

I. W. W. PLANS BLOW TO FEDERATION UNIONISTS

State Labor Commissioner Hears of Plot to Return to Lumber Camps and Let A. F. L. Stay Out in Cold.

OLYMPIA, Tuesday, Sept. 11.—Reports received by the State Department of Labor on recent lumber mill and logging camp developments indicate the prospect of employment among I. W. W. getting together through the agency of weather leaving the single weavers and timber workers who are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor out on the limb of a losing strike for the eight-hour day. The federation organizations have opposed the I. W. W. throughout the strike. An opportunity of driving the federation into a corner and at the same time strengthening its own sinews by a winter's work will not now be overlooked by the I. W. W. It is believed, by those officially interested in the state's labor situation.

Live in Jungle Camps. It is pointed out that the I. W. W. members have been able to hunker out in good weather by flocking together in "jungle" camps; federation organizations comprise the class of labor with families and small property. In addition to their grievances against federation members the I. W. W. is known to have found fresh cause of enmity against organized labor in the attitude recently taken by Samuel Conner, president of the American Federation of Labor. This position is accepted as that of open hostility to the I. W. W., and the latter, it is believed, will develop a new angle in the general labor situation by damaging the federation as much as possible as a measure of retaliation. I. W. W. leaders also figure that by monopolizing the work in mills and camps this winter they can convince federation members of the hopelessness of their methods to win over a controlling membership to the I. W. W. That this is the situation now developing, and that the timber strike will be resumed in the spring for eight hours is the opinion of State Labor Commissioner C. H. Younger, unless the government succeeds in eliminating the I. W. W. With the latter out of the way, federation unions believe they could win, while I. W. W. leaders assert that they could enforce their demands, but for the federation unions. On this account it is expected that the approaching winter, when work is scarcer and the weather bad, will see the concluding stage in the struggle of the I. W. W. for supremacy over regular organized labor units.

Abandon Direct Action. With their headquarters raided for evidence and every indication of federal surveillance and prosecution, it is known that the directing heads of the I. W. W. have for the time abandoned the doctrine of direct action.

That this prospect is disturbing to leaders of federation organizations is made plain to the State Department of Labor. The federation members present at the conference and arbitration, and to abide by contracts, the I. W. W. itinerant worker is likely to

How to Banish Wrinkles Quickly

If your face is disfigured with wrinkles, no matter what the cause, you can quickly dispel every line, even the most obstinate, by using a simple, homemade wash lotion. Merely dissolve an ounce of powdered sulfur in a half pint which has been previously dissolved in a quart of water. Wash the face with this and— presto— you scarcely believe your own eyes when you look into your mirror and behold the marvelous transformation! The remarkable astringent action of the sulfur acts on the skin, and the result is not purely temporary for the lotion also has a healthful tonic action which tends to strengthen and tone up the weakened tissue, and added benefit may be expected with continued use. Use this once a day for awhile; it cannot injure the most delicate skin. The treatment itself leaves no trace—no one guesses the secret of your increasing youthful appearance. (Advertisement.)

The New Home Treatment for Ugly, Hairy Growth

Here is a simple, yet very effective method for removing hair and fuzz from the face, neck and arms: Cover the objectionable hairs with a paste made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. Leave this on for 2 or 3 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. No pain or inconvenience attends this treatment, but results will be certain if you are sure to get real delatone. (Advertisement.)

SMALL COTERIE AT HEAD OF I. W. W. SEDITION

Government Finds Out That Chicago Headquarters Disbursed $100,000 in Operations Covering Half a Year.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Sept. 11.—Progress of the grand jury investigation at Chicago into the I. W. W., whose offices were recently raided throughout the country, indicates that revelations of a nature not previously disclosed are being brought to light. Reports to the Department of Justice from Frank K. Nebeker of Salt Lake City and Frank C. Dailey of Indianapolis who are assisting District Attorney Clynne in conducting the investigation, are to the effect, it was said today, that "satisfactory progress is being made."

Indications point more strongly than ever, it is said, to the conclusion that a small coterie of men directed the entire antiwar activities and programs throughout the country, which had as phases the destruction of property, resistance to the draft law, the spread of alleged seditious utterances through

GRAND JURY WILL PROBE M'UGH CHARGES

Charged with conspiracy to evade the selective army service law by filing false exemption claims, three Auburn men, including father and son, yesterday afternoon were held to await action by the federal grand jury, following a hearing before United States Commissioner R. W. McClelland. The defendants are James E. McHugh, his son, John E. McHugh, and James Gordon.

Young McHugh was drafted and in support of a claim for exemption from army service he and his father and Gordon filed affidavits with the local board in Auburn. The elder McHugh was dependent upon him for support. The government on the other hand, alleges that the elder McHugh owns several large farms near Auburn and is worth at least $75,000.

STATE EXEMPTION BOARD CERTIFIES 398 FOR DUTY

Three hundred ninety-eight men from Seattle and King County were certified for service in the National Army yesterday by the State Exemption Board for this district. Of this number, ninety-nine were certified from King County Division 1 and twenty-nine from King County Division 2. Seattle Division 1 contributed eight, District 2, thirty-three; District 3, twenty-three; District 10, two; District 11, forty; and District 12, eighteen men.

RAISES LIMIT

William T. Cottle, who had been granted a discharge by the state board on an industrial claim, was certified for service on an affidavit by the Ames Shipbuilding Company to the effect that Cottle is employed as a helper and not a shipfitter.

RAISES LIMIT

Discharges were denied by the state board to Sigfred A. Selgren, Division 2; Henry Armatist, Snohomish 1; Peter E. Schultz, Clallam County, and W. H. Kimman, District 6.

EDWARD H. LEE

Edward H. Lee, District 8, was granted a discharge on an industrial claim. Hazard Asakuma was granted a discharge on the grounds that he is an alien.

SECOND DRAFT TO GET ROUSING SENDOFF

Plans for the entertainment and farewell to the 800 men who will go from Seattle and King County as the second contingent of the new National Army were discussed at a joint meeting of local exemption board officials in the office of the mayor late yesterday afternoon. It was agreed that a parade that will be marked by great quantities of flowers and the presentation of basket lunches, candy, cigars and cigarettes would be the feature of the day on which the men will depart for Camp Lewis with automobiles filled with flowers, to be distributed to each district quota as it passes in review. The principal ceremonies will be at the New Washington Hotel, where gifts will be distributed. Whether there will be entertainment provided for the men the night before their departure for

MRS. SCHOENFELD DIES AT HER HOME

MRS. TESSIE SCHOENFELD. Illness of many months resulted in the death at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Tessie Schoenfeld, wife of Herman Schoenfeld, president of the Standard Furniture Company, at the family residence, 1229 Twenty-first Avenue North. For a considerable period Mrs. Schoenfeld had lived in the South in an attempt to regain her failing health. She returned to Seattle only a short time ago and her condition gradually became worse. Resident of Seattle for seventeen years, Mrs. Schoenfeld was widely known for her philanthropic work in this city and elsewhere. She was particularly interested in the Jewish settlement work. She was a member of many Jewish clubs of Seattle.

THE MORTGAGE FIRM EXPANDING

If your business is expanding, you will want to arrange a sub-fine in support of the defendants' affidavits. It also is charged that the $3,000 bond money put up by the defendants at the time of the arrest of the defendants was drawn from this alleged trust fund.

WIFE KILLS HUSBAND

CHICAGO, Tuesday, Sept. 11.—Dr. George Eisenbrand, a dentist, was shot and killed by his wife in his office today. Jealousy is given as the cause. Mrs. Eisenbrand, who was arrested, gave her maiden name as Doris Wolf and said that she was born in Nebraska.

Search of the records seized in Chicago has revealed that the Chicago office of the government officials was $100,000 between January 1 and August 1 of this year, it was announced yesterday. The government officials were informed that this money was handled by William Haywood, executive secretary.

FINANCIAL

At the hearing yesterday the elder McHugh testified that a large sum of money he has in an Auburn bank was left to him in trust for one of his sons by an old farmer named Sheehan, who died in 1905, and that he had leased his farm to the elder McHugh and also had sold them his cows.

FINANCIAL

James E. McHugh, Jr., another son, testified that he was present when Sheehan gave the money to his father and described in minute detail that transaction as a sub-fine in support of the defendants' affidavits. It also is charged that the $3,000 bond money put up by the defendants at the time of the arrest of the defendants was drawn from this alleged trust fund.

FINANCIAL

Appearing as a witness for the prosecution, W. H. Hollingshead, manager of the Boston Milk Company at Auburn, testified that McHugh regularly paid his checks between February and August of this year at an high as $300 a month. W. H. Hahn, cashier of an Auburn bank, testified to paying the elder McHugh $2,000 last May in satisfaction of a mortgage.

FINANCIAL

Other witnesses for the government included M. E. Brewer, an Auburn attorney, before whom the McHugh's made their affidavits, and Van G. Sawyer, secretary of the local exemption board. The defendants were represented at the hearing by Winter S. Martin, the government by Assistant United States Attorney Ben L. Moore. Commissioner McClelland fixed the defendants' bond at $1,000 each, which was furnished.
