THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD

RECOVER

Wall Street Prices Open With Upward Tendency, but Fall.

Pressure on Pennsylvania Carries the General List Down.

NEW YORK, Wednesday, March 9.
Opening prices of stocks today showed some recovery from yesterday's closing weakness, but the gains were small and the volume of business was insignificant. Brooklyn Transit moved up a point. The advance, however, was soon lost, on a resumption of yesterday's selling of Pennsylvania and a few unimportant stocks.

The pressure on Pennsylvania was a drag-on the market and prices were held down. The whole market was trivial and uninteresting.

Bonds were steady at noon.

The market was released from pressure after midday, but showed no disposition to recover.

Scarcely any transactions were made even in the usually most active stocks and the market was as nearly lifeless as it could be. American Beet Sugar sold at 21, compared with 27 last July.

Prices receded to the lowest of the day in the final hour. People's Gas lost 14 and Jeansas City Southern preferred and National Railroad of Mexico, second preferred a point. National Lead preferred rose 14. The close was steady but lifeless.

Best Eggs Are Selling for Nineteen Cents a Dozen.

Carload of Exceptionally Fine Celery Reaches Western Avenue.

While there is not anything particularly startling to tell about the markets this morning, nevertheless they are in a mighty healthy condition and trade is fine and brisk. The only change to quote is that eggs are going for 19 cents flat and there is no relief in sight. If that callfornia boat slips over the waves this afternoon and the Washington consignments are as heavy as expected, then look out for a broken egg market tomorrow. It is swaying pretty badly now, but will probably keep up until tomorrow.

Good Celery Arrives.

but, will probably keep up until tomorrow.

Good Gelery Arrives.

Some of the best celery of the season came in this morning a big carload of it. This celery was shipped from Los Angeles just after the rains, and consequently has retained all its strength. The bunches are the largest that have been seen on West Street this winter, although there is no change in price. Celery runs all the way from five dozen to eight and a half dozen bunches per crate. In this entire carload there is not a crate containing more than seven dozen, hence some idea of the run of the thing may be imagined.

Oranges on Track.

There are several cars of oranges on track.

There are several cars of oranges on track today, although this morning they had not been opened, hence no idea of their condition could be gained. Apples are brisk, the cooking varieties especially being in demand.

ly being in domand.

Fine Bananas Received.

A car of bananas is an and they are fine. The bunches are all large and firm. Spinach is inclined to be a little weak, although as a general thing the vegetable market is, strong.

Trade yesterday turned out to be good in spite of early morning indications and the fact that it was election day.

OFFICERS AFTER A BAD GANG

Japanese Attempt to Bring Girls Here for Immoral Purposes.

By the arrest of S. Takai and Tetsu Takal, father and daughter, on a charge of being unlawfully in the United States, local United States immigration officers believe they are on the track of a gang of Japanese who are making an effort to procure young girls from the Orient for immoral purposes.

Takai and his daughter were arrested last Monday by Inspector Ferrandini, of Whatcom, upon telegraphic information from the Scattle office. From the story they tell they were smuggled into Fairnaven about a week ago on a fishing sloop from Steyeston, B. C. The two Japanese were lapided on the beach between Whatcom and Fairhaven and the next day took a train for this place.

While in Seattle the immigration officers were warned that several procurers were after Takai's daughter. The father in the meantine neard that his presence in the city was known and decided to return to Bellingham. When it was found that Takai had left the city laspector Ferrandini was instructed to arrest the two Jamanese.

The inspector arrived in Seattle Monday afternoon with Takai and his daughter and they were examined by Inspector-in-charge Estell, of the local office. A special board of inquiry was held and it was decided to debar the Orientals. A report of the case was sent to Washington and it is likely they will be reported.

ton and it is likely they will be reported.

Taken to Port Townsend.

Yesterday Inspector Geffeney took
Takai and his daughter to Port Townsend where they will be held in the detention station for safe keeping until action in the case is taken by the officers at Washington. As yet the inspectors have not located any one of the procurrers but it is not unlikely they will be landed in the toils.

The inspectors say that the girl's father has a contagious allment and that fact alone will probably result in his deportation. The girl will accompany him if he is sent back to Japan.

BRITISH CAPTAIN TELLS OF CHEMULPO BATTLE.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Wednesday, March 9.—A. R. Tufts, of Vancouver, who arrived from the Orient by the last steamship, gives a rather different version of the Chemulpo battle than the published dispatches. He says he got it direct from the captain of the British steamer Columbia, immediately after the surprise was sprung on the Russians.

The Columbia was just entering the Chemulpo harbor when six Japanese cruisers suddenly made their appearance. Battleships of all nations were in the harbor. The Japanese sent word to the big Russian battleship Variag that she and the Russian cruiser accompanying her, would have to clear out of the harbor at once. Anchors were raised, steam got up and the Russians attempted to clear out of the harbor, when the Japanese cruisers opened fire on them and drove them back.

They made another attempt, this time shelling the cruisers as they advanced, a stray shot going through the British cnsign flying at the masthead of the Columbia. Again the Russians were driven back.

They then lowered the Russian sailors and put them on board the different OF CHEMULPO BATTLE.

columbia. Again the masshead of the Columbia. Again the Russians were driven back.

They then lowered the Russian sailors and put them on board the different foreign warships, and sunk their battleships.

The Japanese then took the Russian officers prisoners, and liberated the men on parole, making them swear not to engage in the war again.

In the exchange of shots two Japanese vessels were struck and the commander was killed on the Japanese cruiser carrying the Crown Prince.
