of the war by which Port Arthur is threatened on the land side, and expressed his firm confidence in the endurance of the defenders of the Kwan Tung Peninsula.

The general's address was received with cheers from the assembled soldiers and sailors.

ST. PETERSBURG RECEIVES NO NEWS FROM PORT ARTHUR.

ST. PETERSBURG, Saturday, May 7.—The Russian capital has now been without news from Port Arthur for almost 24 hours. The last telegram received was filed at 6 o'clock last night. It is believed that the spot where the Japanese cut their railroad and telegraph lines is near Port Adams, opposite Pitsewo.

No news of other landings on the Liao Tung peninsula has reached the general staff.

Important developments are hourly expected from Feng Weng Cheng. News of heavy fighting there is anticipated shortly.

A telegram from Gen. Kouropatkin says Gen. Kuroki's army is advancing upon the position in two divisions. The enemy with artillery, he reports, has reached Kao Li Meun, called the "Gate of Korea," which is within ten miles of Feng Weng Cheng.

TWENTY THOUSAND LAND ON LAIO TUNG PENINSULA

SHAN HAI KWAN, Saturday, May 7.—The reports of a Japanese landing on the Liao Tung peninsula are confirmed. The Japanese are said to have disembarked 10,000 men on both sides of the peninsula, on Kenschau bay, and at Pitsewo, and to have cut the railroad above Port Arthur. This report was brought into Shan Hai Kwan by railroad men, who give the Russian censor at Yinkow as their authority.

It is believed here that two other divisions of Japanese troops will land near Newchwang and at a later date effect a juncture with the army from the Yalu.

JAPANESE MOUNTED RAPID FIRE GUNS ON PENINSULA

SHAN HAI KWAN, China, Saturday, May 7.—An officer of a torpedo boat who arrived here from Yinkow today after confirming the announcements of the landing of Japanese troops on the Liao Tung peninsula, says the Japanese rapidly entrenched themselves and mounted rapid fire guns.

KOREAN EMPEROR CELEBRATES THE JAPANESE VICTORY.

SEOUL, Korea, Saturday, May 7.—The sum of 100,000 yen has been appropriated for the repairing of the old East Palace. The Emperor has subscribed 1,000 yen to the fund for the celebration of the Japanese victory on the Yalu.

NO TELEGRAMS ACCEPTED IN RUSSIA FOR PORT ARTHUR

ST. PETERSBURG, Saturday, May 7.—The telegraph office refuses to accept messages for Port Arthur.

THIRD SON OF THE KAISER ARRIVES AT CHEMULPO

SEOUL, Saturday, May 7.—Prince Adalbert, third son of the German emperor, has arrived at Chemulpo incognito on the cruiser Bertha. He will be the guest here of the German minister, Herr von Salhern.

RUSSIA DOES NOT INTEND TO SEND TROOPS TO SHAN HAI KWAN

ST. PETERSBURG, Saturday, May 7.—A current report that Russia purposed sending troops to Shan Hai Kwan was officially denied today. The Russian government has made no such request of China and has not contemplated taking such action.

RUSSIA AND JAPAN BOUGHT MUNITIONS BEFORE THE WAR

BERLIN, Saturday, May 7.—Lieutenant Commander Potts, United States naval attaché, has returned from a two-months trip, visiting navy yards and torpedo manufacturers in Austria and Italy, to whose courts he is also accredited. At Fiume, where torpedoes are made he learned that no orders for Russians or Japanese are on hand, all having been filled before the outbreak of the war.

officers have ordered them returned to their native land.

How They Entered.

The two Japanese landed in Victoria from the steamship Victoria April 12. Their passports show that they had paid their fare to Tacoma, but upon learning that they could not pass inspection they left the vessel in British Columbia and there procured information from foreign agents regarding the best route to the states. The Japanese were bound for Portland via Tacoma.

Upon leaving Victoria, the Japanese started for Vancouver, B. C., and upon their arrival there took an electric car for New Westminster. From there they walked to Bellingham and secured tickets on the steamer Utopia for Seattle.

Immigration Inspector A. J. Ferrandini was suspicious of the two men and wired instructions to the local office. A Chinese watchman was sent to meet the Utopia, but the steamer called in at another wharf and the government officer missed the boat. The two Japanese kept under cover in the lower part of the city until they got a train for Portland without arousing suspicion.

Send for Ferrandini.

Inspector-in-Charge Estell then wired for Inspector Ferrandini to come to this city from Whatcom and confer with him on the case. As a result Inspector Estell detailed Ferrandini to go to Portland and make an effort to find the two men from descriptions contained on the government papers.

Inspector Ferrandini reached Portland early yesterday morning and after a conference with Inspector Barbour started out in search of the missing Japanese. One of the Portland inspectors accompanied him. They reached a Japanese lodging house at 53 North Fourth Street and watched for their men to emerge from the building. The officers had been previously informed that several suspicious Japanese were at the hotel.

It was not long before Kisaburo Akiyama came out, and, passing Ferrandini, started down the street. The inspector did not want to take his man at that point, as he was afraid the arrest would alarm the Japanese occupants of the house.

Inspector Seizes Man.

As the Japanese continued down the street, the Portland inspector followed closely, and when about two blocks from the lodging-house stopped the Japanese. He at once showed fight, and in a moment inspector and Japanese were rolling about on the sidewalk. Ferrandini had been watching the movements of the two men, and when he saw there was trouble ahead he hurried to give aid.

With his assistance the Japanese was soon overpowered.

By that time a large crowd had collected on the street and the two officers had hard work in getting the belligerent Japanese to accompany them. Passing a meat shop Ferrandini noticed a delivery wagon and secured permission of the owner to use it as a conveyance for the Japanese and the prisoner was taken to a place of safety in the wagon.

In the meantime the Japanese confessed to the officers that his partner was in hiding at the Hachiya Hotel on North Fourth and Couch Streets. With four inspectors Ferrandini repaired to the building and the officers formed a cordon about the place.

George Larner, a Portland inspector, and Ferrandini found the missing Japanese in hiding in a room in the building. He offered no resistance.

Inspector Reaches Seattle.

Inspector Ferrandini, with the two Japanese prisoners, reached Seattle this morning. The men have already been refused admission to the country, and when the fact is established by a board of inquiry that they are the men wanted it is likely they will be returned to the Far East.

Both Japanese have trachoma of the eyes, and local inspectors say they will probably lose their eyesight. In that event they would become public charges. Akiyama is thought by local officers to be a dangerous Japanese criminal. Both men told Inspector Geffney that they had smuggled into Bellingham from Victoria.

ASKS THAT PAY OF POLICEMEN BE RAISED

mayor from the official reports of all cities west of the Mississippi River comparing in size with Seattle.

Force Is Too Small.

The purpose of this statement is to show to the police committee and the council that in every one of them the number of policemen on the payrolls is at or about the rate of one for every 1,000 population, while Seattle's force numbers in all eighty-two. It will also show that in Seattle the average arrests for the past three years has been 9,000 a year, while in all the other cities contained in the statement the arrests run from 33 1-3 to 50 per cent of this number. In Portland the number of arrests shown in the statement of the chief of police of that city for the last year is 2,600.

The ordinance does not ask for an increase in the salaries of patrolmen, in view of the increase in numbers asked.

The increase of ten patrolmen instead of twenty, as originally planned by the mayor, is for the summer season only. Mayor Ballinger believes that during the short nights of summer he will be able to get along with this addition to the force. However, when the winter months come it is his intention to ask for the second ten.

No Sub-Stations Now.

Until such time as twenty new patrolmen have been added to the force there will be no attempt to carry out the idea of establishing a sub-station on Broadway. In order to do this it will require an additional captain and a sergeant, and these cannot be spared out of the first increase asked.

"The ordinance providing for an increase in the salaries of the chief, captains and sergeants of the police department and an increase in the force of patrolmen," said the mayor this morning, "has been the subject of much thought on my part."

"In looking over the statistics of other cities the size of Seattle, I find we are not only far behind in the number of our police force, but we are paying greatly inferior salaries.

"To properly fill the office of chief of police the appointee must be a man of ability and integrity. His duties are of the most important character, and if a man is found who fills the position he is valuable to the city in no small degree.

Chief's Salary Too Small.

"The present salary of $175 a month paid the chief of police is not sufficient for a man such as a chief must be. In fact $200 is not a large enough salary. However, I have concluded not to ask for more than a $25 per month increase. In almost any line of commercial life a man of like ability, performing his duties faithfully, would receive a much greater compensation. In view of the fact that the Seattle police force is doing much more work than any other force in a city of similar size, with a less number of men, the chief should be at least paid a fair salary. It is for this reason that I ask an increase. Chief Delaney has not asked to have his salary raised, it is done solely on my own account.

Responsibility of Captains.

"The duties performed by the captains of police demand that they should receive a salary of at least $125. The senior captain receives this amount now and I have asked that the others be paid the same.

"There is much responsibility resting on the shoulders of police sergeants. They must be men of ability and character. Men like these in other lines of work receive much better compensation and there is no reason why the city should ask them to work for $90 a month. It is for this reason I have asked an increase of $10 a month for them.

No Increase for Patrolmen.

"I have not asked for an increase for patrolmen at this time for the reason that we are increasing the number of the force. I do think, however, that a good patrolman is worth at least $3 a day. If they were engaged in almost any other line of work requiring the same skill they would receive more than this. However, for the present we will have to let an increase for them rest."

"The statement I have prepared to accompany the ordinance is for the guidance of the committee and council. It shows that the Seattle police force is doing a great deal more work, with less men, than any other city in the country. It is in itself a strong argument for everything I ask."

Whitney's Horses Sold.

NEW YORK, Saturday, May 7.—At the sale of horses which were the property of the late William C. Smathers for $16,000. Mr. Smathers also purchased King Cole, a two-year-old by Hamburg-Black Venus, for $4,100.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this world-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation especially designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

A beautiful Georgia lady, Vice-President of the East End Palmetto Club, of Savannah, and prominent socially there, relates the following experience: "You certainly have produced the finest medicine for suffering women that is to be had in the country. I want to recommend it especially to mothers. I was seventeen years old when my darling boy was born. Felt very exhausted and weak for a long time, and it seemed I could not get my strength back. My sister-in-law bought me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription (after I had tried several of the other remedies which are so much advertised, and found no relief). I had little faith in the medicine at the time and was so weak and sick that I felt discouraged, but within a week after I had commenced taking your 'Prescription' I was like a different woman. New life and vitality seemed to come with each succeeding day, until, in a few weeks, I was in fine health, and a happy, hearty woman. My boy is now two years old, and, thanks to your splendid medicine, I am enjoying perfect health. If at any time I feel tired or in need of a tonic, a few doses of your 'Favorite Prescription' re-juvenates me at once. My address is No. 511 Jones Street, East, Savannah, Ga."
