BELLINGHAM IS CUT OFF GIRL DROWNS IN RIVER

Nooksack, Skagit and Other Streams Overflow. Northern Pacific and Great Northern Train Service Is Suspended.

By Associated Press. BELLINGHAM, Monday, Dec. 12.—The Nooksack and Skagit rivers, as well as numerous smaller streams, are out of their banks in places as a result of almost continuous rainfall since Saturday night.

The water was a foot deep in the streets of Everson, on the Nooksack last night, and had entered some of the stores, but had fallen about three feet this morning.

The Skagit River broke through the dike at Riverside, two miles above Mount Vernon, during the night. A large crew of men worked most of the night on the dike...
