FORD'S POWER PLANT OFFER IS LOSING GROUND

Original Bid for Muscle Shoals Does Not Look Nearly So Good as It Did Two or Three Years Ago.

EAST MAY BE LINKED INTO ELECTRIC SYSTEM

Engineers Believe That Hydro-Electrical Energy to Be Developed Will Supply Large Area.

SENATE COMMITTEE TO RECONSIDER ITS VOTE ON FORD'S BID

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Monday, May 26.—Reconsidering its previous action the Senate agriculture committee today decided to take another vote on the Ford Muscle Shoals bid which it rejected last Wednesday, as well as on the Norris bill for government operation of the property.

Mr. Jernam's Dispatch

Capital City Bureau, The Seattle Times, 905-6 Colorado Building. WASHINGTON, Monday, May 26.—The Muscle Shoals bid of Henry Ford, which looked so good two or three years ago, has been losing ground steadily since the super power idea got possession of the minds of many people throughout the East. As that idea expanded, the offer of Mr. Ford lost ground, and for a number of months it has been apparent to many people that Congress would not accept it. The Ford bid itself has not been changed, but there has been an important change of the thought of eastern people respecting the development of water power for commercial, industrial, agricultural and other uses.

About a year ago, a group of prominent civil engineers in this part of the country outlined a plan whereby it would be possible comparatively small cost, to unite the East into a series of power units, great central power houses to be erected, and the current to be transmitted as needed for long distances over the country extending from Northern New England and New York down through Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey, Maryland and Virginia to the Gulf region, and as far west as the lower part of the Mississippi River.

Muscle Shoals, on which the government already has spent tens of millions of dollars, and on which other millions are still being spent, for the completion of the great dams, would be an important part of the super-power scheme. It would mean the carrying of electrical energy through the lower reaches of the Appalachian Mountains, not only to the cities and larger towns, but to the rural districts as well. With Muscle Shoals out of it, the scheme could not be carried out on the scale that has been proposed.

Secretary Hoover has endorsed the super-power idea, and said it could be worked out easily, and that the economies and added conveniences that would result would amply justify the estimated cost. That is the underlying reason for the reluctance of Congress to accept the Ford bid; all others are subordinate to it. The spreading of power over the wide spaces of the East has been made possible through recent im-

MARTIN IN CITY, BLAMES MIRAGE FOR AIR CRASH

Commander of Around-the-World Flight, Who Met Disaster in Subarctic, En Route to Washington.

ARRIVING at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon at the King Street railroad station, Maj. Frederick L. Martin again set foot in Seattle; after the crash in Alaska on April 30, of the flagplane of the United States Army's around-the-world flight which began here April 6, greeted by Army Air Service officers and others, Major Martin was escorted to a hotel where he will remain until tomorrow, then proceed to Washington, D. C.

Major Martin told his friends here of the circumstances of the crash of the plane, which he attributed to a mirage. This mirage, he said, made it appear that the sea lay ahead of his plane, but that he became convinced that he was following a phantom shore line and turned his plane, only to crash into a mountainside and disaster which was followed by a fight of ten days against exposure and starvation.

MARTIN AND HARVEY TELL OF DISASTER IN FOG

By a Staff Correspondent. BELLINGHAM, Monday, May 26.—Arriving in the United States yesterday, Maj. Frederick L. Martin, commander of the United States Army's around-the-world flight, and Staff Sgt. Alva L. Harvey, his mechanic, told of being lured by a mirage while flying over a small land portage on the Alaska Peninsula to disaster on the side of a rugged mountain peak, and then while working their way back to civilization by another mirage which enticed them still deeper into the mountains.

NEED FOR NEW GENERAL LAW CAUSED ACTION

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Monday, May 26.—The conference tax bill, passed Saturday by the Senate, was approved today by the House by vote of 376 to 9.

The nine negative votes were cast by Representatives Egan, Merritt and Tilton of Connecticut; Hill of Maryland; McFadden and Phillips of Pennsylvania; Mills and Wainwright of New York; and Moores of Indiana, all Republicans.

Providing reduction of taxes for almost every federal taxpayer, the measure now goes to President Coolidge. It carries a 35 per cent reduction in income taxes payable this year, permanent revision downward of the income rates, repeal or lowering of most of the miscellaneous and excise taxes, and a 25 per cent reduction on earned incomes of $10,000 and under.

Although some doubt exists as to President Coolidge's attitude, in view of Treasury Department opposition to the provision for limited publicity of tax returns and an increase in estate taxes, Republican leaders in both the Senate and House joined the solid Democratic line-up in support of the measure.

The brief debate developed considerable opposition in the Republican ranks to the proposal for even limited publicity in return and several announced if the measure were vetoed they would vote to sustain the action.

Concern over the extent of reduction authorized has been diminished apparently by the announcement by Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, that the latest version of the bill will raise sufficient revenue to take care of all government expenses and of the new bonus will leave a surplus of about $2,000,000.

Although some of the administrative changes recommended by Secretary Hoover are incorporated in the bill, his suggestions on the form of tax reduction were rejected almost in their entirety.

The income schedule now in the bill calls for reductions in the present normal taxes to 2 per cent on incomes under $4,000; to 4 per cent on incomes between $4,000 and $8,000; and to 6 per cent on incomes of $8,000 and over. The present maximum surtax rate is 50 per cent on incomes of $200,000 and over.

The bill provides further for a 25 per cent reduction on taxes payable this year. Administration spokesmen declare that if President Coolidge vetoes the bill and it falls of reproposal, this provision will be incorporated in a separate resolution and pressed for immediate action.

ENDS OWN LIFE BY GAS

APOLOGIZES TO LANDLADY OF RENTED ROOM.

Body of C. L. Hallenbeck Found—Woman Fails in Attempt to Kill Herself.

A man committed suicide over the weak-end by asphyxiation; Mrs. Helen Jones, 37 years old, 125 Westlake N. is in the City Hospital as a result of drinking poison in a suicide attempt. She will recover.

The man, C. L. Hallenbeck, 50 years old, 5256 Rainier Ave., was found dead in the clothes closet of a rented room at 215 Clay St. yesterday. Cracks in the door of the closet had been closed with putty and a rubber tube run under the door from a light jet in the room.

On a table was found a note to the landlady of the establishment apologizing to her for causing her trouble and asking that she notify the coroner and the Moose Lodge. A postscript to the note stated that he had made a will and put it in the care of Alex Campbell, State Hotel.

W. E. Lecky, secretary of the Loyal Order of Moose, told the deputy coroners that on Saturday he received a letter from Hallenbeck stating that he intended to take his life. He was unable to find Hallenbeck, Mr. Lecky said, after receiving the letter. Mrs. Jones was found in her room by E. Thomas, 341 John St. She was taken to the City Hospital, where she told hospital attendants that she was dependent over a separation from her husband about three weeks ago. She lost her courage, she said, before she had drunk enough of the poison to cause fatal results.

2 Killed as Train Hits Auto Picnickers Hurlled 60 Feet

Two were killed and one injured when the automobile in which they were returning from a picnic was struck by a Milwaukee train between Maple Valley and Renton at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The photographs show: (Upper left) Charlotte Lagullier, 27 years old, daughter of Mrs. Adele Teodato, injured and in Renton hospital. (Upper right) Mrs. Teodato, 50 years old, instantly killed. apart by the heavy dynamite blast the night before. Pat Murphy made a dash into the telephone building to rescue Miss Marie Fisher, and was overcome by smoke but was dragged out. The young woman had left the building some minutes before.

WHEN an eastbound Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train crashed into their automobile at Cavanaugh's crossing, between Maple Valley and Renton, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Peter Teodato, 54 years old, 437 W. 16th St., an interior decorating contractor, and his wife, Mrs. Adele Teodato, 50 years old, were killed instantly. Charlotte Lagullier, 27 years old, daughter of Mrs. Teodato, injured and in Renton hospital. (Upper right) Mrs. Teodato and stepdaughter, of Teodato, who was riding in the automobile with them, was taken to a Renton hospital with injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Teodato with Miss Lagullier had been on a picnic at Fred Cavanaugh's place with Leon Stirel, 4060 22nd Ave. S. W., and several other friends. Shortly before the picnicers were ready to break camp and return to their homes, Miss Lagullier fell into the water. Wrapping her in robes, the Teodatos bundled her into her own motor car and in advance of the others started back to Seattle.

Leads Across Tracks. The road from the camp to the highway led across the railroad tracks where the train struck the machine and carried it for more than sixty feet. Mrs. Teodato, who was in the front seat of the car with her husband, was instantly killed. Teodato lived less than half an hour. Miss Lagullier was alone in the back seat of the car. Although badly cut and bruised about the face and body, she is not believed to be seriously injured.

Three persons, one a city fireman, were injured and a motor car and a fire truck were virtually wrecked in a collision at Boren Avenue and Seneca Street yesterday afternoon. The fire truck, headed west on Seneca Street, was crossing the tracks at Fourth Avenue and Main Street when the coupe, driven by Mrs. L. A. Sayer, 1220 Boren Ave., who was accompanied by her husband going north on Boren Avenue, collided with the truck.

The two occupants of the coupe and Fireman J. L. Williams were taken to the City Hospital by Patrolmen E. F. Reynolds and G. W. Christy, who were following the fire truck down Seneca Street. Mrs. Sayer sustained a cut over the eye. Mr. Sayer was wounded and Williams an injured back. Although both the reports of the patrolmen and the fireman stated that both the siren and bell were being sounded on the fire truck, the report made by Mrs. Sayer indicated that she did not hear it approaching. Mrs. R. P. Pickins, 174 23rd Ave., was badly cut and bruised yesterday afternoon when the automobile driven by her husband was struck at 23rd Avenue and Boston Street by an automobile driven by John May, 17 years old, residing at the Young Men's Christian Association.

TWO DRUNKEN DRIVERS HELD; WHISKEY FOUND

Charles Jacobson, 38 years old, and John Johnson, 25, were arrested yesterday and last night on charges of driving automobiles while intoxicated. George Haugen, 34 years old, who was in Johnson's car at the time of his arrest, was arrested on a charge of being drunk. Johnson and Haugen were arrested by Patrolmen E. C. Sewley and J. B. Clark at Maynard Avenue and Dearborn Street, after a collision at Sixth Avenue and Dearborn Street with a car driven by Fred Gill, 2602 Clairmont Ave. Gill in his report said that the pair refused to stop after the accident, and were pursued by A. S. Stussler, who overtook the car and stopping it, held the men until the arrival of the police. Part of a bottle of moonshine whiskey was found in Johnson's car at the time of

JAPANESE EX-SERVICE MEN PROTEST EXCLUSION BILL

By Associated Press. TOKYO, Monday, May 26.—Ten thousand Japanese former reservists took part today in an anticolonial demonstration at the national military shrine here and adopted a resolution asking reservists of the entire country to unite for the "sake of their Fatherland." "In view of the nature of the American-Japanese situation," the resolution added, "the Tokyo Association of Reservists declares the determination to fulfill at a moment's call the duties of its members as military men." Shinkichi Uyesugi, noted nationalist publicist, in an address to the reservists, declared it no longer was possible to reach a satisfactory compromise with America on immigration. "If history teaches us anything," he continued, "an eventual collision between Japan and America on the Pacific is inevitable." Another speaker, Lieut. Gen. Bunjiro Horinouchi, one of the heroes of the Tsingtao campaign, told the ex-service men: "We must be determined to undergo whatever hardships are necessary in exchanging the insult which America has done our country."
