KILKENNY INVADDED BY IRREGULARS AND SKIRMISH REPORTED

KILKENNY, Ireland, Tuesday, May 2.—(By Associated Press.)—Large bodies of Irish Republican army irregulars invaded the city this forenoon and occupied all the strategic points. They took over a number of buildings, including the city hall, the bank of Ireland, St. Canice's Cathedral, Kilkenny Castle and the workhouse.

The regulars at the military barracks at once began displaying great activity and a portion of the irregulars at Greenbridge surrendered to them after a brief exchange of shots.

chets in the county, is voting on two school directors, one for three years and one for one year.

Twenty-six precincts along the Duwamish River will elect a Duwamish Waterway commissioner for a three-year term.

Seattle's King County, comprising the Port of Seattle, will choose a commissioner to succeed Dr. W. T. Christensen.

Women Urged to Vote Early.

Election officials estimate that 65 per cent of the voting is done after work hours and for that reason urged the women and those engaged in vocations near their homes to vote before the evening rush starts at 5 o'clock. In this way they say crowding and delay will be eliminated at the polls.

Every city precinct opened on time this morning, Auditor Ferguson reported, although the officials at an East Madison Street polling place became nervous at 7 o'clock when the proprietor of a drug store housing the voting machine and supplies failed to appear.

At that time the auditor could investigate another call came that everything was all right and voting began in that precinct at 8 o'clock. This was the only instance where there was a semblance of delay.

Little trouble with the machines was experienced and there was none at all that could be straightened out over the telephone, so the mechanics took it easy at the courthouse this morning.

Machines Working Well.

The auditor received the smallest number of calls this morning of any election since voting machines were first used, Mr. Ferguson said.

All election officials, whether in the city or country, have been instructed to telephone the results as soon as the totals are taken from the machines.

In this way Auditor Ferguson believes that by 9 o'clock or shortly thereafter the general result on the most important offices will be known, as well as that on Proposition A, the Erickson initiative ordinance.

In one Queen Anne Hill district, Precinct 110, at Third Avenue West and West Galer Street, sixty-two had voted up to 11 o'clock, as against thirty-three up to the same hour at the primary election. The registration at this precinct is 300 and it was typical two weeks ago of precincts throughout the city which reported a 10 per cent vote recorded up to the hour before noon. Today shows this had mounted to 20 per cent of the total registration.

Precinct 126, at 10th Avenue North and Miller Street, of the North Broadway district, reported sixty-eight voted up to 11 o'clock, or almost twice as many as at the primaries. Many who had not voted two weeks ago were observed among the morning visitors to the polling place.

The Stockade Hotel, Alki, Precinct No. 238, polling place reported thirty-five at the primaries and sixty during the first three hours of today's election.

Voting Appears Heavy.

Precinct No. 256, at the Dunlap School, Rainier Valley, had polled eighty votes up to 11 o'clock, or more than twice as many as at the primaries. The election officials here believed fully 50 per cent of the registration of 426 would be cast today, as against about 50 per cent at the primaries.

Precinct No. 236, at the Beacon Hill pharmacy, had voted 63 as against 45 for the same period two weeks ago. Georgetown Police Station polling place for Precinct No. 233 reported a vote of 35 out of 252 registered. The vote was 25 during the first three hours the polls were open at the primaries.

Men voters outnumbered the women in Precinct 1, 549 17th Ave. N. E. in the morning balloting. The total number of votes cast up to 11 o'clock was 35 out of a registration of 326, or about a 75 per cent more than voted in the three hour period in the primary election.

About the same proportion of the registration, 75 out of 341, had voted in Precinct 25, 4357 Ninth Ave. E. also in the university district. Fifteen voters cast their ballots in rapid succession when the polls opened and then there was a lull, with the voting picking up again about 10 o'clock.

Precinct 50, 14th Avenue Northwest and West 75th Street, the Whitaker School, scored a big gain over its primary vote. Sixty-two votes had been cast by 11:30 out of a registration of 341, compared with 33 votes in the primary election.

A number of voters who did not participate in the primary election were among the seventy-seven who cast their ballots in Precinct 75, 715 Woodland Park Ave., this morning. The vote was about 75 per cent heavier than in the primary two weeks ago. The registration in this precinct is 356.

Seventy-three persons, nearly a third of the registration, and many more than visited the polls before noon on primary day, voted in Precinct 143, 2618 E. Madison St. This was another precinct to have new voters on the list.

One of the downtown precincts, No. 174, Third Avenue and Stewart Street, reported 63 votes cast out of a registration of 301, about 60 per cent greater than for the same period in the primaries.

Candidates Keep to Platforms.

Both mayoralty candidates kept on the platform last night as long as the audience lasted, which was after 11 o'clock. Senator Landon doing all of his speaking north of the canal and Dr. Brown addressing voters in the Broadway, Capitol Hill and Madison Park districts and in the Oak Theatre downtown.

Large and enthusiastic crowds greeted Senator Landon in Carpenters' Hall, Fremont; Little's Hall, University; in the Bungalow Church, North Third Street and Eagles' Avenue; the Green Lake branch library and in Eagles' Hall, Ballard. At no place could the room accommodate the number of voters and scores stood about the entrances for an opportunity to see and speak to the candidate.

Forced into these impromptu receptions after each speech, Senator Landon got so far behind that he abandoned his schedule and the meetings at Madison Park and in the Oak Theatre.

When Senator Landon arrived at 11:30 at the Renton Hill Clubhouse, where he was billed for a dinner and a dance was in progress. The dancers had just completed a straw ballot which resulted in a big Landon victory and the candidate was tumultuously received. He was so husky and weary, however, that he begged off from speaking and after a few words of informal greeting went to his home.

Promises to Enforce Laws.

In his speeches last night Senator Landon told his audiences that he stood for the enforcement of laws while his opponent was being supported by bankers and professional lobbyists.

On the other, the senator reiterated his determination, if elected, to enforce all laws and ordinances while his opponent favored setting them aside or disregarding them.

If he can say in a speech last night below Vesler Way, said Senator Landon, that if elected mayor he would abolish all quarantine and set at naught other health ordinances.

He did that to catch the vote there. Today in addressing an audience of automobile men in the Broadway district he held himself out as the super champion of all health laws and took time to task for voting against a bill that would have permitted examination and treatment of your children on suspicion that they had been exposed to an infectious disease. That is the way he has been playing for
