EUROPE VAINLY SEEKING TO COERCE MONTENEGRO INTERNATIONAL WARSHIPS BLOCKADING ANTIVARI

View of blockading warships at Antivari, the Montenegrin port on the Adriatic, where the great powers of Europe assembled vessels in a vain effort to force the little Balkan kingdom to terminate the siege of Scutari. Manifestoes and ultimatums were delivered by the commander of the squadron, but Montenegro went ahead with its siege and, through an arrangement with Essad Pasha, the Turkish commander, occupied the town. Essad Pasha, with his army, marched out and proceeded to Albania, where he set up a claim to the kingship, backed by the bayonets of his soldiers.

BELIEVES GRAND JURY CAN FINISH WORK WITHIN FEW DAYS

Judge J. T. Ronald, who will assemble inquisitorial body, says there should be no need of long session.

COMMISSIONERS' ACTS WILL BE LOOKED INTO

Charges have been made that too much money has been spent in road work and in dock site purchase.

If the grand jury, which is to be selected from a list of seventy-five names to be drawn tomorrow morning by County Clerk W. K. Sickels, follows the admonition that will be given it by Judge J. T. Ronald, it will end its deliberations in eight or ten days. "From the matters that have come to me I cannot see why a grand jury should require more than a few days," said the court. "If jurors get their witnesses promptly they should not be in session more than one week. I shall call a grand jury tomorrow and shall so instruct them."

Under the order of the court at 11 o'clock Monday morning the county clerk will draw the names from which a grand jury of fifteen will be selected. The statute demands that the names be kept secret until those summoned are accepted and sworn.

Upon Prosecuting Attorney John F. Murphy's report of the grand jury's work, there have been charges from the Pomona Grange of Auburn that County Commissioner M. L. Hamilton has been reckless with county funds in building roads in the south district. It is also alleged that the grange of roads by machinery has not yielded the benefit that the cost warranted. Commissioner Hamilton has denied these accusations and has replied to them within the last ten days. He made the reply in a letter which he courted an investigation and fathered the bill for a grand jury session that was passed by the county board last Tuesday.

Dock Site Matter. Matters connected with the purchase of dock sites on Lake Union, involving C. E. Rensberg, port commissioner, and former Commissioner Hamilton and former Commissioner A. L. Rutherford, have been brought up by the grand jury. It is also alleged that the action of the commissioners in purchasing property on Lake Union dock sites was not businesslike. The specific charge has been made that the commissioners paid too much money for the property acquired, although both Commissioners Hamilton and Rutherford showed at the time the charges were made that the property acquired was worth more than it was appraised at by the best known and most responsible real estate experts in the city.

Charges have also been made that the grand jury session was a sinister reason, in the contract for repairing the plans for the new courthouse on the grange called on by Judge Ronald.

Murphy's position has been through all the grand jury session that he has not been placed in possession of facts that would warrant him spending the money of the taxpayers in calling a grand jury.

Last night in the last forty-eight hours I have consulted with many persons who seem to have firm faith in the reports that public money is being misused. I cannot say that I am yet convinced that a grand jury is necessary at this time. It is true that there have been given to me certain leads that will be more readily cleared up by a grand jury than perhaps by the lone investigation of this office. I would say, after all, that if a grand jury is wanted by the public let us have one and go to the bottom of all rumors. I believe with Judge Ronald, that the session should be necessarily short, if not cut short.

Bolnett, Progressive floor leader, closed the debate by saying that in the judgment of the Progressives it was the best measure that could be had.

When the roll was called and all the Democrats except Guberson swung into line in favor of it, Gates and Woodley of Los Angeles said they voted against it because they believed the bill was wrong in principle.

Permits Lending of Land. The bill as passed contained the amendment which allows aliens to lease lands for a period of three years. An attempt to amend the bill by striking out the leasing clause failed in the assembly.

Many members witnessed the closing scenes of the anti-alien drama, closing the speakers who demanded the passage of a strong law. The Japanese who witnessed the passage of the bill left the capitol plainly showing their emotion.

The bill is the most drastic ever introduced in the California Legislature. Many legislators opposed the leasing clause, charging that it would allow Color Cartoon by Martin. The red-hot jingo speech delivered by Representative Thomas Upton Sisson of Mississippi in the House of Representatives on April 28 on the California-Japanese situation raised a temporary flurry and incidentally displeased President Wilson. Sisson declared that no alien should be allowed to hold land in this country. "Before we allow any foreign nation to dictate our land-holding laws we should fight," said he. "What would Washington say were he confronted with this same proposition?" he asked, referring to the Japanese demand that California hold up its anti-alien land bills. "Shall the Japanese enjoy our prosperity, the fruits of our land and the learning of our institutions, and yet not be forced to defend and sustain them?" Sisson is a Democrat, and the President expressed displeasure with such a jingo attitude.

SUFFRAGE ADVOCATES HOLD DEMONSTRATION IN GOTHAM'S STREETS

Under blazing sun women march up Fifth Avenue, New York, to advance cause of equal rights.

THIRTY-FIVE BANDS PLAY MARTIAL AIRS

NEW YORK, Saturday, May 3.—Under a blazing sun a vast army of women, ranging from school girls to gray-haired mothers, paraded two and a half miles along Fifth Avenue today for the cause of women's suffrage. With pennants and banners flying in the brilliant sunlight, brass bands crashing out stirring martial strains, the white-clad host plodded gamely over the route. A double line of onlookers, who numbered close to half a million. No accurate estimate of the number of marchers can be made. The figures varied from 30,000, announced from suffrage headquarters, to the 9,000 admitted by the anti-suffragist organization. Owing to the shifting character of the procession it was impossible to make an actual count, but it is generally conceded that probably there were at least 15,000 actual advocates in the parade. Perfectly policed, 1,200 bluecoats, stationed lower in the rush, ten on each side, held the great crowd of onlookers in absolute order. There was but one incident to mar the occasion and serve to revive memories of the scene attending the suffrage procession at the time of the inauguration. This was when a deputy fire chief chose to drive in his automobile to a fire on lower Broadway by way of Fifth Avenue. With the siren shrieking above the blast of the brass band, the deputy chief's chauffeur drove his car at fully fifty miles an hour straight into the procession. Rank was broken as the women scurried and jumped from the way. A number of women fell, others were knocked down in the rush to escape the flying car, and the entire procession for a distance of several blocks was thrown into confusion. Marchers Quickly Reform. But this incident, which occurred from Fourteenth Street South, was unknown to hundreds of thousands of spectators farther north, and the marchers quickly formed their ranks and marched bravely and steadily up the avenue. Thirty-five bands headed the various detachments and divisions and the constant thrum of martial music lent the marchers in step with heads erect, shoulders thrown back and eyes to the front in the strictest of military form. The star of the parade was Miss

SECRETARY DANIELS' FORMAL ACCEPTANCE RECEIVED BY FOSTER

Head of Navy Department Advises Potlatch President That He Will Be Seattle's Guest July 16 to 19.

WILL PARTICIPATE IN CARNIVAL, AS DESIRED

OFFICIAL acceptance of Seattle's invitation to be the city's guest during Potlatch came yesterday from Joseph Daniels, secretary of the navy, in the form of a letter to President Walter Foster, of the Carnival Association, the text of which follows: "Dear Mr. Foster: I have your telegram in regard to the celebration of the Golden Potlatch from July 16 to 19, and will be delighted to be in Seattle on the eighteenth to participate in such portion of the carnival as may be desired. On the seventeenth, my program is to inspect the Navy Yard at Bremerton, Wash., and from there I will have to proceed to my other official inspections on the Pacific Coast. "I thank you again for your very cordial invitation, and I am looking forward with great pleasure to meeting you at that time. "Sincerely yours, "JOSEPHUS DANIELS."

TERMINAL SUCCESS DEPENDS ENTIRELY ON COMMISSIONERS

Vice-President Clair Foster of Bush Corporation Declares Kind of Men in Port Body Is Real Issue.

REFUSES TO DISCUSS EAST WATERWAY PLAN

"WHETHER your plans for the development of over-sea and rail-way terminals on Seattle's harbor will equip your city to compete with other Pacific coast ports after the opening of the Panama Canal will depend entirely on the kind and character of the men who are placed in charge. I cannot say now whether the East Waterway project is a good or bad one, but I will emphasize this, that it will offer ideal marketing advantages to settlers. Much of the land already is improved, and this will be sold immediately. It is situated close to good roads, and a boulevard trends through the south end of it. Lateral roads will be constructed this summer. Hillman has another big acreage deal pending, and as soon as it is consummated, he will leave with his wife and family for a tour of Europe. ## $1,000,000 PAID TO HILLMAN FOR TRACT NORTH OF THIS CITY

M. Bruggemann, West & Wheeler, and Ernest Carstens Participate in Seattle's Record Sale of Acreage.

SYNDICATE TO PROMOTE COLONIZATION SCHEME

SEATTLE'S record sale of acreage was closed last night when Clarence D. Hillman, for a sum approximating $1,000,000, transferred 7,500 acres of land situated sixteen miles due north of Seattle to a local syndicate composed of M. Bruggemann, of the firm of M. Bruggemann & Co., West & Wheeler and Ernest Carstens, president of the German-American Bank. The deal was negotiated for the purchasers through the office of M. Bruggemann & Co., while Hillman himself handled the selling end. A substantial deposit was paid down and the balance is due on short terms. The land is situated in Snohomish County. The syndicate, with a view to getting quick action on their money, immediately appropriated $50,000 to be used in clearing and surveying the property and laying the foundations for a big colonization scheme. Surveyors will go over the property Monday and commence laying out ten-acre tracts, part of which will be cleared and upon each of which a barn and house will be erected. These small tracts will be sold on long-term payments to settlers. Being close to Seattle, to Everett and to Snohomish, and with two railroads running through it, it is conceded that it will offer ideal marketing advantages to settlers. Much of the land already is improved, and this will be sold immediately. It is situated close to good roads, and a boulevard trends through the south end of it. Lateral roads will be constructed this summer. Hillman has another big acreage deal pending, and as soon as it is consummated, he will leave with his wife and family for a tour of Europe. ## FORMAL TEST TO BE GIVEN DAMOURETTE SERUM ON MONDAY

Committee Under Direction of Health Commissioner Crichton Selects Ten Patients at Firland.

DISCOVERER NOT PRESENT WHEN SELECTION IS MADE

DR. MARTIN DAMOURETTE, the Seattle bacteriologist, whose claims to the discovery of a serum extracted from Mexican turtles to cure tuberculosis have attracted nation-wide attention, will begin tomorrow his public treatment of ten tubercular patients at the city sanitarium under the direction of Commissioner of Health James E. Crichton and a committee of representative physicians. Following the trip made to the sanitarium at Firland yesterday afternoon by the physicians and the selection of the ten patients to be treated, Dr. Damourette declared last night that he was in readiness to begin the test and expected to accompany the committee of physicians tomorrow for the first treatment. In order to allay all fears, Dr. Damourette will first use the serum on himself before applying it to any of the city's patients. Dr. Robert Smith, who has had charge of Seattle's tubercular work under the health department, yesterday was placed in direct supervision of the experiments by Commissioner Crichton. In addition to Dr. Smith, the following physicians were named to observe the tests: Dr. Walter C. Lippincott, Dr. Eugene R. Kelley, Dr. J. P. Smith and Dr. C. A. Smith. Dr. Smith was unable to make the trip yesterday to the sanitarium, but all of the other members accompanied Dr. Smith. Damourette Satisfied. Dr. Damourette was not present at the selection of the patients and was not apprised until last night that everything was prepared for his first treatments. He immediately declared

CALIFORNIA ASSEMBLY ENACTS LAND MEASURE AS PASSED BY SENATE

Webb Bill Becomes Law by Action of Lower House of State Legislature—Now Goes to Gov. Johnson.

DEMOCRATS FOR IT UPON FINAL VOTE

SACRAMENTO, Saturday, May 3.—The anti-alien land bill, drafted by Attorney-General Webb at the direction of Governor Johnson and administration leaders, passed the assembly tonight with an overwhelming majority. Numerous attempts to change the bill were made, chief among them being an amendment offered by Chandler and Inman, which would have substituted for the senate measure the bill passed by the assembly on April 15 carrying the words "ineligible to citizenship" and the clause prohibiting the ownership of land by aliens. The amendment was defeated one after the other and at the end of a debate which lasted nearly until midnight, the roll was called on the Webb bill as it came from the Senate and it was passed by a vote of 72 to 2. Woodley and Guberson, Democrats, voted in the negative. All the other Democrats voted for it. The bill now goes to the governor. Progressives Insistent. When the assembly reconvened the debate on Chandler's amendment, which was combated with Inman's, was continued. During the dinner hour, the Progressive leaders had canvassed the situation and impressed upon their followers the necessity of voting down all amendments and passing the Senate bill if they wanted any measure passed at all. "No attempt was made to shut off debate and nearly every member insisted on being heard on some phase of the question. The debate was dull and prosaic and all who took up the floor confessed that none would make any change in the result. But they talked on and on, some occasionally getting a burst of applause from the people in the gallery and the spectators who were gathered on the main floor. It was long after 10 o'clock when the members finally made up their minds to vote on the Chandler-Inman amendment and then, when they were all ready to have the bill called, Inman slipped in a substitute to strike the leasing clause from the Webb bill. This opened up the whole subject again and all the orators went at it once more. The Inman amendment was finally lost by the vote of 14 to 556. Bohnett Closes Debate. Bohnett, Progressive floor leader, closed the debate by saying that in the judgment of the Progressives it was the best measure that could be had. When the roll was called and all the Democrats except Guberson swung into line in favor of it, Gates and Woodley of Los Angeles said they voted against it because they believed the bill was wrong in principle. that anything done by the committee was satisfactory to himself. When the committee arrived at the sanitarium, a number of patients who had been expected to be present, were absent. Several were selected and a few were accepted because of their apparent fitness for a fair test of the serum. No impossible cases were chosen nor on the other hand were cases picked that showed satisfactory results. The committee declared that it proposed to be fair in every way to Dr. Damourette, but would not give him an unfair advantage. Consequently cases well on the road to recovery were not considered. Five or six patients selected were in the second or intermediary stage and five in the advanced stage. At a later date five patients in the first stage will be chosen from a list now on file with Commissioner Crich-ton.

According to the conditions of Dr. Damourette's offer as published in The Times two weeks ago, all of the treatments will be directly supervised by the committee and the results will be kept on the results as shown by the patients. Dr. Damourette has estimated that cases cut from two weeks to six months. All of the patients must be unable to pay for their treatments.

Claims Excite Great Interest. Dr. Damourette's claim to have first discovered the serum while he was in charge of a sanitarium at Oaxaca, Mexico. His claims, together with his medals and letters, have aroused widespread interest and communications have been received from Eastern physicians inquiring as to the merits of his serum.

BRYAN MAKES LAST VAIN APPEAL TO LEGISLATORS

SACRAMENTO, Saturday, May 3.—Leaving a final plea to the California Assembly to take no action on anti-alien land legislation at the present session, Secretary of State Bryan pleaded today before the legislative members of that body before the Progressive majority to take no action on the Webb anti-alien law.

Bryan's appeal was made before the members of both the Senate and Assembly just before his train departed. It was a plea for the Webb bill long enough to hear the secretary of state's advice on the wording of the law. In conclusion he said: "President Wilson's preferences in regard to anti-alien land legislation as they have been stated to you."

On behalf of the Legislature, Senator Gates thanked Bryan and Wilson for the interest shown by the federal government in affairs which, he said, were of vital importance to the Pacific Coast.

SONS OF MILLIONAIRES LABORERS IN COAL MINES

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Saturday, May 3.—Workers in the Truesdale mine of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Co. at Nanticoke were given a surprise today when mine officials told them that Harold Vanderbilt and George F. Baker, Jr., of New York, had worked a shift in the mine as miner and laborer and had cut enough coal to load a regulation car.

Vanderbilt and Baker accompanied Vice-President E. B. Loomis on a tour of the road. They reached Nanticoke Wednesday and at 9 o'clock at night went into the mine. The young men wore the regulation outfit, overalls, blouse and a cap and lamp. They wore gloves, which are uncommon in the mining region.

Loomis was their instructor and he showed them how to cut the coal. They toiled several hours and when they had cut enough to fill a car, they loaded it, taking a few hours longer. At 2 a. m. Thursday they were through and went to the private car of Mr. Loomis, for a well-earned rest.

BURGLED LOT TWO SECOND-HAND STORES

Pinto's establishment at 56 West 24th Way was robbed of thirty watches, half a dozen revolvers, several pairs of shoes and two suit cases. The thieves entered by cutting a hole in the rear wall of the store.

The appeal of these new garments is many-sided; perhaps it lies in the oddly woven materials (some of them reminiscent of a by-gone generation), or in an unusual combining of different fabrics in the same costume; perhaps in an uncommon color
