Disaffection.

By Cable and Leased Wire.

LONDON, Monday, July 22. — A dispatch from Peking says:

Dissaffection caused by banditti is prevalent in thirty districts in the central port of the province of Chili.

The local officials are either disinchined or unable with the force at their command to suppress the troubles. Li Hung Chang, as viceroy, is too busy to attend to provincial matters. The troops sent against the banditti-showed sympathy for them, many of them having formerly been soldiers. They are better armed than the troops.

In a recent conflict a hundred soldiers and officers were killed.

San Francisco Labor Unions Get After Japanese

y Leased Wire. NEW YORK, Monday, July 22.—Some of the Japanese living in this city have been alarmed by the action recently taken been alarmed by the action recently taken by the labor unions of San Francisco, which ask the Japanese to be excluded as the Chinese are under the Genry act. The San Francisco labor unions are said to be preparing a petition to Congress. The iese here are considering the wis-of organizing to fight the plan and start a counter petition.

"Congressmen and Senators who would vote to keep the Chinese out of the United States would decide against any law that included Japanese. Our government would surely resent such a discrimination, and would pass laws in retallation which would hurt the trade of the United States in the East."

"Japan does not want to send laborers to the United States or any other country," added another consulate official. "They are needed at home to build roads and ditches and battleships, and to in the army. It is hard for one of the coolie class to leave Japan now owing to coolle class to leave Japan now owing to laws which the government has passed to keep them at home. These laws will be made even more strict in the near future, I believe. There are not many Jap-anese laborers in the United States today. Many of those who are considered laborers are really students who have to work their way while learning to do things after the American fashion. They stay here a few years and then go back home. In this the Japanese differ from

OLYMPIA, Monday, July 22—A state officer is hard to find in the capital city today, and thise few who are on hand other is man to me in the capital civit oday, and thuse few who are on hand wear a want-to-get-away expression. The reason for this is the turmoil incidental to the removal of their offices into the new state building. The entire administration is now on the move, and as the brick mason and workmen are still working in the capitol building and the elevator is not yet in place, the confusion is something tremendous. The county officers are moving into the McKenny block, formerly occupied by the state, as fast as the state officials move out, which adds to the confusion.

Traffic on Main and Fourth Streets is obstructed, owing to safes and heavy articles being lowered from the upper windows of the building at load upon the drays. In addition to this the postoffice is being moved from the basement of the capitol building into the Reed block.

HIS FATHER DEAD

James S. Goldsmith Hears the Sad News Today.

Mr. Barney Goldsmith, one of the most prominent ploneers of the Northwest, and who of late years has been interested in real estate and mines in Portland, Or., died this morning. Mr. James Goldsmith of the Schwabacher Grocery Company of this city is a son of Mr. Goldsmith, and was advised of his father's death by telephone this morning immediately after it occurred. Two other sons are also residents of this city. They are Alfred Goldsmith, with the Schwabacher Company also, and Milton Goldsmith of the Facific Coast Company. Immediately after the sad news was received the three brothers left for Portland. Louis, another son of the deceased, was in business with his father. Mr. Barney Goldsmith was probably one of the ebest known business men in the Northwest, having lived on the Coast the greater part of his life, and having taken an active interest in the development of the country.

The news of his death came as a great surprise to his three sons here, who, although they knew their father to be slightly failing in health from old age, did not expect the end so suddenly.

He will, it possible, induce them to visit Lewiston in accordance with the invitation of the Lewiston Commercial Club, and go thence down Snake River to inspect the site of the proposed improvement to the Snake and Columbato make it navigable for river steamers from Lewiston to The Dalles.

Accompanying Senator Heltfield is Mr. E. H. Libby, president of the Lewiston Commercial Club, and if the members of the committee, can be pursuaded to accompany them back to Lewiston they will be provided with a special train to Spokane and thence to Lewiston by the courtesy of the Northern Pacific and provided transportation by boat and train thence to Riparia, where the river is crossed by the railroad, and on to The Dalles, and thence to Portland. It is planned to have the ladles of the party go direct from here to Portland and then have the gentlemen join them there after going over the route of the proposed improvement.

nave the gentlemen join them there after going over the route of the proposed improvement.

"The proposed improvement of the Snake and Columbia Rivers from Lewiston to The Dalles," said Senator Heltfield, "has been examined by Captain Harts of the United States Engineer Corps, who reported favorably on it, and reported that it could be made complete to afford water navigation of the entire distance at a cost not to exceed $4.000.000. Already the river is navigable from Lewiston to Riparia for river boats and thousands of tons of fruit and grain go out that route each year. But from Riparia it is necessary to load it on cars again and haul it over the heavy grades between there and The Dalles, thence down the river to Portland. With an all-water route to the sea the expense of transporting wheat from the entire Inland Empire would be greatly reduced.

Chance Must Pay Fines.

The Chinese lottery, or "fan-tan," games must hereafter pay a regular stipend to the city, in the shape of monthly fines. Heretofore the games have been allowed to run free. Detective Jack Barck today arrested six of the leading lottery operators, representing as many companies. The trials were to have been called in the police court this afternoon but Detective Barck moved a postpone-ment, and the cases were continued until next Monday afternoon. There are still two or three companies to come under the ban of the police and which Detective Barck has secured evidence against. They are the Main Lee Company, the Chow Company and the Tallee Company, each of which have lot-tery agents in the Tenderloin. The six Tallee Company, each of which have lottery agents in the Tenderloin. The six houses raided today are those belonging, to the Lee Sang Company, the Wing Tang Company, the American Company, the Chung Lee Company and the Tai Loy Company. The men arrested were Lee Sang, Wing Tong, Tah Kee, Lee Kee, Loo Loy and Ching Lee.

Detective Barck got evidence against the companies by, securing tickets surreptitiously from their agents. He invested several dollars in tickets, which are only slips of paper, covered with queer Chinese characters. The tickets cost from 10 cents each guwards and the rewards of the lucky winners aggregate from $10$ to as many thousands.

The raid of the Chinese lottery games came as a complete surprise to the Celestials. They all say they are willing to pay the fines. One laconically remarked, 'One-pay, all pay."

FEDERAL COURT

If the petition of the Pennsylvania Mining and Improvement Company is granted by the Federal Court the Monte Cristo Railway Company will find it necessary to change the location of its track or settle with the mining company for the use of the placer beds on which the tracks are laid.
