreign countries which are "occupied by or under the control of the United States," so as to make the law cover, among other crimes, embezzlement.

There is No Republic. "Both the legislative and executive branches concurred in not recognizing the existence of such a government as the government of Cuba. It is true that the cooperation of the United States government with Cuban officers, was accepted by the military authorities of the United States in its efforts to overthrow Spanish rule in Cuba. Yet that measure of self-control which is the inalienable right of man, protected in their right to reap the benefit of the exhaustless treasure of their country."

Foreign Territory. "Announcing the court's conclusions on the status of Cuba, Justice Harlan said: 'The facts above detailed make it clear that Cuba is foreign territory within the meaning of the act of June 6, 1900. It cannot be regarded in any constitutional, legal or international sense as a part of the United States. While by the act of April 25, 1899, war was declared between this country and Spain, the President was directed and empowered to use our military and naval forces, as well as the militia of the several states, to such an extent as was necessary to carry the act into effect, that authorization was given for the purpose of securing Cuba an integral part of the United States, but for the purpose only of compelling the relinquishment by Spain of its authority and control over Cuba, and the withdrawal of its forces from Cuba and Cuban waters. The legislative and executive branches of the government have not intended to exercise jurisdiction or control over Cuba, except for the pacification thereof.'"

At Point of Death. CHICAGO, Tuesday, Jan. 15.—A special to The Times-Herald from Quincy, Ill., says: Scott Wilke, who served in the lower house of Congress two terms, beginning with 1888 and who was Assistant Controller of the Currency during President Cleveland's last term, is lying at the point of death at his home near Barry, Pike County, Ill.

Be fully occupied and controlled by the United States in order to effect the pacification—it being the function of the political branch of the government to determine when such occupation and control shall cease, and therefore when the troops of the United States shall be withdrawn from Cuba—the contention that the United States recognized the existence of an established government known as the republic of Cuba, but is now using its military or protective power to displace or overthrow it, is without merit. The declaration by Congress that the people of Cuba were and of right ought to be free and independent, was not intended as a recognition of the existence of an organized government constituted by the people of that island in hostility to the government of the United States. Nothing more was intended than to express the thought that Cubans were entitled to enjoy—to use the language of the President in his message of October 3, 1898—that measure of self-control which is the inalienable right of man, protected in their right to reap the benefit of the exhaustless treasure of their country.

FORTUNE FOR THEM

Missouri Heirs to Rice Estate.

A Large Part of the Millionaire's Property Will Become Theirs.

By Leased Wire. NEW YORK, Tuesday, Jan. 15.—Papers on file in the surrogate's office containing the record of the case of the will and estate of William Marsh Rice gave the clue on which notice was served on the heirs, discovered in Missouri, to appear on February 7 and protect their interests in the estate under the first will, which is not yet making Albert T. Patrick, the lawyer, now in the Tombs, the chief beneficiary.

It appears from these papers that Benjamin Franklin Rice of Radical, Stone County, Missouri, read of the arrest of Albert T. Patrick and the mystery surrounding the estate of William M. Rice. He accordingly wrote to Capt. George Schuchman in charge of the detective bureau, making some inquiries as to the estate and was referred to the law firm in charge of the will.

The letter of B. F. Rice, telling of his family history, which is attached to the papers, fully explains the facts. He says his father's name was David Rice. He was born in Massachusetts. He had three brothers and two sisters, William M. Rice, Caleb Rice, Frederick, Louise and Charlotte Rice. After David Rice's wife died the letter goes on, he came West and was in the Missouri Territory in the United States army, serving through the Mexican war. During these years his brother William M. Rice came out to Texas and established a firm known as Rice & Nickles of Houston, Texas. The two brothers, Caleb and Frederick, followed soon afterwards. The two sons, half brothers to B. F. Rice, became separated and no word being heard of them the father thought they were dead.

After the war his father settled in Missouri and married. Five children were born, of whom three are living and of these B. F. Rice is the oldest. His mother is living with these children at Radical, Mo. David died in December, 1899, being then a few years older than his brother William Marsh Rice. The latter died in the letters from B. F. Rice all parties concerned were confident that David Rice, the brother of W. M. Rice, had perished during or immediately after the war of the rebellion, he was known to have been actively engaged in it as a soldier in the Confederate army and had not been heard of after his enlistment. The facts presented by B. F. Rice were apparently so authentic that it was decided to serve him as well as his brother and sister with citations.
