DEATH OF MRS. BAKER.

Former Well Known Resident of Seattle Dies in Chicago.

Information concerning the death of Mrs. Howard Baker, at one time a social leader in this city, has been received in Seattle. She died in Chicago on April 10.

Her marriage with Mr. Baker occurred in San Francisco in 1894, and two years later they removed from Seattle to Chicago, and have since made the latter city their home. Charles H. Baker of the Snoqualmie Falls Power Company is a brother of Mr. Howard Baker. Clay Clement, a brother of Mrs. Baker, is an actor, and at present is playing in Australia, with the Nance O'Neill Company. Mrs. Baker was 50 years old at the time of death.

Must Pay Discount.

The Seattle clearing house has decided to place a discount of 1 per cent on Canadian currency received by the local banks on and after May 1. This action, which was decided upon yesterday afternoon, is the result of the fact that the Treasury Department, as recently stated in The Times, is enforcing the payment of the 10 per cent tax on all Canadian money paid out by banks. As already stated, the banks in this city have pursued the practice of accepting Canadian money at its face value and instead of issuing it for local circulation they have shipped it in bulk back across the border. The proposed discount will be made to cover the cost incidental to handling the money.

The Labor Temple.

Subscriptions amounting to over $3500 have been raised for the building of the proposed Labor Temple. The committee, W. H. Middleton and F. H. Pike, who have been appointed to carry on this work, report the best of success attending their efforts. Some of the most prominent business houses in the city have subscribed and the property owners, banks and street railways will be waited on in turn.

Named the Seward.

The Government steamer G. W. Dickinson, now about completed at Moran Brothers' shipyard, is to be rechristened the W. H. Seward, in honor of the Secretary of State under President Lincoln. The steamer will be used by Gen. Randall for the military department of Alaska.

Mrs. Royal Dead.

Mrs. E. A. Royal, wife of Ladru Royal, of this city, died at Providence Hospital yesterday. Her father was a pioneer business man of Chicago, and she had lived in that city nearly all of her life. She had been sick three weeks when death claimed her.

Robbers Must Answer.

Ed Keith and R. Keith were yesterday bound over to the Superior Court by Judge Cann on a charge of highway robbery. It is alleged that the young men, who first gave the name of Smith to the police, held up and robbed a sailor named Pat Riley.

They Stole Wheels.

Thomas Howard and Willie Larsen, two boys, were arrested yesterday afternoon on the charge of stealing two bicycles from Piper & Taft and selling them to a man in Kent. The wheels were recovered.

IT IS STEAMER DAY

Busy Scenes on the Water Front This Morning.

Queen Arrives From San Francisco and the Umatilla Sails---Topeka to Depart.

Today was steamer day at the Pacific Coast wharf, the Umatilla sailing for San Francisco and the Queen arriving from the same port. Both vessels carried unusually large numbers of passengers, besides heavy freight cargoes. With the City of Topeka also preparing for her regular run to Alaska, the dock presented a busy appearance.

The Umatilla carried as passengers forty-six Japanese, destined for schools in California. They recently arrived on the Nippon Yusen Kaisha line steamship from Japan. The Umatilla carried thirty-seven second-class and the following first-class passengers:

F. Alladio, P. Alladio, Mrs. P. Alladio, Mrs. M. L. Gerard, Mrs. H. A. Worthington, Harry Scott, Barney Simon, Miss A. Stevenson, Mrs. J. V. Harrison, Mrs. Capt. Waldo, Mrs. M. Farrell, H. J. Huntser, Mrs. Thorning, Mrs. C. Greenburg and Miss C. Hansen.

The Queen carried in addition 150 second class passengers. Eight of her cabin passengers are destined for Alaska and Lynn canal points, and will leave on the City of Topeka, which sails tomorrow morning.

The City of Topeka sails from Ocean wharf tomorrow morning for Alaska and Lynn canal points.

The Honolulu British American liner Bloemfontein is due to arrive at Arlington dock Monday, April 23.

The U. S. S. Rosecrans, of the quartermaster's department, for service in Alaska, is lying at Arlington dock today, lightering lumber from barges alongside.

Gangs of workmen are at work on the ruins of the Puget Sound Commission Company's wharf, at the foot of Marion Street, which was almost destroyed by fire Tuesday night. They were clearing away the debris previous to rebuilding.

THE ALASKA CODE BILL

Local Chamber Favors Its Adoption---Recruiting Station for Seattle---Other Business.

At the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, Hon C. S. Johnson, until recently district judge for Alaska, addressed the members on the conditions in that territory, especially with reference to the administration of justice. He advised the Chamber to work for the passage of the Alaska code bill now before Congress. As a result of the address a committee was appointed, consisting of J. A. Moore, Judge John P. Hoyt and J. L. Neagle, to co-operate with him in furthering the passage of the bill.

A letter was read from Representative Jones stating that he had conferred with the Commissioner of Navigation, and that the latter had expressed surprise at the fact that there is no deputy commissioner in this city on salary. Senator Turner also wrote that he would lend his efforts to secure the appointment of such an officer.

On motion of W. R. Forrest, it was resolved to request this state's representatives at the national capital to do all in their power to promote the passage of the Loud bill, which forbids the sending of books through the mail at the rate of one cent a pound.

A committee consisting of J. A. Moore, Thomas W. Prosch and Andrew Knox, was appointed to look into the condition of suits for right of way for the Lake Washington canal.

On motion of Arthur C. Jackson, president of the Alaska Geogrphical Society, a telegram was sent to Senators Turner and Foster protesting against the action of the House Committee in striking from the appropriation bill the item of $450,000 for the construction of a telegraph line to Alaska and asking the reinstatement of the item.

A letter was read from the Secretary of War, stating that the recruiting office in this city, which was discontinued some time ago, would be re-established and placed in charge of Capt. Cabell of Vancouver Barracks, who will visit the office about every ten days, meanwhile detailing two or three enlisted men as a recruiting party for the office here.

IT COMES TO SEATTLE.

Will Make a Sensation.

As announced in The Times last night, part of the clothing stock manufactured by Messrs. Heidelman & Brierberg of New York City, who were forced out by the trust, comes to Seattle.

The Pacific Coast Clothing Company of Marion Street and First Avenue are the lucky owners of $45,000 worth of the clothing that was made by the Heidelman Company for the spring trade.

It is safe to prophesy some startling announcements in a day or two among retail clothing circles in this city.

It's a Corker.

The equipment of the new train service via the O. R. & N. Co. and the Union Pacific consists of magnificent palace sleeping cars, buffet, library and smoking cars, elegant Pullman and Northwestern dining cars, free reclining chair cars, and most comfortably ordinary sleeping cars. By this complete service passengers are able to reach the principal cities between the North Pacific Coast and Chicago not only in the shortest possible space of time, but in the most comfortable and enjoyable manner. For any information in regard to rates, time of trains, or pamphlets descriptive of the country traversed by this line call at No. 618 First Avenue.

NEWS FOR MARINERS

Changes in Aids to Navigation Along the Pacific Coast Issued by the Inspector.

Notice is hereby given of the following changes in aids to navigation in this district, which affect the list of lights and fog signals, Pacific Coast, 1900, and the list of beacons and buoys, Pacific Coast, 1900:

Coast of Oregon—Umpqua River, outside bar buoy. (List of Beacons and Buoys, pages 38 and 44). A black and white perpendicularly striped second-class whistler, nun shaped and surmounted by a whistle, marked "U," in white, was established in 90 feet of water about seven-eighths of a mile outside the bar, in place of the first-class can buoy which recently went adrift. (L. H. Bulletin No. 106, par. 56). Umpqua River Life Saving Station N. E. by N., southern head Winchester Bay N. E. ½E., Umpqua River light house E. by N.

Alsea River Buoy, pages 39 and 45. On April 13 this buoy, formerly a first-class can, was changed to a second-class can, without change in position.

Columbia River. — Main ship channel across the bar as far as Astoria, Oregon. (List of Lights and Fog Signals, Pacific Coast, 1900, page 24, after No. 73; List of Beacons and Buoys, Pacific Coast, 1900, page 49). Jetty Sands Range, Front Post Light. On April 15 a fixed white lantern light, suspended from an arm on a stake, was established on the dry sands abreast of the Columbia River jetty. Outer end McGowan's wharf N. E. by E., Fort Stevens wharf post light E. by S., Cape Disappointment light house N. W. by W.,⅜ W.

Jetty Sands—Range Rear Post Light. On April 15 a fixed white lantern light suspended from an arm on a stake, about one-quarter of a mile in the rear of the front light. Outer end of McGowan's wharf N. E., ⅝E., Fort Stevens post light E., ⅞S., Jetty Sands Range Post Light and Cape Disappointment light house in range N.W. by W., ⅜W.

These two lights are intended as a guide for fishermen, and will be discontinued at the end of the fishing season.

Willapa Bay, main channel across the bar. (List of Beacons and Buoys, Pacific Coast, 1900, pages 61 and 63). Willapa Bay outside bar whistling buoy, a black and white perpendicularly striped second-class whistler, marked "Willapa," in white, nun shaped, surmounted by a whistle, was moved April 9, and is now moored in 90 feet of water. Willapa Bay light house N. by E., ⅛ E., tangent to Goose Point N.E. by E., ⅝E., north edge of trees on Leadbetter Point E. by N., about 1¼ miles outside the bar.

Willapa Bay outer buoy, a black and white perpendicularly striped first-class can, marked "W. B.," in white, was moved April 9, and is now moored in 36 feet of water on the outer edge of the bar, which is shifting to the southward, and marks the entrance to the present main channel across the bar. Willapa Bay light house N., ⅝E., tangent to Goose Point N.E. by E., ¾E. Easterly north edge of trees on Leadbetter Point E., ⅜N.

By order of the U. S. Light House Board.

USED A RIFLE.

John Beaudreau Accused of Shooting at Peacemakers.

Tom Jones and Thomas Roberts, two laborers, attempted to make peace between John Beaudreau, a Frenchman, and his Indian wife on the Grant Street bridge last night, when Beaudreau, resenting the interference, it is alleged, fired two shots at them from a rifle.

The woman was intoxicated and her husband was attempting to take her home when the laborers interfered on the ground that she was being ill treated. Officers Brown and Coleman, who were attracted to the spot by the shooting, arrested the three men and let the woman go. Strange to say, no one was injured by the shots, although Beaudreau was only a short distance from Jones and Roberts when he is said to have fired.

The Port Stephens Safe.

Telegraphic advices yesterday give news of the safe arrival at Hilo of the transport Port Stephens, with nearly 500 horses aboard. The transport sailed from this port late in March and arrived at Hilo April 30. The fact that not one out of the 500 horses suffered serious injury is regarded as a remarkable record.

OPPOSED TO JAP LABOR

Local Unions Ask for an Investigation of the Influx of Brown Men.

The arrival of hordes of Japanese laborers on the Sound, as announced in The Times, has resulted in action by the labor unions. At a meeting of the Western Central Labor Union held last evening a committee was appointed to make a complete investigation of the matter. President R. W. Moulton and Vice President Robert Pevler of the Union, who were appointed on the committee, were instructed to wait upon the immigration agents and ascertain what official action had been taken in the matter. The labor unions claim that both the contract and pauper labor sections of the immigration laws are being violated. The union officers stated last evening that if evidence of violation of the law could be secured prosecution would be commenced against the guilty parties.

TALE OF CRUELTY

Mrs. Smith's Terrible Arraignment of Her Husband.

Charges Him With Throwing Their Child Across a Room. Asks a Divorce.

If one half the allegations which the plaintiff in a divorce suit, which was filed in the Superior Court this morning, are true, there would seem to be but little doubt that the statutes of Washington governing legal separations will come to her relief. Alma J. Smith, who says she married James M. Smith in August, 1892, is the plaintiff in the action. She says that her husband has devoted a considerable portion of his time to tossing their child bodily from one end of their room to the other in violent fits of rage, and in applying punishment which left its marks upon their offspring for weeks afterward.

The couple were married in Sioux City, Ia., and, according to Mrs. Smith's story, before they had been married eighteen months the defendant drew a pistol on the plaintiff, placed it at her head and threatened to blow her brains out. This occurred, says Mrs. Smith, a short time prior to the birth of her child, and the shock from the excitement incident to her experience, caused her to sustain a complete nervous collapse, from the effects of which she has not yet recovered. In November of last year, after the couple had moved to Everett, a similar scene occurred, in which the child was also a victim. "He grabbed the little one in his powerful arms," relates the wife, "and threw it with all his force across the room, causing it to scream with terror. Since this occurrence he has frequently brutally lashed and struck the youngster with razor strops and ropes, leaving bruises which would remain for weeks."

As a final cause of action Mrs. Smith relates that a short time after their marriage, the defendant, imposing upon her youth and inexperience in the ways of the world, induced her to lead a life of shame and compelled her to pay the proceeds of her earnings to him, which he proceeded to dissipate in drink. The child, which has grown up under such demoralizing influences, is now six years of age, and the plaintiff prays the court to restrain her husband from in any way interfering with her control of him until such a time as the court may decree as to his custody.

AMUSEMENTS

"Pudd'nhead Wilson."

Tonight one of the best American plays, Mark Twain's "Pudd'nhead Wilson," will be seen at the Seattle Theatre. The company is practically the same as seen here before, except the title role, which is assumed by Mr. Burr McIntosh, an actor of reputation, and one whom all the press of the country endorse as perfectly fitted for the part of Pudd'nhead. The Seattle should, and no doubt will, be filled in all parts.

At the Third Avenue.

With next Saturday night's performance at the Third Avenue Theatre one of the very best attractions of the season will close a very successful week's engagement. For heart interest, good acting and general excellence "Knobs o' Tennessee" has few equals.

Willie Collier.

The announcement is made that the exceedingly funny comedian, Willie Collier, is to appear at the Seattle Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, April 22, 23 and 24, in his own farce, entitled "Mr. Smooth." His remarkable success in this play during the present season has attracted a great deal of attention, and his appearance here should be the signal for a general turning out of the theatre-going population.

"Have You Seen Smith."

Next week, commencing Sunday, "Have You Seen Smith," the newest up-to-date comedy of the season, will make its bow to a Third Avenue Theatre audience, and, of course, to the usually packed Sunday night house.

Free Entertainments.

Crowded houses nightly at the popular Olympic Theatre. Educational illustrated lectures upon the human body, also science and travel, by the noted Scotch-American orator, Dr. A. Chalmers Stoddart, being the attraction. At intervals during the evening very clever slack rope performances were given by the pretty, smiling little Queen Minnehaha, adso the wonderful trunk mystery and other magic performances. Everything free all this week.

At the Hotels.

Among the arrivals at the Butler are Fred N. Allison and T. J. Arwine, of the regular army, who came up from Vancouver Barracks this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gray of Romeo, Mich., arrived in the city this morning and are at the Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Anderson of Wenatchee were in the city yesterday, stopping at the Butler.

Hon. Allen Weir of Olympia was among yesterday's arrivals at the Butler.

Officers G. S. Lewis and W. M. Atkinson of the U. S. S. Pathfinder are registered at the Butler.

Major A. S. Cole, a prominent attorney of New Whatcom, is in the city, stopping at the Seattle.

A. W. Attridge, a well known lumberman of Port Ludlow, is among the arrivals at the Seattle.

E. C. Adams, a hardware merchant of Port Townsend, is in the city today, stopping at the Seattle. Among other merchants stopping at the same hotel are Charles Greenberg of Whatcom and M. Guttman of Victoria.

Col. Henry Landes of Port Townsend is in the city today, stopping at the Rainier-Grand.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Strade of Fairhaven are among the guests of the Rainier-Grand.

Among Eastern visitors in the city today, the following are registered at the Rainier-Grand: Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Katz of Rochester, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Stern of Rochester, N. Y. and Mr. and Mrs. James M. Burch of Dubuque. The following are registered at the Stevens: Mr. and Mrs. H. Hoagland, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Shadbolt and Miss Nellie Shadbolt of Minneapolis.

PROF. FORD BAKER.

The Eminent Psycho-Clairvoyant and Palmist Converts a Radical Skeptic

One of the young men on The Times—the writer of this aricle, who has always been an unbeliever in clairvoyants and spirit mediums—was invited by Prof. Baker to call on him at his parlors in the Occidental Hotel, which he did, and was more than surprised when he answered every question put to him in a straightforward and truthful manner. He told me of things and doings that I alone knew of—my mother's name, my wife's maiden name, which I did not know myself till I went home and asked my wife and found he was correct. If the future comes as true as the past has been told, which I have no doubt in the least why it should not after what he has told me. For anybody to trouble or be anxious about friends at a distance or would know their future I would advise them to lose no time in consulting Prof. Baker, who, in my mind, is the greatest medium we have in America today.

THINK HIM A FRAUD.

Residents of Pasco Taken In by a Smooth Young Man.

Ulrich Beck of Pasco, Wash., has written to The Times that a smooth young swindler has been operating in that vicinity.

The young fellow, accompanied by a companion, represented himself as the traveling salesman for the Hanthern Woolen Mill Company of Chicago. He carried extensive samples of men's suits, overcoats and the like, and upon the deposit of a small sum would take an order and promise delivery in the course of a few days.

After working the neighborhood, he quietly disappeared.

Mr. Beck waited a reasonable time and then wrote the supposed Chicago firm. He was informed that no such firm existed. He describes the alleged bunco man as tall and slender with a smooth face. He was dressed in light clothing, wore tan shoes and a brown stiff hat. He was about 25 years old.

It is supposed by the residents of Pasco that he is at present either hiding in Seattle or some other city along the Sound.

OLIVER TWIST AGAIN.

"Please Sir, I Want Some More."

A good many women, both in Seattle and all over the State, are making a very snug amount of "pin money" getting subscriptions for The Washington Woman's Magazine — a thirty-two page monthly published by The Bon Marche. One woman in Ballard earned the neat little sum of six dollars in one day (this is not a picked sample), and yet the store is asking for more help in this field.

Owing to the real wholesomeness and helpfulness of the paper itself it is a comparatively easy matter to get the subscriptions—especially as samples are sent anywhere by mail for the asking, or given those who call in person.

As an advertising proposition it is undoubtedly the best any store ever got out.

They'll stand such usage, but it's bad for the enamel and nickeling and hard on your clothes, and we don't advise it.
