HARRY K. THAW WAITING TO TESTIFY IN ANHUT CASE.

Harry K. Thaw took the witness stand on May 15 in the same court room in which he was convicted of the murder of Stanford White in 1906, to testify against John Nicholson and a woman known as "Ma" who were charged with the former superintendent of the Anhut Hospital for the Insane. Anhut was convicted last Friday of attempting to free Thaw by offering Dr. John Russell $2000 in cash and certain stocks worth $5,000. Thaw was returned to the hospital for the criminal insane following the giving of his testimony.

WITNESS WANTED BY COUNCIL COMMITTEE MUST GIVE EVIDENCE

E. J. Ross, former Bothell Dairyman, is placed under arrest by special police as he enters city.

MUST TELL STORY OF ALLEGED BRIBERY

E. J. ROSS, who at one time conducted a dairy at Bothell and is now proprietor of the automobile stage between Seattle and Bothell, was arrested at the city limits this morning by L. H. Love, a special policeman in the health and sanitation department, and required to furnish a bond in appearance before the department efficiency committee of the city council.

Ross is wanted by the committee to testify as to alleged statements made by himself to Mayor George F. O'Brien, in the presence of Commissioner of Health J. E. Crichton, to the effect that he had bribed certain members of the committee.

Ross promised to visit Dr. Crichton the following day and give details of the bribery, which, it is said, he admitted to the mayor he had done so he could dispose of the products of his dairy in Seattle. He did not keep the engagement, but did appear in the council chamber at a session of the department efficiency committee one afternoon two weeks ago. He was not called at that time, pleaded an engagement, and promised to return the following day.

Snyder Couldn't Find Ross.

E. C. Snyder, attorney for the men who have filed charges against the department, which are now being investigated by the committee, advised the councilmen that he had been unable to locate Ross. It was then that Corporation Counsel James E. Bradford became interested in the evidence of Ross and directed that he be arrested, with the result that Love arrested him as he entered the city this morning, driving one of his large stage automobiles, having as passengers the mayor of Bothell and a number of councilmen en route to the courthouse to discuss road improvements with the Board of County Commissioners.

The statement made by Ross to the committee is given on page two.

COMPLICATIONS MAY FOLLOW SEIZURE OF AMERICAN SCHOONER

Asserted by Capt. John Courage That Canadian Revenue Officers Threatened to Fire Upon Flag.

MATTER TAKEN UP WITH WASHINGTON OFFICIALS

THAT international complications may arise as a result of the seizure by the Canadian authorities of the Seattle fishing vessel "Valiant" of Vancouver Island last week was admitted today by local federal officials, who asserted that information presented to them by Capt. John Courage of the vessel, included a threat of the Canadian revenue officers to fire on the American flag unless Courage surrendered.

Captain Courage, following a long conference with assistant District Attorney J. J. Sullivan, Federal Marine Inspectors Blon B. Whitney and R. A. Turner and other government officials, wired Congressman Will E. Humphrey at Washington, D. C., this afternoon. At the same time, he arranged for a conference with Secretary C. B. Yandell of the New Seattle Chamber of Commerce. It was admitted that a lengthy report of the entire affair, details of which have not yet been made public, will be forwarded to the department of state tonight.

Courage's vessel is at present in Vancouver, B. C., and is being held by the Canadian authorities. According to Courage, he was placed under arrest without the slightest evidence.

His story, as related to the government officials here today, follows:

Statement of Captain Courage.

"We arrived off the north end of Vancouver Island Saturday afternoon, one week ago, to begin our fishing among the islands which lie off the mainland. Between these smaller bodies of land are channels of water varying in width, but from six to eight miles wide in the part where we intended to fish. At no time were we within three miles of shore.

"About eight miles off we set out our skates and toward evening a heavy wind sprang up, which compelled us to take in whatever fish we had at once. The glass was dropping rapidly and I needed to run for the shore and seek a place to anchor for the night. We were just fresh from Seattle and our hold was full of ice. I told the men to throw the fish unpressed into the hold on the ice, as we didn't have time to handle them before the storm.

"As soon as our preparations had been fully made, we ran in and anchored close to shore. When morning came, we proceeded out again and had run about an hour or more when our engine broke down. All hands started

GRAVES' REPRESENTATIVE FURNISHES VITAL FACTS

WASHINGTON, Monday, May 13.—Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, who is considered the Alaska representative in the Senate, this morning completely exploded the fallacy of conservation in Alaska and completely controverted the assertion of Gifford Pinchot and his press bureau that the elimination of 12,800 acres of land from the Chugack forest reserve by President Taft "was a billion-dollar steal."

Pittman proved on testimony of the forest service itself, that not only this land, but a vast proportion of other land in the reserve is absolutely worthless for the purposes for which it has been reserved and that there is no legitimate excuse for its creation or existence.

Senator Pittman further asserted that the Chugack forest reserve was illegally created by President Roosevelt. In announcing his determination to push his bill to annul the Roosevelt order of September, 1907, by which the reserve was created, Senator Pittman said:

"I am not opposed to conservation. On the contrary I am heartily in favor of it. I do not believe, however, that the locking up of national resources
