ALONG THE WATERFRO

OLD OFFICERS OF MINNESOTA BACK

When Liner Sails for Orient, February 6, She Will Be in Charge of Men Who Navigated Her for Years.

When the huge Great Northern liner Minnesota sails for the Orient February 6 after being laid up for nearly four months, all her principal officers with the exception of one will occuby their old quarters aboard the vessel. The exception is Freight Clerk J. S. Ford, who has entered the service of the Great Northern Pacific Steamship Company, which will operate the liners Great Northern and Northern Pacific to San Francisco. He will serve as freight clerk on the Great Northern. Capt. Thomas W. Garlick has resumed command of the Minnesota. Until the announcement that the Great Northern. Steamship Company had decided to recommension the Minnesota in the transpacific run, it was generally understood that Garlick also would enter the service of the Great Northern Pacific Company to take command of either the Great Northern Pacific Garlick, however, is a veteran in the transpacific service and whom the Minnesota was ordered back to her route it was a foregone conclusion that he would resume command of the great liner.

Garlick has been master of the Min-tinue as second in command, a berth he has filled for the last four years.

Engineer Back on Ship.

Chief Engineer George Allen and Purser A. George Henderson, who have made their home on the big steamship ever since she left New York, a brand new vessel. In October, 1904, also continue in their respective berths. Allen has been chief engineer since he boarded the liner in New York harbor to bring her around the Horn to Seattle. As an expert in his line, he has few equals either on the Atlantic or the Pacific. There is not a detail in the Minnesota's engine room of which he is not complete master.

Henderson began his career on the Minnesota as a member of the steward's department. He advanced rapidly and has served as purser for a long time. He is one of the most popular pursers in the transpacific route, having a big accountanceship on both sides of the ocean.

Allen and Henderson are the only members left of the Minnesota's original crowd. They rank aboard tie big ship as the "old guard."

Chief Steward W. P. Metier, who has held that berth for nearly four years, will also occupy his old quarters when the steamship pulls out from her dock next month.

Ford has been succeeded as freight clerk by W. P. Taylor, former assistthe steamship nulls out from her dock next month.

Ford has been succeeded as freight clerk by W. P. Taylor, former assistant freight clerk on the liner. Taylor left the ship a year ago after making a large number of voyages as Forms sasistant. He succeeded Ford when the latter gave up his berth on the Minnesota to tie up with the Great Northern Pacific Steamship Company. Ford went to Philadelphia several weeks ago to help prepare the new Hill liners for their approaching voyage from the shipyards in that city to the Pacific Coast via the canal.

Shifts to Smith Cove.

Shifts to Smith Cove.

The Minnesota shifted yesterday from Charleston harbor to the Great North ern Dock in Smith Cove to begin loading for her forthcoming voyage. Before leaving Charleston she took on 3,000 tons of coal sent over from Seattle in scows. She had a large quantity of coal in her bunkers when laid up and in now provided with enough for the voyage. The cost of returning the leviathan to commission is running into thousands of dollars.

The cargo will consist of lumber, canned goods, cotton, flour and general freight. The vessel's refrigerator space will be filled with fresh meat and fresh fish for Manila. Because of the high price of wheat and flour, which now places both those commodities more or less out of the reach of the Japanese and Chinese, the cargo will be of only moderate volume. Inquiries for space and rates to Vladivostok, Siberia, continue to be received in such numbers as to indicate a heavy freight movement later on to that port. Shifts to Smith Cove.

INDIANS BRING SUIT

FOR FISHING RIGHTS FOR FISHING RIGHTS

OLYMPIA. Saturday, Jan. 23.—Alleging that the government's treaty of 1855 with the Lummi Indians grants them perpetual rights to fish without license on the Jasop trap location in the Unper Sound twelve Indians of that tribe have brought suit against State Fish Commissioner L. H. Darwin, to enjoin that official from interfering with their fishing.

With their fishing.

The attorney-general's office and the superior courts have held that the superior courts have held that the starrantee of fishing and hunting rights to Indians in other treatles does not operate to allow them to fish without the licenses specified by general laws. The object of the present suit apparently is to establish a different rule in regard to the Lummi treaty, or to obtain a reversal of the general rule by carryling appeal to the supreme court.

TO REMOVE HINDRANCE TO SEATTLE SHIPPING

A serious hindrance to Seattle's shipping industries will be removed Monday if the city council approves the bill presented by the franchise committee of the council removing restrictions now enforced as to the handling of cars on the waterfront, adopted before there were any overhead crossings between Pirst and Railroad Avenue.

The present regulation prohibits the switching of cars on Railroad Avenue between Main Street and Union Street, from 7:30 to 10 o'clock a.m. and between 4:30 and 9 o'clock p. m. The new bill, which will go to the council Monday with a recommendation from the franchise committee that it pass, provides that this provision in the ordinance regulating switching shall not be effective until December 31, 1915. By allowing the free operation of cars along the waterfront for that period, the council expects to make a permanent regulation at the end of this period if such handling of cars does not interfere with other waterfront traffic. The change is sought by the railroad companies and steamship companies handled without delay. No such regulation has been enforced in Tacoma and other ports, and the transportation companies claim that Seattle has suffered as the result.

CONTRACTOR WILL NOT GET HIS CHECK BACK

GET HIS CHECK BACK

The Board of Public Works yesterday decided to take no action looking to the return to L. C. Lane of a certified check for $2,000, accompanying Lanes bid for the Improvement of Forty-fifth Avenue Northeast and other streets by grading.

Lane appeared before the board and claimed that he had made an error in his bid, in that he had not known that there were sewers included in the plans and specifications. He bid $36,672.10,
and the next lowest bid was $7.805.
The enginering department estimate of cost of the improvement was $40,295.80.
The board proceeded on the theory that,
Inasmuch as Lane has started suit to recover the amount, the court should determine whether the board should return or withhold the check to Insure the fulfillment of the contract.

DIRECTOR TAKES CARGO TO HONOLULU

Concrete Example of War's Effects on Commerce of World Given in Handling of Freight by Britisher.

Giving a concrete example of the war's effects on the commerce of the world, the steamship Director of the Harrison Direct Line, arriving here Monday evening, will steam from this port for Honolulu to discharge 3,000 tons of Europpan freight that prior to the death of the world with the prior to the death of the world with the prior of Great Britain's present mastery of the seas, her merchant marine is beginning to handle a great volume of the coesan freight traffic formerly controlled by German steamship companies.

The European cargo londed by the ginning to handle a great volume of the ocean freight traffle formerly controlled by German steamship companies.

The European cargo loaded by the Director in Europe for Honolulu forms part of a freight movement to the Hawalian Islands heretofore carried by the Suez Canal route. When the Harrison Direct Line first established its service from England to Seattle, the Hawalian Islands were included in its North Pacific route. The company, however, abandoned the island trade in 1911, and since then its steamships have been used exclusively in the Pacific Coast service.

By driving the German merchant marrine off the seas, the war has had the effect of turning the European-Hawalian business over to the British, the Harrison Direct Line being the first English company to take advantage of the change in conditions.

The Director, which arrived recently on the coast from Great Britain via the canal, will leave Vancouver, B. C., to-day to go to Nanaimo for coal. She will then steam for Seattle to discharge 400 tons of goneral European freight. For the return-voyage to the United Kingdom, she will load close to 600 tons of Jumber and salmon in Seattle.

The next vessel of the line to arrive in Seattle is the Crown of Seville, which sailed from Great Britain January 6 with general cargo.

PLAN NEW BRIDGE AT TENTH AVENUE

Finance Committee of City Council Recommends Bond Issue for $545,000 for Construction.

Submission of a bond issue of $545.000 for the construction of a bridge across the Lake Washington Canal from Eastlake Avenue to Tenth Avenue Northeast, to serve the Latona district, yesterday afternoon was recommended by a majority of the city council present at a meeting of the finance comm. Ittee. The bill providing for this submission will go to the council Monday afternoon with a divided report. The construction of a bridge at Tenth Avenue Northeast means the abandonment of Sixth Avonue Northeast as a canal crossing.

C. M. Lewis and C. G. Morrison, reported to the council on the Latona bridge project and recommended the adoption of the Sixth Avenue site in order that the waterfront property might not be disturbed and a general regrades of the East Fortieth Street district be made necessary to meet the grades of a bridge starting at Eastlake Avenue and ending about East Fortyfirst Street. This report estimated the difference in cost of the Sixth Avenue and Tenth Avenue bridges at $200,000 to $250,000 in favor of the former site. Councilman A. J. Goddard favored the construction of a temporary bridge at Sixth Avenue from the amount that traction company is bound by its franchise agreement to expend and the $80,000 included in the King County bond is use for a bridge at Lettona. By this method Goddard pointed out that a bridge that will be sufficient for many years to come can be constructed on permanent plers without the issuance of a single doilar of bonded indebtedness.

of a single dollar of bonded indebtedness, single dollar of bonded indebtedness. The authorization of a bond issue for a bridge at Tenth Avenue will carry with it a general regrade of the East Fortieth Street district to meet the new bridge level and a general change in many of the streets immediately in the control of Latona, changes that will be assessed to the district.

See the distriction of the see the second in the distriction of Latona, can be used for a bridge at Tenth Avenue can be used for a bridge at Tenth Avenue site, no tenied that it was the intention to the second of the second competitor for Fourteenth Avenue Northeast for the University business establishments.

AGAINST CHANGE IN ALIEN-LAND STATUTE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Saturday, Jan. 23.—Gov. Hiram W. Johnson placed himself squarely on record today as opposed to any amendment to the antialien land act passed by the California Legislature in 1913.

He indicated that if the Shartel bill, introduced in the assembly yesterday and eliminating the three-year leasing clause, passed the Legislature it would meet with the executive veto.
