The thirteenth division, of which he will have charge, embraces Washington, Alaska, Idaho, Montana and Oregon.

355,700 ACRES OF RESERVATION TO BE OPENED

Vast Tract of Nonirrigable Land Made Subject to Entry Under Homestead Law, Says Washington Report.

That an additional 355,700 acres of nonirrigable land in the diminished Colville Indian Reservation has been made subject to entry under the 320-acre homestead law for the general opening of the reservation, September 8, was the word received in Seattle today from Washington, D. C. According to the dispatch, Secretary F. K. Lane has officially announced the offering of the new acreage to homesteaders subject to the proclamation of President Wilson opening the reservation.
No official notification of homesteading on the Colville reservation had been received by the Seattle branch of the United States land office today.
That there is in existence a federal law providing for homesteading on 320-acre tracts, the information given by the office. The "diminished" Colville Indian Reservation is the southern half of the original reserve, the northern half of which was opened for homesteaders some years ago.
Although lacking in detail, the announcement from Washington, D. C., apparently makes the 355,700 acres of nonirrigable land, the acreage previously opened and for which registrations now are being made at Eastern Washington cities.

BIG AUTO PARADE BY NORTHERN LIFE

More Than Forty Machines in Feature of Day's Entertainment by Seattle Company of Its Employes.

Stretching from The Times office down Second Avenue to Yeeler Way, a line of more than forty automobiles filled with officers representatives and employes of the Northern Life Insurance Company of Seattle, formed an imposing parade shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. The affair was the feature of the day's entertainment by the Northern Life Company of its local and out-of-town guests attending the tenth anniversary of the founding of the company. The tour included the residential districts and the boulevards.
President Horace C. Henry marshaled the hosts in front of the home office of the company, Northern Life Building, at Fourth Avenue and Seneca Street, and he personally saw to it that the occasion of motor cars was properly decorated with the Stars and Stripes and the yellow and gold pennants of the company. Last night the Northern Life orchestra, directed by John F. Bamford, assistant to General Manager D. B. Morgan, played a musical program at the Northern Life Building, where 200 guests enjoyed the music and the dancing which followed.
Tonight 300 guests of the company will attend the Seattle Musical Festival in The Arena. The celebration will end tomorrow night with the informal banquet at the Hotel New Washington, the speakers being Dr. Henry Suzzallo, president of the University of Washington; insurance Commissioner H. O. Rishback, officers of the company and prominent business men of Seattle.

HIS STEPDAUGHTER SUES H. B. KENNEDY

Mrs. Ina Hoffman Snook Alleges He Conceals Part of Her Mother's $405,000 Estate—Asks for Records.

Charging that her stepfather, H. B. Kennedy, a wealthy Puget Sound steamboat owner, is concealing a part of her mother's $405,000 estate, of which she is sole heir, Mrs. Ina Hoffman Snook this morning asked the superior court to compel Kennedy to turn over all cash and books and to surrender all property formerly owned by her stepfather.
Mrs. Josephine Kennedy died in this city May 9, 1915, and left a will which she left to Mrs. Ina Hoffman, since Mrs. Herbert E. Snook, and named her executrix without any other beneficiaries. Mrs. Snook alleges that her stepfather has refused to surrender the estate, that he has collected and hidden all money and with the aid of a confidential agent is concealing properties in Oregon and elsewhere. She also charges that her stepfather is interested in the Navy Yard Route and the Puget Sound Navigation Company, is also charged in the complaint that Kennedy sold community stock in the Pacific Drug Company without accounting to the plaintiff. Mrs. Snook also asks $10,000 as commission for acting as executrix.

AUBURN BABE RECOVERING FROM INFANT PARALYSIS

Elizabeth Dalgity, 2 1/2 years old, daughter of J. D. Dalgity, an engineer on the Northern Pacific, is recovering satisfactorily from a mild case of infantile paralysis at her home at Auburn, according to Dr. William H. Brandt of Auburn, the attending physician. So far as known this is the only case of this disease in the state.
Dr. Brandt, as well as State Health Commissioner Thomas D. Tuttle and County Physician George H. T. Sparling, have pronounced it a sporadic case, without any of the virulent features of the disease now terrorizing New York and other Eastern cities. Dr. Brandt said today that indications are that the Dalgity child will entirely recover. One other case of infantile paralysis was reported to the state board of health this year, that of a child at Toppenish, since recovered. The records of the health department show that there were ten cases reported last year and four deaths.

Gordon yesterday, was continued to August 1, when the final arguments will be heard.
Henry J. Gorin and Jay C. Allen, attorneys representing Walter Eyres, president of the storage company, maintain that the liquor in storage was not held in violation of the prohibition law. Gorin asserted to the court yesterday that the Eyres Storage & Distributing Company formed a part of the distributing units of the transportation companies handling the shipments. Allen devoted his argument to replying to the contention of City Attorney T. J. L. Kennedy, who had said that the storage company was merely acting in the capacity of agent for an eastern distillery.

New Treatment of Wounds.
Among the hospital applications of electricity in the form is reported the sterilizing of wounds by zinc. A pad wet with zinc sulphide is placed on the wound, and, being connected to the positive pole of a battery, is said to make the surrounding tissues antiseptic by the zinc particles forced into them. The method, pronounced efficient and speedy wherever available, has a considerable disadvantage in its cost.
