HUSKY RESERVE WRECKED BY ILLNESS AND HURTS

KRAETZ, BUZARD, THORNTON AND BATES ARE OUT

Captain Dirks May Get Into Final Washington Game Thanksgiving Day; Jessup Tried at Center.

BY GEORGE M. VARNELL

The reserve strength of the University of Washington football team for its final game here Thursday against the Washington State College eleven was dealt a terrific jolt yesterday.

Injuries and influenza joined hands to cut temporarily at least, from the Husky list two of the strongest of Washington's reserves in the ball-carrying department.

Just before the opening of the final hard scrimmage drill Monday in preparation for the Cougar battle, Bob Buzard, the carrot-topped ball.

PREPSTERS TO PICK ALL-CITY TEAM TONIGHT

250 High School Gridders Will Gather for Banquet.

BY ED PELTRET

HAT price-labor football labor. A verdict on that question in the form of an All-City High School grid team will be given tonight when some 250 prepsters gather at the annual H-Y football dinner which is scheduled for the Central Y. M. C. at 8:15 o'clock.

Each year it is the custom of the gridders to ballot for a team that represents the town's best in football. This year the grid mart is flooded with All-City material and most of the lads who make the mythical team with few exceptions will vote their election above their fellow players to political favor as well as through their own efforts on the gridiron.

BY JOHN H. DREHER

JOHNNY JONES, of the Glendale Club, maintained his place as pacemaker in the Seattle Open Sweepstakes in the November monthly renewal of the competition by topping the field with a 69 at Sand Point yesterday.

So that he might not be denied the honors he has won through the long season's grind, it was decided to hold the December, and final, sweepstakes next Monday at Olympic Club.

PROMOTERS HIT NO COMPROMISE ON FISTIC DUEL

Carter's Handler Wants Bout at 133 and Snell at 135.

SHAKESPEARE'S Shylock with his pound of flesh had not a thing on your Seattle boxing manager—he wants two.

Last night when the Seattle Boxing Commission got Seattle's rival boxing firms around a table it attempted to straighten out the row over the proposed Wildcat-Carter-Dog Snell bout for the Coast lightweight championship.

Bout Is "Natural." Blday Bishop, manager of the Wildcat, wanted the match at 133 pounds and Joe Waterman, skipper of Snell, wanted it at 135. There they stood. Neither would give or take an ounce, so the matter is no closer to being settled now than before, and apparently the bout is out of the question.

The bout is a natural for Seattle fans have been clamoring for a third meeting between the two local favorites. The commission heard the pleas of both clubs, Austin & Bishop and the National Athletic Club, for the New Year's Day date, and promised a decision tonight.

THERE'LL BE NO 'BUMS' SHOW AT POOL TONIGHT

Personal Study of Six Boxers on Card Proves Old Days Have Gone; From High School and Movies

BY A. L. S.

HE day of the "bum" in the boxing game has gone forever. A personal study of the six boxers featured on tonight's fistic card at Crystal Pool, staged by Nat Druxman and Joe Waterman, helps to prove the argument.

Dode Bercof, who shows in the six-round wind-up with Jackie Johnson of Everett, decided that he could get along nicely without a manager. So he and Lonnie Austin, who dug him out of the woods last of Monroe, parted company.

KENNETH GILBERT, a Frank Richardson pierce, is known nationally as two of the Pacific Northwest's premier short story writers. Fiction from the pens of these two writers has been appearing in leading magazines throughout the country for several years.

Both are Seattle men. Both are ardent sportsmen, but to date little has been the public heard of their duck hunting prowess. Gilbert has won praise for his excellent stories on wild life. His best works have been on animals, and only recently a collection of a number of his best short stories.

A lover of the outdoors, Gilbert, when not at his typewriter pounding out fiction, can usually be found in woods or fields with a shotgun or rod and reel, as the season dictates. Several years ago Gilbert joined a duck club near Starwood and local color in many of his stories written since that time has been the direct result of his experiences there.

Early this season Gilbert prevailed upon his friend and colleague in the fiction field, Frank Richardson Pierce, to join the club. Pierce, although the author of several sports stories, had never followed the flight of a mallard.

"I'll cost you only 150 bucks to join the club," said Gilbert. "Too much," said Pierce. "But he did."

"The first time out he got the limit. And he also got an idea for a short story. He sold the story for $200."

"Now," says Pierce, "I have $50 left for ammunition. And I'll probably need it."

JOHNNY GAFFNEY, whose fleet heels have led Ballard Pacific Chair to grid victories this season, is topping the Community Football League scoring column, according to averages released today by league officials. Gaffney has 42 points to his credit. Frank Farella, fullback for Ballard, is second with 25, while Harrison Jenks, Broadway C. H. Wells star, has tallied 19.

Bill Hudson of Ballard and Carl Schlitt of Broadway are tied for fourth place, with 18 points apiece. Gaffney has just about clinched the scoring honors for the year, but the other places are doubtful. Broadway and Ballard, whose scores occupy the top of the list, meet next Sunday in the big game of the season for Community League fans.

Broadway can win the championship by defeating Ballard, while the latter can win by beating the Nippon A. C. plays South End in the opener at 11 o'clock in the morning. The Ballard-Broadway game is next on the bill, while the two Rainier Valley teams—Atlantic Street and the Rainiers—meet in the third game. A fourth tussle is booked at Jefferson Park between the Talley A. C. and the Jets.

The individual scoring records of the league are as follows: John Gaffney, P. C. 42; Frank Farella, P. C. 25; Harrison Jenks, Broadway C. H. 19; Bill Hudson, P. C. 18; Carl Schlitt, C. H. W. 18; Helge Bendale, Atlantic St. 17; Gene Gundlach, P. C. 12; Ed Sells, P. C. 12; Henry Kone, South End 12; Joe Natelli, A. C. 12; John Budnick, H. C. 8; Fritz Prosper, Ray, C. 6; Sibba Peterson, A. C. 6; Ivan Jones, P. C. 6; John Kenney, R. C. 6; Dug James, P. C. 6; Bill Wallace, P. C. 6; Les Reid, P. C. 6; George Hurley, J. P. 6; Gault Siedel, P. C. 6; Fred Watanabe, P. C. 6; John Anderson, C. H. W. 6; Alwood Scott, C. H. W. 6; Fred Watanabe, P. C. 6; John Funn, T. A. C. 2; E. Hamada, N. A. C. 1.

Shoot Straight, Then Write About It

U. S. Cup To Be His Soon, Says Lipton

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. KANSAS CITY, Tuesday, Nov. 27.—Sir Thomas Johnstone Lipton, world-famous yachtsman, here for a few minutes between trains last night en route from the Pacific Coast to the East, let it be known that he still is intent on winning the American Cup, international yacht racing trophy.

"I am going to lift that cup," he asserted. "I understand they guard it pretty well, so I guess I'll have to win it. Perhaps it's not worth much for the silver that's in it. I expect I have some better ones already, but this is a wily fellow. I haven't been able to catch him in thirty years. My Shamrock V. is going to do it. I have been winning prizes all year. It's a dandy."

Pacific Coast Squash Meet To Be Held Here in March

BY K. K. K. SEATTLE has found a place in the squash world.

The first annual Pacific Coast Squash Rackets Championships will be held in this city March 4 to 10, according to an announcement of Leon de Turenne, captain of the Seattle Racket Club's team. Permission to stage such a meet was asked of the United States Racket Squash Association and sanction of the tournament and dates for it were received here yesterday. The dates for the second annual city squash rackets championships have also been announced. The tournament is scheduled for the week of January 3 to 6. The popular winter indoor sport received only a toe-hold here last year when the first squash club was organized under the name of the Seattle Racket Club and a city tournament was held on the Y. M. C. A. handball courts.

The sport has come in for a big boom this year, however, with the sanction by the U. S. association of the two major meets for Seattle. All matches in both tournaments will be played on the two new courts of the Seattle Racket Club recently completed on the Seattle Tennis Club grounds. Invitations will be sent out immediately to all California, Oregon and British Columbia clubs to send players to the Pacific Coast meet here, according to De Turenne. The city title play will get the local talent in shape for the big event. Leon de Turenne won the title last year when he defeated Cecil Tupper in the finals.

Dog Racing Receives Hard Blow From Judge

Mitchell Outpoints Hoffman. NEW YORK, Tuesday, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Andy Mitchell, Long Beach, Cal., light heavyweight, outpointed George Hoffman, New York, former amateur heavyweight title holder, in a six-round bout at the St. Nicholas Arena here last night.

Incidentally, Bercof is anxious to get another match with Pete Meyers, the San Francisco slugger, who knocked him out to half the first comeback effort. "Shorty" Gilbert, manager of Meyers, is in town now and promised to bring his charge up from the gridiron to meet the winner of tonight's battle.

Two four-round bouts complete tonight's program. "Shorty" Gress, the White Center midweight, tangles with Frankie Granata, the good looking flyweight from Spokane, who makes movie acting as a sideline, is another boxer who handles his own business. The Seattle youngster he has on tonight, Eddie Costin, is a Garfield High School student.

W. S. C. Fans Coming Here 1,500 Strong. Special Train Will Bring Cougar Rooters; Several Hundred Others Will Make Trip in Automobiles.

THE Washington State College student body will do its bit to help the Cougars defeat the University of Washington Thursday when the two rival eleven meet on the stadium gridiron.

A special train will bring 1,500 Cougar students from the Pullman campus to Seattle to back their team to the full limit during the gridiron party. It is estimated that at least a hundred additional W. S. C. students will come to the game by auto, giving the Pullman eleven the largest rooting section that any visiting team has had in Seattle this year, at least.

"The W. S. C. students are coming to Seattle expecting a big game and a hard battle," said Earl Campbell, graduate manager of the U. of W., this morning after a conference with Earl Foster, who occupies a like position at W. S. C.

"The whole W. S. C. student body has been going around the campus at Pullman for a week wearing blue and white, and the legends, 'Beat Washington,' and at least two-thirds of the student body expects to be in the Stadium stands Thursday carrying the hope that they will see Hollingsbery's team do that thing."

According to Mr. Campbell the advance sale for the W. S. C. game exceeds that of the 1927-28 season on the Husky schedule, and provisions are being made to take care of a capacity turn-out.

Nationalista And Kid Francis Mix In Ring Tonight. BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LOS ANGELES, Tuesday, Nov. 27.—Kid Francis, Italian claimant of the bantamweight championship of Europe, who has won over some of this country's best since opening his invasion, tonight will trade punches with one of this section's big powers, Young Nationalista, Filipino.

Francis was a favorite over Nationalista, although tonight's bout, scheduled for ten rounds, will mark his first appearance in this section. He boasts a good American record, one that shows but one defeat, and that at the hands of Al Brown, bantamweight choice of the National Boxing Association.

Tech Eleven Will Accept Bear Battle

Georgia Outfit Pleased to Consider New Year's Bid to Play at Pasadena for Intersectional Honors.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. ATLANTA, Ga., Tuesday, Nov. 27.—Georgia Tech, undefeated and untied in a strenuous season, would be "pleased to consider" an invitation to meet California in Rose Bowl at the top of the list, meet next Sunday.

Prof. A. H. Armstrong, Tech's business manager, advised last night that Tech would be formally invited to meet the Pacific Coast eleven, said to have received no advance notice to that effect, although it was probable that some communication was even then in the mails.

No other officials at Tech would indicate what the athletic council at Tech would do about the invitation pending further advice, which were expected momentarily.

In the event Tech is selected to oppose California, it will mark the third time within four years that a southern team has been chosen to meet in western aggregation in the annual Tournament of Roses classic.
