

GET OUT OF THE WHISKEY CLASS

Men of Brains Stopping Liquor—Drinking Class Narrowing Down to the Derelicts.

Those Who Find That They Cannot Stop Because of Nervous Conditions Should Come to the Gatlin Institute for Three Days.

NO HYPODERMIC INJECTIONS

DOES the liquor you drink seem to benefit you physically and mentally? For you, does liquor cause the blues to vanish and the world to look bright? Do you find that a few drinks "quiet" your nerves and dissipate the cobwebs from your brain? Does whiskey prove itself to be the one medicine for all your ills? When liquor does these things for you, it has become a physical, mental and nerve necessity. The very dullest of minds can grasp that.

Then your condition—mental and physical—MUST be ABNORMAL. It is abnormal. Yours is a case of alcoholic poisoning, the LIQUOR HABIT. Your NERVES, MIND and BODY cannot return normal until you have taken the Gatlin treatment to eliminate this poison of alcohol from your system.

In THREE DAYS the Gatlin treatment does away with craving, desire and nerve-demand for liquor by driving the CAUSE of liquor drinking out of the system. The CAUSE is stored up alcoholic poison.

When you leave the Gatlin Institute at the end of the THIRD DAY of treatment, you are just as GOOD A MAN mentally and physically as you were before you commenced to drink, and you will have no craving or desire for liquor—no inclination to drink it. The only change in you from the day you commenced to drink will be that you are a LITTLE OLDER IN YEARS and a LITTLE MORE EXPERIENCED—and the experience may prove valuable.

Come to the Gatlin Institute for THREE DAYS. No hypodermic injections—no poisonous drugs—no disagreeable features—no substitutive stimulants—a treatment that a child could take. If you are not cured and satisfied with the cure, under legal contract, the fee paid will be returned when you leave the institute.

The Gatlin Home treatment for those who cannot come to the institute for three days. Call or write for particulars. Books and copies of contract to cure mailed, securely sealed, upon request.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Rev. J. A. O. Powers to Preach Memorial Sermon; Committees Named for All Work.

Further arrangements for the observance of Memorial Day were made at a meeting held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon by the joint committee represented by members of the various patriotic organizations of the city. Gen. Lyman Banks, chairman of the committee, announced that Rev. J. A. O. Powers, pastor of the Boylston Avenue Interdenominational Church, will deliver the memorial sermon Sunday, May 28, in his church. The street parade, May 29, will be in charge of Stevens Post No. 1.

G. A. R. Miller Post No. 31 will have charge of the Memorial Day services, while Sexton Post No. 123 will attend to the decorations for the various cemeteries.

Miss Ella D. Zenn has been delegated with the task of procuring the necessary flowers for the decorations. Comrade R. H. Hopkins, Mrs. Jennie S. Holmes, Mrs. Georgia Bernards and Miss E. M. Murry comprise the committee which will superintend the decoration of Lake View cemetery.

GO TO 'SPINNING' for bicycle and other repairs and good mechanics' tools.

YONIS' COFFEE HOUSE has reopened at 215 Marion Street—that's all.

Alveolar Dentistry

Does Away Entirely With Plates and Bridgework

It would not seem unfair to compare the accomplishments of the Alveolar Dental Co. in Dentistry to that of Edison in electricity. At least that is opinion of those who have had their dental work done by the Alveolar Method.

ERAT EST FUIT (I have just been duped)

Is an expression only too prevalent in Dentistry. There is hardly a day that one or many patients do not come into our offices to have work taken out of their mouths, put in by bargain counter dentists and sometimes by supposedly high-class dentists. Most of these people have sought cheap dental work and got it, others paid good prices and got what is known in dental parlance as junk. There is more malpractice in dentistry than any of the professions, largely because dentistry is about the most difficult of all the professions to become efficient in and requires more skill to do it—right. The patients who seek something for less than its value are as much at fault as is the unskilled dentist who sells something for less than its real value, for he has spent his money and three years of his time in a dental college trying to learn dentistry; (about one in 50 do learn.) I must make a living, he says to himself. He opens an office, tries to succeed on the high-class (square deal) plan, and fails; changes his tactics, either goes to work for a dental parlor or opens one and goes in for the gullible public on the make-believe theory—Fitch them, he says; get the money; they won't know whether the work is good, bad or indifferent until it's paid for; in any event the way to success is too slow for me. There is a sucker born every minute and I'll get my share if I give 'em the right talk—and he does in many cases, for there is hardly a city in this country but what you can find one or more grafters in the dental line, making oodles of money, and they do it for years. There may not be a dentist in his office, but that same fellow who failed as a dentist is an executive genius. If you need dental work and want the very best that is possible to be obtained, come in and let us show you samples of the work we do. Generally we can show you work in the mouth, or being put in, as at all times we have patients in our offices having work done. Then we will give you a long list of bona fide patients, well-known people of this city and state, for whom we have done work. All, we believe, will tell you that their work is satisfactory in every way; beautiful, comfortable, artistic and serviceable.

Professional Ethics

The difference between an ethical and a non-ethical dentist is this: The non-ethical dentist is willing to pay for his advertising, and the other wants his advertising to go in as a news item and he pays nothing.

Let doctors and dentists publicize their ability—if they have any. It's all human service anyway.

Alveolar Teeth Where Bridgework is Impossible.

If only your front teeth are left, say three or four or more, we can replace all those that have been lost on both sides clear back with perfect Alveolar teeth, whilst bridgework would be impossible even if you had eight or ten front teeth to the 10. If you have only two back teeth on each side, say, molars, we can supply all the front teeth that are missing with beautiful, serviceable, lifelike Alveolar teeth. This could not possibly be done by the bridge route. Suppose you have lost your last (back) teeth, two or more upper or lower on either side. We can replace them with Alveolar teeth. The bridge specialist would have to advise a partial plate, which would encumber the mouth as well as to help destroy your other teeth. Where you have lost a few teeth there are dentists who would extract all the rest to make room for a plate. (Where people have no teeth, we make plates, too, and when we do they look as if they grew there. They are scientifically and artistically built for service and comfort as well as beauty.) Even where bridgework is possible, there is no comparison between the two. A very large percentage of our work is taking out bridgework put in by supposedly high-class dentists and replacing it with the beautiful and artistic Alveolar teeth. And, unlike bridgework in another respect, it is practically painless. No boring or cutting into the gums, nothing to be dreaded. Now, then, prices being equal, which would you choose?

Curing Pyorrhea (loose teeth), a disease given up by other dentists as incurable, is another of our specialties. We cure it absolutely. It's a boastful statement to make, but we can do anything that is possible in dentistry, and what we do is always of the very highest class. Our booklets, Alveolar Dentistry, are free. Write for one if you cannot call. We have samples of our work to show at all times.

DEMOCRATIC BOSS OF KING COUNTY QUILTS

Leonard Prepares to Resign as Club President to Handle Harmon's Campaign in Washington.

DOESN'T WANT CLUB PUT IN WRONG LIGHT

P. C. Leonard, president of the King County Democratic Club, will resign to take charge of the presidential campaign of Gov. Judson Harmon in this state. Leonard will formally present his resignation at a special meeting of the club to be called this week.

"The King County Democratic Club is not presumed to take any part in factional lights nor to express any preference for any candidate for nomination," said Mr. Leonard yesterday. "So nearly as possible the club desires to work solely for party success and it would be out of place for me to remain in a position that might place the club in a wrong light."

"I want to give my time to the campaign of Governor Harmon. I do not want the club to be injured by the activity of any of its officers, so I intend to get out and work as an individual instead of a club official, as opponents of Harmon might regard me." The action of Leonard in giving up his office to support Harmon is unprecedented in local political organizations. In the past most partisans have attempted to use their club organizations in private political fights, and occasionally have succeeded.

Leonard and his friends will cooperate with the Democratic state committee in planning for a reception and entertainment to be given Gov. Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, when that statesman comes to Seattle during the third week in May.

Wilson is to be received as a Democrat and while presidential significance may be given his reception, Harmon and Folk workers will unite with the Wilson following to give the former college president a warm Democratic greeting. Leonard has been in consultation with Governor Harmon and his Eastern headquarters and is expected by Democrats in Seattle to take charge of the Harmon organization in this state. Yesterday he put cards in circulation for signers of a Harmon club. Responses are declared to have been gratifying to the Ohioan's friends.

TAYLOR ART COLLECTION NOW OFFERED FOR SALE

Paintings and Etchings Owned by Late Connoisseur and Clubman Put Up for Public to Purchase.

BEAUTIFUL PAINTINGS BY FAMOUS ARTISTS

Works of Franz Unterberger, Richet, Pezant, Breydel, Wynants and Duval Among Those on Market.

Paintings and etchings collected in an industrious and zealous lifetime by Isaac P. Taylor, financial agent, clubman and connoisseur, who died of diphtheria on December 15, last year, were placed on sale yesterday in the store of Marion Schneider, Third Avenue and Marion Street. Pictures and a large miscellany of objects of value will be sold at figures set by the appraisers for the administrator, Sherwood Gillespie.

Mr. Taylor, who was a member of an old family at the Conestoga near Philadelphia, Pa., that produced Bayard Taylor, the diplomatist and novelist, and who held a grant from Governor William Penn, had lived in this city many years. He was a patron of sport here and a member of the Arctic and Seattle Athletic Clubs.

The prize of the Taylor collection is a picture, "The Conestoga," by Franz Unterberger, an Austrian of the Nineteenth Century, who rambled over Europe studying, painting and writing in Brussels and followed the Belgian school of painters the rest of his life.

"The scene" is an old castle, situated on a rocky cliff overlooking the ocean and well into the center of the picture. A fishing party is seen on the rocky shore, and the full moon in the open space between the clouds casts a long line of pretty reflections over the rippling water. A fine, strong, whole-toned sky and a softly painted ocean serve to give form to the appealing picture.

This picture was once in the celebrated T. B. Walker collection. It found its way to Milwaukee, Wis., and occupied a position in a home of means there. Then, according to report, it was brought to Seattle by a woman of wealth, who borrowed money from Mr. Taylor and gave it as security. Thus it found its way finally into his possession, it is priced at $750 and, according to experts, would sell for at least twice that sum in a center where the collector to possess pictures was well developed.

Another notable painting in the Taylor collection is "The Conestoga," by Adolphe Marais, a French painter of the 19th century, who painted in Paris, Berchery and C. de Cook. The painting is a masterful depiction of a rural scene. The price fixed by the appraisers on this, too, is $750.

Landscapes by Richet. Among the smaller canvases are a landscape by Richet, a Pezant, a gypsy scene by Duval, a woman by Duval. There is a whole drawer full of etchings, many of them rare, and new. There is a marble bust and a Salsama bronze vase.

A bunch of the bric-a-brac has already been sold from Mr. Taylor's apartments in the Grenoble, by Miss Ruth Taylor, a sister who left for the East Friday, after a long stay in this city.

DEPUTY PROSECUTOR UNUSED TO MARRIAGE

Drifts Around From Office to Office Looking for License to Wed Girl of Choice.

Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Thomas J. L. Kennedy spent a considerable part of yesterday afternoon drifting around the office of County Auditor Otto A. Case making inquiries as to the proper procedure to obtain a marriage license. He will become a benefactor on Wednesday when he marries Miss Mary Allison Matthews at her home, 1101 East Thomas Street.

Mr. Kennedy and Miss Smith made each other's acquaintance as undergraduates at the University of Washington. She is a daughter of J. Henry Smith, who recently retired as register of the United States land office here to practice law. She graduated in the arts department of the university in 1909. Mr. Kennedy graduated in arts in 1909 and in law in 1907. He then engaged in private practice for himself until he entered the prosecuting attorney's office with John B. Murphy last January.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy will take a trip for some place they will not tell about if the wedding is held after the wedding. If it is not they will wait until it is. They will live in a house that Mr. Kennedy has already bought and furnished at Forty-fourth Avenue Southwest and Fern Street.

FIFTY JOBS AWAIT BOILER INSPECTORS

Good Positions Will Be Available According to Edict of Interstate Commerce Commission.

Fifty jobs as locomotive boiler inspector at $1,800 a year are awaiting men qualified to address and confer with railroad officials, as the result of an announcement of the Interstate Commerce Commission to divide the territory of the United States into fifty inspection districts with an inspector selected by the civil service commission in charge of each.

The announcement is made in accordance with the act of Congress approved February 17, 1911, relating to the establishment of boiler inspection districts. Herbert W. Waterbury, secretary of the eleventh civil service district, yesterday received notice of the reform about to be inaugurated by the Interstate Commerce Commission at the same time data relating to the examinations to be held to procure eligibles for the new positions.

Examinations will be held June 7 and 8 in all of the larger cities throughout the United States.

W. C. T. U. TO MEET

The Central W. C. T. U. will meet at 2 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. A. B. C. Nugent, of 1427 Orange Place and East Queen Anne.

A Talented Lecturer. Professor Alexander, who begins with a free lecture Monday evening in the old Plymouth Church, is no stranger to Seattle, having lectured here twice before and on both occasions to crowded houses. His lectures are attractive to all classes and are brimful of Irish wit. The Minneapolis Times says: "Professor Alexander is a born lecturer and would be interesting on any subject." He will no doubt be greeted by a splendid audience.

Excitement Stirred Up in City of Destiny by Action of Little Nipponese.

TACOMA, Saturday, April 29.—The discovery that a Japanese has photographed the local national guard armory from nearly every possible angle has caused something of a stir here. Deputy Prosecuting Attorney A. O. Burmeister tonight called the matter to the attention of federal authorities, but there is only a slim chance of running down the Nipponese.

The Japanese was noticed by a number of citizens, including a prominent clergyman, this morning. Some of the observers stopped and watched him take the photographs, but did not dawn on them until later that the man might have any ulterior motive.

The clergyman happened along just before the Japanese disappeared and learned that the foreigner had taken nearly a dozen views of the building. The clergyman notified Burmeister.

While guardsmen resent the act of the Japanese, they fail to see how the photographs could prove of any material benefit to the Mikado's war department.
