

IT'S A RARE GAME THAT HAS NO POST-MORTEM --- By GOLDBERG

HERE'S ONE PHENOM JOE COHN OVERLOOKED

Carbonado has turned out another Paul Strand. Charley Thomas is the name of the Carbonado pitcher and, according to J. R. Montgomery, manager of the Carbonado team, Thomas is as good, if not a better, pitcher than Strand. The 17-year-old kid Joe Cohn is going in for over and whom he maintains he has sold to the Boston Americans for the paltry sum of $5,000.

And, by the way, Strand came from Carbonado; was born and raised there, and turned out by Manager Montgomery of the Carbonado team. "Paul was born in Carbonado," said Montgomery yesterday. "He started in to play ball for my club last year and he pitched thirteen Sunday games for us, winning all of them but two. Strand and Lynch were my battery. After Paul's folks moved to South Seattle he used to come up to Carbonado every Sunday in a wagon to play for me. He only pitched two or three games for South Prairie when Spokane got him.

Thomas is just as good a pitcher as Strand. Thomas is a better hitter than Strand. He has had five home runs this year already; one of them, the longest hit up there that day. That sure was some swipe. Hawkins is catching Thomas and the two make a mighty fine battery."

Montgomery was peevish over the report given out of the game between Carbonado and the Pilfers, played last Sunday. "We didn't have our regular team," said the Carbonado manager. "Thomas didn't get any support, and, of course, we didn't win. Anyway, he didn't start the game and only went in to save the team from slaughter. When he took the box in the third inning the crowd were full and he retired the side without any score being made."

The Carbonado phenom is a southpaw.

PROF. ITO HAS EASY TIME BEATING ACTON

Professor Ito, the clever ju-jitsu expert of Seattle, demonstrated again last night that no white man around this part of the country has any business with him at that game. At the Grand Opera House last night Ito made short work of Joe Acton, an English wrestler who now lives in Everett. He won the first bout with his favorite strange hold, and Acton had to give up the second bout when Ito got his arm in a hold that meant a broken bone if he did not submit.

Acton is better than an average catch-as-catch-can wrestler and he made a good record in England. He claims to have had quite a good deal of experience at the ju-jitsu game, having performed with a Japanese in London who is higher up in the art than Ito. That was before he met Ito last night. Right now he is willing to admit that Ito has forgotten more about ju-jitsu than he will ever know.

After he found out that he could handle his man Ito gave an exhibition of a number of ways in which a good ju-jitsu man can disable an antagonist. He did not put his man away in a hurry, as he used to do, but showed a number of different holds. Ju-jitsu is really one of the most entertaining and instructive of the arts of self-defense, and if a man of Ito's ability could be secured to meet him, a bout that would be worth going miles to see would result.

Over in Japan a bout of ju-jitsu sometimes lasts for hours for the simple reason that the men are wary about taking holds, and content themselves with sparring for openings, but every white man who has met Ito here has griped with him at once, and that is water on his wheel.

The exhibition of Japanese wrestling and ju-jitsu put up by Ito's pupils was much enjoyed.

Charley Manning, the good looking sporting man of Everett, acted as referee, and the magnificent bartone voice of Chick Morris was heard to splendid advantage when he acted as announcer.

WALLA WALLA MAN MAKES FINE SCORE AT TRAPS

WALLA WALLA, Friday, May 19.—After shooting in rain and wind for three long strings with Pete O'Brien, who tied him in the twenty-second event for the individual championship medal, and competing with three other marksmen who were equally matched for the Multnomah medal of the twenty-fourth event, Fred Dryden of the local gun club carried off two out of the three trophies contested for yesterday in the Sportsmen's Association tournament. Dryden and O'Brien tied for the twenty-second event, and in the shoot-off each broke eighteen targets. They shot again, trying with 19 out of a possible 20, amid shouts and cheers from the enthused spectators. Again they shot, Dryden shooting a straight string of 20, while his opponent broke but 19.

For the Multnomah medal three marksmen tied—Trussell, Dryden and Wilson. Dryden won in the shoot-off. Then came the shoot-off for the Small's cup, contested by Chingren, Egbers and Stacy, who tied with 24 birds in the final event. Stacy went out on the first string, but Chingren and Egbers broke even with 24 pigeons each in a second run, and shot for a third time, when Chingren won, with 22, against Egbers' 22, out of a possible 25.

Leo Barkley of Seattle was high professional of the day, with 224 out of a long run of 250. Chingren was high amateur, when he broke 213 out of 250. Weather conditions are better today, but a high wind is blowing.

High School Rooters Will Invade Tacoma

In expectation of carrying away the honors of the state meet, Seattle high schools are going to send a large number of rooters to Tacoma tomorrow. Several hundred Lincoln students have signified their intention to go, and in order to have a little entertainment will take the school orchestra along with them.

The Lincoln boys expect to make a hard fight for first honors and if luck

Jack Welsh Will Referee Big Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, Friday, May 19.—Jack Welsh has been chosen to referee the Wolgast-Burns fight, which is being held at the high school on May 27. The lightweight champion is beginning his training camp at his training camp yesterday, and the hand that was broken a year ago is said to be doing very well. He is expected to do some boxing for a few days, but the hand that was broken a year ago is said to be doing very well. Tennis Team Starts For Eugene Despite Rain

Capt. Art Moncrief, George Febiger and Harry Goetz, representing the state university in tennis, left Seattle last evening for Eugene, where the racquet-ers will meet Oregon tomorrow for the interstate championship. Shortly before leaving Capt. Moncrief received a telegram from Newlands, manager of the Oregon trio, telling them not to go on account of the rains, but the Washington men decided, inasmuch as tennis is played on asphalt courts at Eugene, to make the trip as per schedule. Moncrief and Goetz will play in the singles, and Moncrief and Febiger in the doubles.

American Athletes Will Compete Abroad

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Friday, May 19.—Harvey and Kate will formally accept the challenge of Oxford and Cambridge for a set of track games to be held in London next July. The Americans will ask, however, that the games be held two weeks later than July 8, the date suggested by the Englishmen. It is not believed that this will cause any hitch in the negotiations. The main reason for urging the later date is that it is not believed that adequate transportation for the large number of athletes can be secured on the ocean liners in June.

Seattle Golfers Will Play at Portland

The Northwest Golf Association championship tournament will be held on the Waverly Links, at Portland, June 5 to 10. Several flights will be provided for the players, and the big handicap an opportunity to get into the game. The Seattle Golf and Country Club will send a representative team.

Cricket Match Saturday

Tomorrow afternoon, weather permitting, a match will take place at Woodland Park between sides chosen by the captain and vice-captain. The teams will be chosen right on the ground, so that any enthusiasm going out may figure on getting a game. Play will commence about 2 o'clock. Some of the members of the club have just received new cricket bats from the old country, and along with other material, some high scores are looked for, after the team has been in the field for so long.

Elect Track Captain Tonight

After several weeks of bickering, the State University track team will meet this evening to elect the captain for next year. Two candidates are mentioned for the honor, Frank Brokaw having withdrawn. The two athletes who will strive for the captaincy are Bradley Gish, the well-known sprinter and broad jumper, and Don Evans, high jumper and javelin thrower.

Lee Croft in Ireland

Lee Croft is in Ireland. From Multnomah County, May 19, he wrote Mike Lynch, sending him a souvenir post card.

Lee says he met Bob Armstrong, the big colored boxer who trained Jim Jeffries for a number of contests, on the streets of Dublin the other day and Armstrong told Lee he was in Ireland looking for "white home."

Croft intends to remain in Ireland until June 1, when he will return to London to attend the coronation celebration, after which he will "beat it" for Tacoma.

Flying Machines May Race

NEW YORK, Friday, May 19.—A fifty-mile airplane race for prizes totaling $10,000, designed as an actual racing test for three flying machines of as many different types, will be held in New York this summer if a suitable course can be found and the desired flyers can be obtained.

Lincoln Elects Officers

At a meeting of the Lincoln High School Athletic Association yesterday afternoon, the officers for next year were elected. A number of offices were closely contested, but on the whole the meeting was carried through very satisfactorily. The following officers were elected: President, "Bud" Young; vice-president, Chester King; treasurer, Willis Corbett; secretary, Harmon Keyes; custodian, Carl Draves; Conrad Breivick, a prominent sophomore, was elected student representative from the association-at-large.

Bat Nelson Says He Has Not Signed to Box Jack Redmond

Bat Nelson says that he has not signed to box Jack Redmond or any other boxer. Bat is going to a camp in Maine and try to get in condition.

They call "Doc" Beattie of the White Sox a fence-buster, and he looks all of that sure enough.
