

BUY A LIBERTY BOND FOR FREEDOM

God's ensign, the flag of freedom
Guides a host to war,
As of old the starry beacon
Led the wise men far;
And as they in great devotion
Gave to Him so pure,
Let's give—give—give,
So that men may live
In peace that shall endure.

Chorus:
Buy! Buy! Buy a Bond for Freedom,
Save and help your country win;
Either loan the U. S. A.
OR make up your mind to pay
Taxes laid by Kaiser Wilhelm in Berlin.

We have sent our finest manhood,
Boys we love so dearly,
Forth into a maze of horror
Worse by far than hell,
Taken from all ease and comfort,
Plunged into the fray,
They fight, fight, fight!
For their God and Right,
While we in safety stay.

We are indebted to the Everett
Rotary Club for the above.
Yours Truly,

The Chief Clerk

New Recordings by "COHEN"

Among the new recordings are two popular numbers by Joe Hayman—the comedian, who originated our friend "Cohen" Comed in and hear these—and other popular hits.

"Cohen at the Real Estate Office."
"Cohen Calls His Tailor on the Phone."
No. A2488

Two old favorites of '98—perhaps you know them—or perhaps you never heard them:
"There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," Arthur Fields and Quartette.

"Good-bye, Dolcie Gray," Hugh Donovan and Quartette.
No. A2476

Two more of those popular bedtime stories—so appreciated by the little folks:
"Peter Rabbit Plays a Joke."
"Little Joe Otter's Slippery Slide."
Thornton W. Burgess.

You can listen to all of the new recordings in our convenient Record Rooms—and we invite Talking Machine owners to open Record Accounts here at Headquarters.

Seattle Man Made Second Lieutenant

Howard B. Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Gray, 4510 Eastern Ave., has been commissioned a second lieutenant of artillery and ordered to Fort Worden.

Lieutenant Gray was graduated from the University of Washington in 1917 and enlisted in the Washington Coast Artillery. While in the regiment was on duty in Montana last winter. Gray was sent to an officers' training camp at Fort Monroe, Va.

This Is No Time to Dodge Facts

In the bottom of his heart each man knows that clothes made for his personality are the kind that render the most service for every dollar spent.

He knows that clothes which are fashioned to fit him and no one else keep their shape to the end, and that consequently in such clothes wool gives all the utility it has.

These facts are now more imperative than ever. Where self-interest formerly dictated individually tailored clothing, national interests now demand it.

In these days you can turn with confidence to a service that for eighteen years has held the trade of some of the most careful buyers in this city.

SEATTLE QUOTA 73,289 IN BOND VOLUNTEER CALL

City Expected to Do Bit in Supplying Recruits to U. S. Financial Army.

day was one of $40,000 from Balfour, Guthrie & Co.

Among the subscriptions by Seattle business men announced yesterday was $25,000 by C. D. Bowles and $5,000 by Mrs. Bowles. Bowles is president of J. F. Duthie & Co., shipbuilders.

The Canadian Woman's Club is given credit by State Chairman Swallow for the first Seattle subscription to the Third Liberty Loan. The club, which has been contributing largely to the American Red Cross and other activities, covered the honor of being the first to subscribe to the loan and held an entertainment to raise the money.

More than three weeks before the subscription opened, Mrs. Charles T. Boyd, president of the club, placed $100 in the Canadian Bank of Commerce for a bond of that denomination, the first subscription of record to be received in Seattle.

The Liberty Loan Club of the Puget Sound Traction, Light & Power Company had collected up to noon Wednesday $28,000 in subscriptions. The work was done through the office of Frank Dabney, assistant treasurer. The largest subscription ($15,000) was made by Stone & Webster through S. I. Shuffton, engineer in charge of the firm's power projects in this district. The remaining $13,000 is the total of subscriptions to Wednesday noon made by the company's employees.

Loggers Subscribe Heavily.

Jefferson County is more than half over its quota and expects to pass its allotment by Saturday night, according to A. Francis Learned of Port Townsend, chairman of the Jefferson County committee. Chairman Learned who is a native son of the county and was for twenty-two years postmaster at Port Townsend has an intimate acquaintance throughout the district. He reports the interest widespread and says the men in the logging camps will be subscribing heavily.

Nothing has stirred up the country as much as the torpedoing of the Tuscania and the dispatch of American troops direct to the firing line," he reported to Chairman Swallow of the Washington State central committee. "Everybody in Jefferson is going down the line for Third Liberty Bonds to the full extent of his ability."

E. O. Lovejoy of Coupeville, county chairman for Island County, notified

BANKS WILL NOT TAKE UP ENTIRE LOAN; SWALLOW WARNS AGAINST OVER CONFIDENCE

Warning against over-confidence was issued by State Chairman Joseph A. Swallow of the Washington State central committee for the Third Liberty Loan. He called attention to an official bulletin issued by the general executive board for the Twelfth Federal Reserve Bank district, which says:

"We urge all committees against over-confidence in the Third Liberty Loan because the amount of the loan is smaller than anticipated. Expressions have reached us to the effect that 'the banks can take the entire loan.'

"On the contrary we should proceed on the theory that, with a loan of this size, it will be possible during the three weeks campaign to place the entire amount in individual investors who will pay for the bonds by exercise of thrift and self-denial and hold them for the duration of the war.

"Bank funds should be left free for investment in United States Certificates of indebtedness. Bankers should cooperate with Liberty Loan committees to see that having the enthusiasm of the campaign the entire amount of the loan is placed with individual investors."

SEATTLE JAPANESE PLEDGE SUPPORT TO WAR LOAN

Individuals and Corporations Buying Liberty Bonds—Aid Offered in Resolution.

With one subscription of $100,000 and many others ranging from $1,000 down to $50, the Japanese residents of Seattle have pledged themselves actively to engage in the Third Liberty Loan drive. This action was taken at a meeting of the Japanese Association of America last night at the Japanese Commercial Club, Jackson Street and Maynard Avenue. Joseph A. Swallow, chairman of the Washington State Central Liberty Loan Committee addressed the meeting.

The $100,000 subscription was made by Mitsui & Co. Many firms have subscribed $1,000 and there is a long list of $50 subscriptions.

"We are going to urge every Japanese resident of Seattle who is able to do so to take at least one $50 bond," Charles Takahashi said. "We are going to appoint 20 committees to make a house to house canvass and we believe the Japanese people will have an important part in piling up a big over-subscription of Liberty Bonds in Seattle."

The following resolution was adopted last night:

Back Liberty Loan.

Whereas the government of the United States is now offering the Third Liberty Bond issue, the proceeds from which are to be used in carrying on the war against Germany; and

Whereas, we, as residents of this great country, to show that we are deeply and sincerely interested in the success of the Allied armistice for, high honor, which is one of its Allies, are deeply and sincerely interested in the success of the Third Liberty Loan drive, and in the spirit prevailing among its members who are patriotically supporting this government, we therefore do hereby resolve that we will exert our utmost efforts to sell Liberty Bonds among the Japanese residing in the Northwest and by every other effort aid and foster every influence that will tend to assist this government against our common enemy.

OREGON AND PORTLAND PASS QUOTAS IN THIRD LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE

PORTLAND, Ore., Thursday, April 11.—Oregon and Portland went "over the top" in the Third Liberty Loan drive yesterday. In telegrams sent to the state capital and national headquarters, the state campaign organization officially announced that Oregon had passed its quota of $18,450,000 and had had passed its quota of $10,050,000.

The committee claimed for Oregon the honor of being the first state to attain its quota. In the same telegram for Portland as the first city of the first class to complete its set amount. The campaign will continue, the committee announced.

A message was also received from the Flum, stating that the community had attained its quota of $55,000.

Among the large subscriptions announced yesterday were $25,000 by Carstens & Barles and $5,000 from Standard Furniture Company.

George W. Allen, campaign manager for the state of Washington, who is Northwest manager of the National Security Company of New York Temple, announced today that his firm has decided to purchase $250,000 worth of the third issue of Liberty Bonds.

Miss Alice Lord, business agent of the Waitresses' Union, who has charge of the "Ladies' Club" at the Hotel, notified George McGilivray, secretary of the industrial division, this morning that she had subscriptions totaling close to $25,000.

MORE SPEED NEEDED IF CITY IS TO GET QUOTA

Response from workers in the shipyards and other industrial plants has been beyond expectations, but Seattle, taken as a whole, is lagging in its subscriptions to the Third Liberty Loan and there must be a vast acceleration of effort if the city is to reach its maximum mark by the close of Honor Week, declared J. A. Swallow, chairman of the State Central Committee, this morning.

B. R. Lewis, president of the Clear Lake Lumber Company, telegraphed this morning that Clear Lake has quadrupled its quota already.

W. A. Williams, chairman of the Walla Walla district, telegraphed this morning as follows: "Walla Walla district has attained its quota yesterday. Every point in district oversubscribed. Usual batting average."

Cle Flum Italics Quota.

A message was also received from Cle Flum, stating that the community had attained its quota of $55,000.

Among the large subscriptions announced yesterday were $25,000 by Carstens & Barles and $5,000 from Standard Furniture Company.

George W. Allen, campaign manager for the state of Washington, who is Northwest manager of the National Security Company of New York Temple, announced today that his firm has decided to purchase $250,000 worth of the third issue of Liberty Bonds.

Queen Anne School To Honor Its Soldiers

Arrangements are now being made to honor the Queen Anne High School alumni represented by the 183 blue stars and one white star on its service flag at a reunion to be held in the Queen Anne School auditorium Saturday, April 20. An elaborate program, patriotic in character, is being arranged.

Five hundred alumni have signified their intention to be present. Immediately following the assembly and program, which is to begin promptly at 8 o'clock, a dance will be held. Arrangements have been completed whereby all Queen Anne men in service at the nearby forts, the Puget Sound Navy Yard, as well as at the Naval Training Station on the University campus, will be given liberty to attend. The proceeds from the dance are to be turned over to the men in service.

MINUTE MEN TO ORGANIZE

The Minute Men of Precinct 275 will organize at a meeting to be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Gatewood School.
