

SHERIFF'S SALVO ON POSSE!

NIGHT EXTRA

CALL MAIN 300
For Information Desired

The Seattle Daily Times

WHISTLE SIGNALS FOR INTERNATIONAL YACHT RACES

Three long blasts—Resolute wins cup.
Four short blasts—Shamrock wins cup.

22 Pages. SEATTLE, WASHINGTON, TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 27, 1920. Price, 5 Cents.

RESOLUTE LEADS; LITTLE HOPE OF FINISHING; ALIEN LABOR PROPOSAL STIRS CONTROVERSY; DAY OFF FOR POLICEMEN ASSURED IN BUDGET

EDITORIAL

WEST SEATTLE PROJECT WILL HELP TRAFFIC.

A BAD TRAFFIC situation will be relieved by the filling and paving of West Spokane Street from the west approach of the bridge to a connection with existing paving on Harbor Avenue.

The old trestle was in as bad shape as the companion stretch on West Spokane from the east approach of the bridge to Whatcom until replaced by the present concrete highway.

The asphalt covering had been cut to pieces and had been patched with short pieces of plank, many of which had been torn loose by passing wheels.

This trestle now is being wrecked, traffic being detoured over a temporary roadway. The street is to be filled and paved and will be open to traffic in about two months.

Completion of this improvement will take care of traffic until the new bridge, work on which is to start next year, has been completed.

ANOTHER NEEDED IMPROVEMENT.

AN equally unsatisfactory traffic situation exists on Pine and Stewart Streets, from First Avenue to Pike Place.

Some way should be found to divorce this work from the projected First Avenue improvement.

Numbers of vehicles use both these planked thoroughfares to reach the level of the central shopping district from congested Pike Place.

A relatively small amount expended on the paving of these short stretches would be of great benefit to a large and steadily increasing traffic.

Japanese Ask for Fire Investigation

SAN FRANCISCO, Tuesday, July 27.—The Japanese foreign office has asked for a complete investigation of the fire which destroyed a number of Japanese business establishments in Marysville, Cal., Wednesday, July 21. T. Ohta, Japanese consul-general here announced today.

THE WEATHER - By "DOK" HAGER

Tonight and Wednesday, fair; moderate northeasterly winds.

TEMPERATURE AT NOON TODAY, 75.

Temperature last twenty-four hours: Maximum, 77; minimum, 55. Relative humidity at noon today, 43 per cent. Today's sunrise, 4:39 a. m. Today's sunset, 7:52 p. m.

TIDES AT SEATTLE TOMORROW.

First high water 1:55 a. m., 3.8 ft. Second high water 4:45 p. m., 10.3 ft. First low water 9:17 a. m., -0.1 ft. Second low water 9:57 p. m., 6.9 ft.

Special Features The Times Today

W. W. Jermaine tells of destruction of Washington's salmon and need of action at once to save industry. Page 1
James B. Connelly ridicules making sport of yacht races under present rules. Page 3
Arthur F. Aldridge says Resolute, winner of Shamrock and Captain Adams showed the better judgment. Page 3
Frank H. Smeets declares Resolute is being sacrificed on the altar of British selfishness. Page 9
David Lawrence says both Republicans and Democrats are handicapped in efforts to obtain government confirmation by the Russian people of the soviet's proposal for a conference with the Allies. Page 22
"The Mystery of the Summer" by Harry Benson. Page 6

Soviet Must Pay Old Debts First, Says Millerand

PARIS, Tuesday, July 27.—Premier Millerand, accompanied by Marshal Foch, Frederic Francois-Marsal, minister of finance, and Philippe Berthelot, political director of the foreign office, left this morning for Boulogne, where he will discuss with Premier Lloyd George, the Russian soviet proposal for a conference with the Allies.

It is reported that Premier Millerand in the question, gave as preliminary conditions to entering negotiations with the soviet international engagements of former Russian governments and confirmation by the Russian people of the soviet's authority.

The probability is also expressed that M. Millerand will refuse to agree to the Russian note for the surrender of General Wrangel, the anti-Bolshevist leader in Southern Russia, and that he will ask the United States to participate in the London conference if it is held.

Germans Strip Franco-Polish Munition Train

COBLENZ, Tuesday, July 27.—(By Associated Press.)—A Polish supply train of 13 cars bearing arms and munitions for France, with five Polish and one French officer aboard, which left the American area Saturday evening, was held up by German police near Coblenz, Sunday afternoon. The German railway men and the train crews refused to convey them and they returned to Coblenz tonight.

Although the train consisted of 45 cars, it was loaded with supplies for Poland and supplies for the American legation and the American relief committee in Warsaw. The supply cars were in charge of American soldiers and were not disturbed.

The German railway men and the train crews refused to convey them and they returned to Coblenz tonight.

Electric Heat for Houses at $9 per Month Discovered

WINNIPEG, Man., Tuesday, July 27.—Sufficient power can be obtained from Winnipeg River to heat every house in the city for $9 a month, under 40 below zero weather conditions, Professor J. W. Dorsey stated today. Professor Dorsey developed a plan, details of which have been patented, for electrically heating houses at a cost of $9 a month.

In a few days he will leave for Washington, where he has been called to consult with the United States Bureau of Standards regarding the application of his discovery.

4 Dead, 4 Injured In Magazine Blast

KEMMERER, Wyo., Tuesday, July 27.—Four men and four women were probably fatally injured in an explosion of a powder magazine at Sublet No. 6 mine of the Kemmerer Coal Company, 12 miles north of Kemmerer, yesterday. The man in charge of the magazine was instantly killed. The German and a Japanese miner being taken to a hospital at Kemmerer. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

Bolt Hits T. N. T.; Death in Wake

DURANGO, Colo., Tuesday, July 27.—Durango's dead and four injured were killed yesterday afternoon when lightning prematurely exploded a charge of T. N. T. which he was placing at the Lime Creek camp on the Durango-Silverton Highway.

Harry Bowen of Arden, N. M., was passing with a string of pack mules. He and his train were blown off the trail and several mules killed. Bowen escaped with cuts and bruises.

WANTS MILLION JAPANESE TO AID STATE FARMERS

Frank Terrace, Pioneer of Orillia, Starts Fireworks at Hearing Before Congressional Committee.

PEONAGE SYSTEM, SAY MEMBERS OF BOARD

Texan Declares White River Valley Man Is Advocating System of Slavery When He Makes Such Proposal.

ADMISSION of 1,000,000 Japanese to be employed in clearing logged-off lands in Oregon and Washington, then returned to their homes in the Orient, urged upon the House committee on immigration and naturalization at its hearing in the Federal Building this morning by Frank Terrace, a pioneer farmer of Orillia, precipitated a lively tilt between the White River farmer and Representative John C. Box of Texas.

The action was taken by the committee notwithstanding the fact that Mayor Hugh M. Caldwell appeared at the hearing in support of Terrace's request for 61 men in addition to the present force, declaring that the city is over-policed and that the one day off duty in eight schedule for the department will result in a reduction of the number of patrolmen on duty at any one time.

COUNCILMEN TO GRANT PLEA OF PEACE OFFICERS

Chief Searing's Estimate Reduced $85,000, Thus Allowing Only Twenty Men More Instead of 61 Asked.

CALDWELL EXPLAINS TO CITY'S LEGISLATORS

Discussion Results in Making Temporary Appointments Permanent, So Force Is Increased After All.

MEMBERS of the Seattle Police Department were assured of one day off in every eight, and Chief W. Searing's estimate of the expense of the department for the next year was cut by about $85,000, when the budget committee of the City Council this morning allowed the addition of 20 patrolmen to the present police force, instead of the 61 asked for to permit the one day off schedule.

The additional 20 will bring the personnel of the police force during the year 1921 up to 377 men.

The action was taken by the committee notwithstanding the fact that Mayor Hugh M. Caldwell appeared at the hearing in support of Terrace's request for 61 men in addition to the present force, declaring that the city is over-policed and that the one day off duty in eight schedule for the department will result in a reduction of the number of patrolmen on duty at any one time.

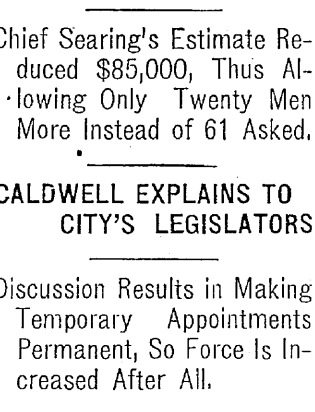

Business Men Going to School Uncle Sam to Teach 'Em Tricks

Feat of Figuring Income Tax Statements Will Be Explained at Night Classes Run by Chief William T. Beeks.

SCHOOL days will open next September for other members of the family than the children who began their summer vacations last June—taxpayers. Uncle Sam's requirements for the preparation of income tax statements, considered by William T. Beeks, division chief for the Bureau of Internal Revenue, are put in effect. Insistent demands for a night school, for instruction in the intricacies of income tax questions, have led Chief Beeks to decide on opening classes next September 1, if the enrollment promised is fulfilled.

Attorneys at law, bankers and real estate men, bookkeepers for large commercial concerns and persons desiring to become professional ad-

WINS IN BEAUTY CONTEST

Miss Gertrude Olmstead. Miss Gertrude Olmstead of La Salle, Ill., was proclaimed the winner of the Elks, Chicago, beauty contest and was immediately signed by the 'movies.' She is considered by judges of beauty to be one of the most beautiful girls in the United States.

STATE MUST ACT TO SAVE SALMON, SAYS OBSERVER

Mr. Jermaine's Dispatch. Capital City Bureau, The Seattle Times, 905-6 Colorado Building.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, July 27.—Before leaving the Pacific Northwest I had an opportunity to spend several days with L. H. Darrington, Washington state fish commissioner, cruising among the San Juan Islands and neighboring waters. It was my first look at the salmon in his native haunts, and I was impressed with the completeness of the work of destruction that in comparatively few years has ruined a great industry and well nigh destroyed one of the country's great natural resources.

Millions of money invested in the fishing business is bringing in little or no return, towns and large settlements have hidden prosperously a long time ago, and while here and there signs of activity exist, it is an old that they are weak imitations of what was going on up to a few years ago.

What I saw was but one phase of the conflict that has been going on from the beginning in North America between civilization and the wilderness. It is doubtful whether it can be entirely stopped. Certainly it cannot be unless legislative bodies are willing to assume a degree of authority much greater than they yet have been willing to exercise.

Up to Legislators.

The Washington State Legislature, if it does the expected thing next winter, can save something from the wreck, and by intelligent cooperation with British Columbia, adopt a policy that in the course of years will make salmon fishing in Puget Sound profitable. It had an opportunity to do this at its last session.

If let alone, the American people will see the American people have scored a complete failure thus far. Our ruthless destruction of our forests, scale make salmon fishing in Puget Sound profitable. It had an opportunity to do this at its last session.

COOLIDGE GIVES VIEWS IN SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

Rescue From Reactions of War Described as Transcendent Need of Nation in Address at Ceremony.

Ceremony at Smith College.

The scene of the notification was Allen Field, a large auditorium at Smith College, a natural amphitheatre. A platform large enough to accommodate only the speakers and a few distinguished guests was erected at one end of the field and on the grassy slopes before it the great assemblage stood.

Governor Coolidge heard from Gov. Edwin P. Morrow of Kentucky the formal announcement of his nomination "by the spontaneous wish" of the party.

Discussing economic relations, Governor Coolidge declared the extravagant standards of government expenditure bred of recent years must be eliminated and a revision of taxation be accompanied by a reduction of private extravagance. He urged that the public mind be directed to the prompt and reasonable adjustment of industrial disputes. The President to the Senate met with enlarged power of organization whereby the original producer may reap a larger degree of the high prices paid for his produce by the ultimate consumer and at the same time decrease the cost of food.

Opposes Wilson League.

The nominee said equal suffrage is coming; that relief from distress is the right of the men who served in the war, and urged greater recognition of the rights of negroes.

The proposed League of Nations, without reservations as submitted by the President to the Senate met with opposition from Republican senators, said Governor Coolidge. "Our party approves the principle of agreement among nations to preserve peace and pledges itself to the making of such an agreement, preserving American independence and rights, as (Continued on Page Twenty-two.)

BLOODHOUND TO FOLLOW HOT TRAIL

One of the men who escaped, Albert Lindgren, was captured yesterday near Cayuse Station. He made no resistance and was lodged here in the county jail. The other five fugitives, it was reported last night had been located by Taylor along Mackay Creek, 12 miles southeast of Pendleton. A telephone message from Sheriff Taylor, chief of police at Woodburn and former state agent, was reported by the sheriff's office at Woodburn that he had been seen five men in the county jail. He declined attempts to investigate the report.

WOODBURN BLOODHOUNDS TAKE UP INDIANS' TRAIL

SALEM, Ore., Tuesday, July 27.—A telegram from Pendleton authorized Governor Olcott last night requested that bloodhounds from the state penitentiary be sent to assist in the hunt of the slayers of Sheriff Taylor. No dogs were now owned by the state. W. R. Taylor, chief of police at Woodburn and former state agent, was reported by the sheriff's office at Woodburn that he had been seen five men in the county jail. He declined attempts to investigate the report.

Los Angeles Has New Earthquake

LOS ANGELES, Tuesday, July 27.—A slight earthquake shock was felt here at 12:02 a. m.

The shock rattled windows in downtown buildings and awakened prisoners in the county jail, who immediately set up a howl to be reassured. Reports from various parts of the city, however, show that no damage was done.

Nome Flyers Hop Off for Edmonton

SASKATOON, Sask., Tuesday, July 27.—The four United States Army aviators, who are making an experimental flight from Nome, Alaska, across Western Canada, hopped off for Edmonton at 10 o'clock this morning.

BANK CLEARINGS

Clearings	SEATTLE
Balances	$5,238,601.27
.....	1,529,515.19
.....	Portland
Clearings	$4,887,323.00
Balances	599,864.00
.....	Spokane
Clearings	$1,260,444.00
Balances	273,077.00
.....	Tacoma
Clearings	$ 89,564.00
Balances	67,843.00

Japanese Testify At Local Hearing

American-Born Youth Tells Committee That He Does Not Recognize Any Claim Mikado May Have on Him.

JAPANESE residents of Seattle gave the testimonial at a local hearing before the congressional committee on immigration last night. Altogether, it was a matter of 17 years ago, and the information is of the utmost importance in the present matter. The witnesses, who included a number of the American-born youth of Japanese descent, testified that they do not recognize any claim of Mikado or other Japanese monarch that they might have on him.

The list of Japanese witnesses ran from D. Matsumi, manager for the Puget Sound Hotel, to J. Sakamoto, president of the North American Japanese Association, who presented a well-informed and concise statement and statistical report, through the school group of Japanese born in Port Blakely and included one university graduate, Miss Y. W. C. A. work at Oakland and one who was active since her graduation last year in teaching newly-arrived Japanese women the American customs.

Sakamoto Is American.
James Sakamoto, a 17-year-old brother of the Y. W. C. A. worker, who was born in the United States, but whose parents are Japanese, testified that he had been in the public schools for five years, and then he tried to give me this two hours overtime, and there wasn't any time and a half pay for it. I guess I'd get it if I'd gone to the school. Besides, I'm an American, and what that school got to do with it?

Representative Isaac Siegel tried to make Sakamoto understand that he had reached the age of 17 years of age, and whether he would recognize the Japanese emperor could claim him as a man of age and the New York congress was waiting to know whether Sakamoto would recognize the Japanese claim. But young Sakamoto insisted that he was an American, and that he would not recognize any claim of Mikado.

Representative John E. Raker wanted to know why he was not better educated. He was justly understood. Representative John E. Raker wanted to know why he was not better educated. He was justly understood.

"Well, see here," protested Jimmy Sakamoto in a hurt tone. "You see I'm like the other boys who go to the public schools for five years, and then they tried to give me this two hours overtime, and there wasn't any time and a half pay for it. I guess I'd get it if I'd gone to the school. Besides, I'm an American, and what that school got to do with it?"

Representative Isaac Siegel tried to make Sakamoto understand that he had reached the age of 17 years of age, and whether he would recognize the Japanese emperor could claim him as a man of age and the New York congress was waiting to know whether Sakamoto would recognize the Japanese claim.

"Don't you know that I'm an American?" he protested. "I was born in the United States, and I go to the public schools. I don't want to go to a Japanese school. I'm not interested in it."

Representative Isaac Siegel tried to make Sakamoto understand that he had reached the age of 17 years of age, and whether he would recognize the Japanese emperor could claim him as a man of age and the New York congress was waiting to know whether Sakamoto would recognize the Japanese claim.

Representative Isaac Siegel tried to make Sakamoto understand that he had reached the age of 17 years of age, and whether he would recognize the Japanese emperor could claim him as a man of age and the New York congress was waiting to know whether Sakamoto would recognize the Japanese claim.

Representative Isaac Siegel tried to make Sakamoto understand that he had reached the age of 17 years of age, and whether he would recognize the Japanese emperor could claim him as a man of age and the New York congress was waiting to know whether Sakamoto would recognize the Japanese claim.

Representative Isaac Siegel tried to make Sakamoto understand that he had reached the age of 17 years of age, and whether he would recognize the Japanese emperor could claim him as a man of age and the New York congress was waiting to know whether Sakamoto would recognize the Japanese claim.

Representative Isaac Siegel tried to make Sakamoto understand that he had reached the age of 17 years of age, and whether he would recognize the Japanese emperor could claim him as a man of age and the New York congress was waiting to know whether Sakamoto would recognize the Japanese claim.

Representative Isaac Siegel tried to make Sakamoto understand that he had reached the age of 17 years of age, and whether he would recognize the Japanese emperor could claim him as a man of age and the New York congress was waiting to know whether Sakamoto would recognize the Japanese claim.

Representative Isaac Siegel tried to make Sakamoto understand that he had reached the age of 17 years of age, and whether he would recognize the Japanese emperor could claim him as a man of age and the New York congress was waiting to know whether Sakamoto would recognize the Japanese claim.

JAPANESE WITH HEARTS IN AMERICA

They are not only working in the mines and in the fields, but they are also starting to own property, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States.

They are not only working in the mines and in the fields, but they are also starting to own property, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States.

They are not only working in the mines and in the fields, but they are also starting to own property, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States.

They are not only working in the mines and in the fields, but they are also starting to own property, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States.

They are not only working in the mines and in the fields, but they are also starting to own property, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States.

They are not only working in the mines and in the fields, but they are also starting to own property, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States.

They are not only working in the mines and in the fields, but they are also starting to own property, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States.

They are not only working in the mines and in the fields, but they are also starting to own property, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States.

They are not only working in the mines and in the fields, but they are also starting to own property, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States.

They are not only working in the mines and in the fields, but they are also starting to own property, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States.

They are not only working in the mines and in the fields, but they are also starting to own property, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States.

They are not only working in the mines and in the fields, but they are also starting to own property, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States.

They are not only working in the mines and in the fields, but they are also starting to own property, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States.

They are not only working in the mines and in the fields, but they are also starting to own property, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States.

They are not only working in the mines and in the fields, but they are also starting to own property, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States.

They are not only working in the mines and in the fields, but they are also starting to own property, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States.

They are not only working in the mines and in the fields, but they are also starting to own property, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States. The Japanese are being assimilated into the American way of life, and many of them are beginning to feel a sense of ownership in the United States.

Photographs by Webster & Stevens, Times Staff Photographers.
Witnesses Before Congressional Committee.

We'll Suit Your Vision and Your Vanity

We not only serve you with correct glasses that your vision needs, but we also have the latest in eye beautifying styles. Some folks look better in bifocals, others find that they need a correction in the style that makes them good looking.

C. H. LAW
Optometrist and Manufacturing Optician, with
L. W. SUTER
Jeweler and Optician
1115 Second Avenue

that influenza might strike following such heavy examinations, as he told his fears were not well founded.

Seattle is our northern gateway; our country must look across the Pacific. I have come into close contact with men in the intelligence department, and they tell me that Siberia, Japan and China are great markets for us and here we can make our way. Trade is there if we will go after it. As far as Japan and other countries are concerned, the more we know about them, the better we can help them and keep our reputation as a nation which believes in fair play.

Representative John C. Raker of California commended the anti-immigration bill which bears the name of Representative Albert Johnson and which passed the last session and also commended the state on having John F. Miller as a representative who makes no distinction between the state and their council often sought. He said the bill would be passed by the House and called the attention to the fact that the Pacific Coast is far from a seat of government, that agitation was necessary to attract attention.

He recalled hearing a federal passport agent at a hearing conducted by the congressional subcommittee how the Chinese passport demand to know whether the applicant would pay the "grease money" before the passport was issued.

Matthews deprecated the efforts of different localities or states to settle the Japanese or any other race in this country. He urged that since attention had been directed to the Japanese question the work law as an immigration and call the ministers' attention to the fact that the Pacific Coast is far from a seat of government, that agitation was necessary to attract attention.

He objected that it is a state question, and that it should be decided by the national government. He said that the committee has considered transferring jurisdiction over immigration to the state of California, and that the department of the secretary of state, Dr. Matthews agreed the plan to transfer to the state of California, Dr. Matthews said the states, with their police power, ought to be able to prevent the Japanese or any other class from colonizing in any one spot and becoming a menace. He deprecated any state or local government's attempt to restrict the entry of any class of foreigners and then persecute them.

ALIEN LABOR PROPOSAL STIRS U. S. HEARING

(Continued From Page One.)
themselves were not entitled to naturalization.

The Seattle Industrial Union condemning the amendment to the federal constitution introduced by Senator McClellan designed to prevent Orientals from becoming citizens, denouncing the measure as a violation of the principle of the naturalization of all races and urging pastors to warn their congregations of the proposed law. The amendment was presented by the Rev. R. H. Asawall.

Frank W. Hull testified that the Japanese colonization practice degraded adjoining territory. He said that the Japanese had 250 Seattle marketing permits while 415 were issued to black races, and that the Japanese in the country lived in hovels and were uneducated.

U. S. Attorney Testifies.
United States District Attorney R. C. Saunders testified that during the past year 32 Japanese had been convicted in Tacoma for operating illicit stills.

The congressional committee suspended the hearings shortly before noon today and then left for the city of Tacoma. At 2 o'clock this afternoon, spend the night at Paradise Inn and return in time for the morning session at 10 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. It is planned to hear the secretary of the Veterans' Club, the Growers' Association Wednesday afternoon and listen to testimony indicating that Japanese have been growing American fruit raisers along the Coast. The committee also is anxious to hear C. H. Matthews' testimony.

Seattle hearings will be resumed at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. Samuel H. Hedges, president of the Chamber and the board of trustees.

Representative Albert Johnson, chairman of the committee, said there was urgent need for legislation which would bring about the exclusion of the immigrant and said the migration question had many new angles, and he urged that the committee should look to the future. "We want it possible for the excluded classes to come in without any trouble and want them treated as Americans would like to be treated abroad," he said. "We hope to treat them as such, but if they are not admitted on probation and to extend time for probation to take the American citizenship in Americanization. We hope that these men can become citizens without restriction. The committee will take the necessary steps in New York now it is necessary to bring the bill up in the House. All Italians raise hands and be sworn to great has been the rush."

Illit Diastileries.
Mr. Saunders, United States attorney in Tacoma, testified that the Tacoma Diastileries were closed on May 15, 1918, when he took office, and May 1, 1920, 32 Japanese were arrested for operating stills, three being convicted of attempting to bribe custom officers as a bribe.

He said the figures had been compiled at the request of the Japanese prohibition labor helped him in other ways to suppress crime, offering interpreters and it was helping the government to get the truth it sought.

He remarked that the Japanese prohibition became effective, took to distilling of rice "with great interest," but the rice salar was watched tight raising.

List your homes for rent with our free rental department.

save $20— on this gas range—

$57.50
regular price $77.50

only a few left in this lot and these will go quickly at the special reduced price; large 16x20-inch oven; white porcelain splash bar, waste pan, drip pan and doors; 3 regular star drilled burners, and one simmerer; 12x20-inch broiler; regular price $77.50; special for the week, $57.50.

THIRD FLOOR

$31— saving on this complete Playerphone outfit

Brings it to $97.50

—outfit consists of: Player-phone as pictured $105—
Six record albums 12—
1,000 needles 1—
Cleaning brush for records 50
20 selections on 10 double-faced $1— records 10—
your choice 10—

$128.50
—regular price for week $ 97.50
—saving you $31—

PAY ONLY $7— A MONTH

"SEATTLE" "TACOMA"
SECOND AT PINE L. SCHOENFELD & SONS
Your Credit is Good
ESTABLISHED 1864

Bandit Seeking CAN'T TEMPT THE CHIEF

Big Jewel Cache offer of a Quart a Day Fails to Deter Officer.

NANAIMO, B. C., Tuesday, July 27.—Vancouver Island is aroused over a hunt for a bandit supposed to be the notorious George Van Horst, life convict who escaped some time ago from the Washington penitentiary. When convicted of killing a Japanese it was said that Van Horst had a cache of 30,000 worth of stolen diamonds on Vancouver Island. The fugitive, who has been on the run for some time, has eluded his pursuers on several occasions by clever ruses.

The chief is now looking for the writer and is watching for bootlegging establishments.

Test for Milk.
A Minnesota chemist's instrument for testing the purity of milk is shown on the fact that milk has one freezing point and water another.

PHILADELPHIA, Tuesday, July 27.—Navy officers and two day coaches of the Western Express on the Pennsylvania Railroad were delayed for 24 hours in Lancaster, Pa., last night. No reports of casualties were received.

ESTABLISHED 1900

A Clothes Event for You

Men who have always wanted the best in clothes will find in our Summer Clearance the opportunity to satisfy their clothes ambitions.

Suits made of the finest wools, with the well-known excellence of Stone the Tailor workmanship, may now be purchased for the markedly low price of

$85

Such a clothes occasion makes immediate buying an economical necessity.

Glance at the attractive displays in our windows.

Stone the Tailor

1206-1208 Second Avenue
(Adjoining Savoy Hotel)