Right Clothes Beget Cheer and Confidence

Not merely being dressed in accordance with his temperament and his work, but also knowing that he is so dressed, gives a man poise.

This feeling, one of the largest elements of efficiency, was never more needful than at this hour.

Clothes made for you alone by an organization which knows—and which you know knows—are the most economical, not only because they wear longest, but also because they do the most for you every day, every week, every month.

What was true before the war is true now and will be true when peace comes again.

This photograph shows United States Marshal John M. Boyle selling 1,700 quarts of liquor at public auction yesterday from the steps of the Federal Building. The wet goods which had been confiscated by the government, were disposed of under an order of Judge Edward E. Cushman, and were sold to a San Francisco liquor firm, which will ship the liquor out of the state today. The sale netted the government $2,300. Marshal Boyle is seen holding the court order under which the sale was made. At his left, with his hat off, is Deputy Marshal W. E. Theodore, in charge of the Seattle office. Behind Marshal Boyle is Deputy Ed Williams.

POSTAL ZONES LAW AROUSES BITTER PROTESTS

NEW YORK, Thursday, May 16.—Publishers of newspapers, periodicals and men prominent in the business and political world are rapidly aligning themselves against the new postal zone law, which is scheduled to become effective July 1.

The consensus of opinion is that the law should be effective, would curtail education and information just at the time this country is passing through a new epoch-making period and when the public should above all other times be enlightened and kept in close touch with international affairs as well as with conditions at home.

A resolution was adopted unanimously by the American Newspaper Publishers' Association while in convention in New York City condemning the law as unfair and oppressive to the newspaper industry.

After the subject had been debated throughout the day orders were given to have the resolution printed and sent both by telegram and letter to every senator and representative in Washington.

"Whereas, the postal provisions of Section 1101 of the Act of Congress approved October 3, 1917, and in effect since October 3, 1917, will be unworkable in practice and will be most unfair and oppressive to the newspapers of the country and the reading public;

"Be it resolved by the American Newspaper Publishers' Association that Congress, if insisted upon legislation of this character, be urgently requested to modify said law in so far as it applies to the newspapers, along the general lines as proposed by the McKeller amendment, or if the time be considered by Congress too short to do this, that Congress be urgently requested to suspend the provisions of said law, in so far as it applies to newspapers, until a complete and intelligent investigation can be made of the subject of newspaper postage."

Following the adoption of this resolution the southern newspaper publishers, in session, and the Inland Daily Press Association, likewise adopted it as their unanimous opinion.

Clubs Should Eliminate Enemies, Says Palmer

HONOLULU, T. H., Thursday, May 16.—Should the custodian of an enemy alien property be held liable for payment of club dues and other indebtedness of enemy aliens? This is the question Richard H. Trent, Hawaii representative of the national custodian, recently put up to A. Mitchell Palmer's office and the answer was an emphatic negative, accompanied by a criticism of clubs that still retain enemy aliens on their roster. The advice he recommended is as follows:

"I should think fraternal orders and social clubs of Hawaii would strike from their list enemy aliens instead of seeking payment for their dues."

AMERICAN AIRMEN IN FRANCE PRINT PAPER

WASHINGTON, Thursday, May 16.—There is almost no trace of the horrors of war in Plane News, a newspaper edited and printed by soldiers of the American Expeditionary Force in France. The war anniversary issue, dated "On Active Service, April 6, 1918," just received here, tells of minstrels and vaudeville, symphony concerts and literary contests, and the little every-day complaints of the men of the Aviation Corps.

For those Americans back home who grow weary in well doing, the newspaper is one grand tonic of optimism. Stretching across the top of the first page of the paper's four pages is the paraphrase of Secretary Rodfield's famous letter to his bureau chiefs:

"Forget how things were done before the war. Eliminate red tape. We must learn with the Germans that the war won't wait. Delay is the Kaiser's ally."

Proud of Accomplishments.
The corps is proud of what has been accomplished in the first year of war. Prominence is given in the paper to an official communication from Brig. Gen. B. D. Foulois, chief of the air service, to Lieut. Col. Walter G. Kliner, commanding officer of the post, saying that the progress made has met with high approval from both Secretary
