

DESIGNS OWN DRESS FOR NINETY-THIRD BIRTHDAY
Mrs. Potter, Nonagenarian, is Life of Party
KANSAS CLUB'S OLDEST MEMBER

Seventy-five of Her Friends and Relatives Are Present to Do Her Honor.

IN LOVE WITH SOUND

WHEN a woman loses interest in the "latest styles" she's ready for the grave, according to Mrs. Fannie Potter, who, after carefully looking over the latest things in fashion magazines, designed her own gown for her 93rd birthday party celebration last Thursday.

—Photo by Webster & Stevens, Times Staff Photographers.

woman's first duty is to keep in style," said Mrs. Potter, who is immensely proud of her mother. "She reads all the latest things concerning woman's dress and no new idea escapes her."

Whether the Japanese dairymen who sell the milk of 5,000 cows in the Seattle market are to become members of the King County Dairy-men's Association is one of the questions which is delaying completion of the organization, according to Homer Dietrich, organization manager for the United Dairy Association of Washington.

Whether the Japanese dairymen who sell the milk of 5,000 cows in the Seattle market are to become members of the King County Dairy-men's Association is one of the questions which is delaying completion of the organization, according to Homer Dietrich, organization manager for the United Dairy Association of Washington.

Whether the Japanese dairymen who sell the milk of 5,000 cows in the Seattle market are to become members of the King County Dairy-men's Association is one of the questions which is delaying completion of the organization, according to Homer Dietrich, organization manager for the United Dairy Association of Washington.

Whether the Japanese dairymen who sell the milk of 5,000 cows in the Seattle market are to become members of the King County Dairy-men's Association is one of the questions which is delaying completion of the organization, according to Homer Dietrich, organization manager for the United Dairy Association of Washington.

Whether the Japanese dairymen who sell the milk of 5,000 cows in the Seattle market are to become members of the King County Dairy-men's Association is one of the questions which is delaying completion of the organization, according to Homer Dietrich, organization manager for the United Dairy Association of Washington.

Whether the Japanese dairymen who sell the milk of 5,000 cows in the Seattle market are to become members of the King County Dairy-men's Association is one of the questions which is delaying completion of the organization, according to Homer Dietrich, organization manager for the United Dairy Association of Washington.

Whether the Japanese dairymen who sell the milk of 5,000 cows in the Seattle market are to become members of the King County Dairy-men's Association is one of the questions which is delaying completion of the organization, according to Homer Dietrich, organization manager for the United Dairy Association of Washington.

$10,000,000 CROP
Figures on Yakima Reservation Yield Revised by Irrigation Engineer.

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES.
YAKIMA, Saturday, Oct. 4.—L. M. Holt, chief engineer of the Yakima Indian Irrigation Service, in his re-vised crop estimate for the season, places the returns to the reservation at $10,000,000. Other crops than alfalfa are placed at $3,000,000; alfalfa, $3,300,000; fruit, $1,700,000; potatoes, $1,200,000; wheat, $1,000,000, which with the rentals for fall pastures, will no doubt exceed the estimated total.

KILLED BY TRAIN
Body of Unidentified Man
Found in Northern Pacific
Yards at Argo.

The body of an unidentified man was found at the side of the Northern Pacific railroad tracks near Argo yesterday afternoon. A fractured skull indicated the man had been struck by a passing train. The man was dressed in rough clothes and was apparently about 60 years of age.

Wounded Hunter
Is Lost in Woods

OLYMPIA, Saturday, Oct. 4.—Up to a late hour this evening no report has been received of the finding of Melvin Wasson, age 17, who was ac- cidentally shot Thursday night in the Black Hills, twenty miles west of Olympia. He was accompanied by Paul Brown and Earl Fouts, also of Olympia, one of whom remained with him after the shooting, while the other went for help.

SALVATION ARMY
DRIVE TOMORROW
Officers of Elks and Organization Ready to Start
Campaign With Rush.

With the stimulating news that Washington and Oregon are going "over the top" in the Salvation Army drive the Elks and Salvation Army officials are set to open the Seattle drive tomorrow morning with a rush. Official reports of the success of the drive in Oregon and Washington were slow in coming in, but enough districts have reported to show that the drive will be most successful.

MINERS TO END STRIKE

SPOKANE, Saturday, Oct. 4.—At a district meeting tomorrow of dele-gates representing all local districts of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union of the Coeur d'Alene, formal action is expected to be taken ending the strike in the district.

ELIMINATES BAD CURVE

CENTRALIA, Saturday, Oct. 4.—When the new bridge which is being erected over the Chehalis River at Centralia is completed, it will elimi-nate one of the worst corners in the Ocean Beach Highway. The opening of the new bridge also will bring about the vacation of a section of one of the oldest established highways in the county. The new bridge crosses the river at an angle, with long, clear approaches. The east approach to the present structure is made around a sharp curve and until this curve is made the bridge is hidden from any approaching traffic by a huge stump and a small building. The section to be vacated is between the present approach and the point where the new bridge will intersect the highway on the east side of the Chehalis River.

FRASER-PATERSON CO.
SECOND AVENUE AND UNIVERSITY STREET

Wooltex

Coat Week

—Tomorrow is the opening day of a nation-wide observance, by merchants who feature them, of special displays of Wooltex Coats—garments of national recognition for superiority. For this occasion in Seattle, we announce our readiness with special showings of wraps of most distinctive character.

THE name "Wooltex" is associated in meaning with "that well-dressed look"—that something about a faultless appearance so easy to distinguish but so impossible to analyze. That perfect style and that expression of high quality so apparent in the Wooltex are achieved by the perfect tailoring of superior fabrics. Each garment attains the newest lines in a way distinctly individual by merit of quality fabrics and splendid workmanship, and it retains its graceful lines and exclusive "good looks" through the stress of wear.

—From Tweed Mixtures to luxurious Peach Bloom, and from $45.00 to $250.00 is the range of our comprehensive displays of the Wooltex.

—Third Floor.

Sweaters Elite

AND now let someone invent a new and fitting name for the beautiful silk and wool conceits that add so distinct a touch of charm to feminine costuming.

—In the early days of the "sweater" you remember it was a coarse, almost "rough-neck" affair and the name was significant; but it is not, to be sure, for the delightful affairs of which we speak.

Three of the Very New Arrivals:

- A silk with a novel modified Tuxedo and new very narrow and very long string ties that hang down the back. In novelty new plaids; plain colors in brown, new rose, black, purple and white. Pure silk, $47.50.
- A smart Richelieu rib, woven in very decided stripes, novelty knit collar and cuffs. Fine for a full figure. In taupe and black. Priced at $45.00.
- An imported mohair, in fancy block weave with Dutch collar and one-button fastener. Colors, reindeer, turquoise and geranium. $19.50.

—Sweaters, Second Floor.

Girlish Apparel

IF the miss be a little girl, a big girl or a middle-sized girl—plump or slender, tall or short, if it be correct apparel for herself she would seek, The Smart Shop for Misses beckons for her to come.

Youthful Dresses

—The kinds for "dress-up"—with the inimitable charm of the youthful. Patterned as skillfully as full-grown gowns of high style pretensions, our selection of Misses' garments is representative of the season's exclusive style features. Individuality is their mark of distinction. Prices $20.00 to $45.00.

—The School Dresses most popular.—The Jack Tar togs of national reputation for style and quality, designed in the middy styles and modified Peter Thompsons. School Dresses of high quality and simple tailored neatness. Prices $11.50 to $35.00.

Youthful Coats

—A new shipment has just completed an assortment of extreme interest. Broadcloths, velvets, velour and novelty mixtures are the materials, and the styles and colors are the younger miss. From the plainer tailored models through the varying stages of bandings and braid and button trims to the richly finished they range. Sizes 6 to 18 years. Prices $15.00 to $45.00.

—Misses' Department, Third Floor.

Be Assured of

Sewing Machine Satisfaction

CHOOSE from a complete stock of the latest type sewing machines manufactured, the Eldredge Two-Spool.

—This machine conforms with the modern time-and-labor-saving movement through its new and important patented features, chief among which is the bobbin-eliminating two-spool device. The satisfaction of the Eldredge is positively fully guaranteed, and without abuse it lasts a lifetime.

—Your old machine will be taken as full payment.

—Sewing Machines, Second Floor.

Adjustable Dress Forms

—A wonderful aid to your dress-making. A form on which you may drape, plan and fit garments with perfect ease and see, without straining before a glass, exactly how they will fit and look upon yourself.

—Dress Forms, Second Floor.

—The best service and the best glasses obtainable.

—J. W. Edmunds, Opt. D., in charge. —On Our Balcony.

High Quality Lamps

in a Special Sale

THE finest display we have yet made, and the greatest values we have ever offered. Each lamp is individually artistic.

—The showing is mostly of handsome Pedestal Lamps; however, there are many beautiful Table Lamps in a variety of ornate styles. In the entire collection there are no two alike.

—There are many designs of pedestals, handsome and gracefully formed, in both solid mahogany and mahogany finish. The silk shades are in strikingly different designs and shapes and color combinations, with fringes of silk and chenille and beautiful braid trimmings.

—All fitted complete and extraordinary values at the special prices as follows

$27.50 to $60

—The Gift Room, Second Floor.

Mesh Bags

Beautiful As the Finest Costume Could Covet

—Of silver and gold mesh, in shapes and styles unique and beautiful in the extreme. The prices of the silver mesh, $9.00 to $27.50. Of the gold mesh, from $27.50 to $42.50.

—The model sketched is elaborate in finest metallic lace and fringe; handle clasps with sapphire sets and a very long metal braided rope chain. In gold, $37.50.

—Hand Bags, First Floor.

What's What and Where

A PEEP through Fashion's Portals reveals a profusion of laces in rare and gorgeous patterns.

—As threads from the spider's spinning.

Its delicate tracery winning. As shadows of trees on grass. That through sunny places pass, So old in precious grace Is woman's treasure—lace!"

—With sprinklings of gleaming metals amid rich appliques of embroidered colors, the charm everlasting of Laces now beckons—and all womanhood its summons answers.

IN the world of Fashion, as in all the rest of the world, great is the demand for gold. But as of yore, "All is not gold that glitters."

—Just now style guides are pointing to gold thread tapestry brocades for Winter.

—With style that stuns even the least sensitive, a certain Hand Bag is fashioned of a pattern of this brocade that looks exactly like that old "tidy" that hung on the high back chair in "the room" out at grandmothers. And the lining looks like that sacred brocade satin relic that Aunt Lib wore when she first met Uncle Tobias.

THERE is a Hat, too, that looks like the self same material, but the supreme style of it is looking toward the future rather than the past. It is a tam shape with a sidelong slant and an ornamental pin of pointed beauty.

FOR Wraps of smartest distinction, Wooltex, as ever, but with even a greater than ever charm, is leading. "Its distance lends enchantment to the view," but 'tis a close-up that reveals the extraordinary merit of Wooltex quality and tailoring.

AMONG the newest and most elaborate of furs is a glossy black lynx collar in the animal shape, but newer and narrower. There are the head and paws and the beautiful natural tail—and, indeed, if this tail have a moral, it is this: "To shut off buying so elegant a fur for $135.00 is to procrastinate enjoyment."

FRASER-PATERSON CO.

Warm Bedding

AT this time of year, when each succeeding week makes more apparent the increasing chilliness of the night air, our thoughts turn to warmer bedding.

—Our bedding section is prepared to assist in the selection of dependable blankets and comforts.

—We mention only a few of the items to demonstrate that quality combines with a very reasonable cost.

Gray Blankets
—Of medium dark gray wool and cotton mixture that will give splendid service. Size 66x80 inches. Blue and pink borders. Priced at $7.50 the pair.

Plaid Blankets
—Of wool and cotton mixture; a quality that will wear well and give a maximum of warmth. Large block plaids, in pink only. Size 66x80 inches. Specially priced at $6.95 the pair.

Plaid Blankets
—Serviceable Cotton Plaid Blankets, very soft and warm, in medium dark serviceable colors. Size 66x80 inches. A special value at $4.45 the pair.

Plaid Blankets
—Cotton Plaids, wool finished; very soft and warm. The small block plaids are in soft colors of pink and blue. Size 66x80 inches. Specially priced at $3.45 the pair.

Wool Filled Comforts
—These Comforts are pure wool filled and covered with a good quality silk-line in serviceable colors. This is a very special value at $10.00 each.

—Domestic, Second Floor.