

CLUB TO PICNIC AT SOUTH PARK

Authentically inclined South Park residents will don old clothes to participate in an old-fashioned greased pig chase which will be a highlight of the South Park Boosters Club's annual Labor Day celebration, E. W. Sanford, committee man, announced today.

"We expect a large turnout for the case, having had numerous inquiries concerning its rules and regulations," he said.

"Indications lead us to believe that this year's affair will be the most successful ever held in South Park," he said.

The day's program will start at 10 o'clock in the morning and will include a host of varied sports events, games and contests for persons of all ages.

The program: 2 to 3 o'clock—Horseshoe contests, volleyball game, old men's ball game.

Noon to 2 o'clock—Boys' and girls' foot races, novelty race, married women's throwing contest and decorated vehicle parade.

2 to 3 o'clock—Baseball game, Georgetown vs. South Park; egg-throwing contests, free-for-all greased pig chase, husband and wife driving race, men's foot races, women's foot races, varied automobile races, husband-calling contests, boys' and girls' and women's horse races and boys' and girls' freckles contests.

The celebration will close with a dance from 9 o'clock in the evening until midnight.

Club Members To Talk Taxes

The Madrona-Denny-Blaine Community Club will hold its first meeting of the fall at 8 o'clock Monday evening, September 14, in the Madrona School, 32nd Avenue at East Union Street.

The meeting will be a "homecoming" affair. Frank A. Ellis, club president, announced today.

Ellis said, "considerable time will be devoted to the discussion of initiative measures and their relation to taxation and property values."

Preliminary plans for a fall program will be made after general committee appointments.

Rainier Heights To Resume Meetings

The Rainier Heights Commercial Club will hold its first meeting of the fall season next Tuesday noon in the Grace Methodist Episcopal Church parish house, 30th Avenue South and King Street, A. J. Young, secretary, said today.

The meeting will include a general discussion of old business, tabled since the club's adjournment last July, and the drawing of plans for the club's calendar.

South End Clubs To Discuss Initiatives

A discussion of measures that will be on the ballot in November will be held at 8 o'clock Thursday evening at a meeting of the Associated Improvement Clubs of the South End, H. C. Stokes, club official, announced today.

Following committee reports on flood control and road construction work, preliminary plans for the club's fall calendar will be made.

Olympic View Club Cancels Meeting

The Olympic View Improvement Club has canceled its meeting scheduled for next Tuesday evening because of the primary elections, the Rev. H. L. Wilhelm, club secretary, announced today.

The club will meet at 8 o'clock Tuesday night, September 22 to plan its annual program, Mr. Wilhelm said.

Fall Program To Be Outlined

The Crown Hill Improvement Club will outline its fall program at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at a meeting in the clubhouse, 11th Avenue Northwest at West 92nd Street, James Gauntlett, club president, said today.

Woodland Club To Meet in October

The Woodland Park Improvement Club has postponed its meeting scheduled for next Thursday, until some time in October, J. G. Reilly, president, announced today.

Are YOUR Legs Disfigured By VARICOSE VEINS?

Even one enlarged, swollen vein is enough to mar the beauty of the most shapely leg—and yet look at the hundreds of careless women you see every day in street cars, on the beach, walking down the avenue with legs literally bulging with ugly, swollen veins.

Naturally women don't want to be bothered wearing cumbersome rubber stockings—but wise women will use Moore's Emerald Oil, a powerful and penetrating Oil which wonderfully strengthens the legs and, marvel of

LOVELY ASPIRANTS

With Sunday night as the deadline for entering the screen-voice test, being sponsored here by the Hamrick-Evergreen Theatres and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, these girls submitted their entries today: Jane Hicks (upper left), Mercer Island; Marian Carvill (upper right), 3212 Cascadia Ave.; Harriet Boyce (lower left), 216 Pontius Ave., and Anita Van Wyne, 513 29th Ave. N.

Two More Days and Then Screen Tests Are Closed

Two more days and then it will be too late! That's the message for Seattle girls and children who are considering entering the voice and screen test opportunity sponsored by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and the Hamrick-Evergreen Theatres, since no application blank mailed after midnight Sunday will be considered by the judges.

Previous training has nothing to do with ultimate chances of success, since the producing company is seeking new talent, and stands ready to give instruction to promising material. First choice from the entries, who will find that the only cost will be the effort to fill out and mail The Seattle Times coupon along with their photo, will be made from the photographs.

Before the Judges Then comes appearance before the judges at the Paramount Theatre to further narrow the field. A screen and voice test, made under actual studio conditions, goes to those who get past this elimination and the potential prize for them is a contract with the studio stock company for training, noting talent for the girls' and a contract to work with the Hal Roach "Our Gang" for the children.

Some of the entries already at hand came in with full deliberation, others were urged by fellow workers and members of their families.

Harriet Boyce, 22 years old, who resides at 216 Pontius Avenue and is employed in a large wholesale establishment, falls in this latter classification. Fellow employees and relatives who read of the opportunity for this test have been so insistent that she had a chance, that she is one of today's new entries.

She Was Forced In Jane Hicks, 23-year-old miss living on Mercer Island, can tell the same story, save that an aunt and neighbors qualify as the nominating committee. Both will receive the same careful consideration from the judges as any who have had special training, and have as precedent Mary Brian, who entered pictures when a friend sent a photograph of her to the judges of a contest.

Anita Van Wyne, who is the daughter of Mrs. Harriet Van Wyne and who has had considerable experience as a dancer and singer, despite her age of 6 1/2 years, is entered because her mother feels that the screen offers the best outlet for entertainment talent today.

Marian Corvill, 21, a resident of 3213 Cascadia Avenue, has played a variety of roles with the Spokane Little Theatre company, and would like the chance to continue her work.

Letters postmarked before midnight of Sunday, September 6, and

ATLANTIC FLYERS LAND AT CROYDON

CROYDON AIRDROME, England, Friday, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Formally completing the eastward lap of their proposed round-trip transatlantic sky holiday, the Americans Harry Richman and Dick Merrill landed at Croydon at 2:57 p. m. today (5:57 a. m., Seattle Time).

They flew from South Wales, where their fastest ocean-crossing plane Lady Peace paused in a cow pasture yesterday, by way of Bristol.

The Broadway baritone and Merrill, his pilot, had to hurdle an errant motion picture lorry in taking off from the cow pasture, and Merrill called it a "close shave."

Less than 200 persons witnessed the completion of the flight, in a pouring rain.

This contrasted sharply to the tension at Croydon yesterday, where 1,000 persons waited for hours for the Americans, only to learn they had come down in South Wales, out of gasoline, after a record speed trip of less than eighteen hours from New York.

Before he and Merrill motored into London, Richman said: "We expect to fly back to the United States as soon as we get favorable wind and weather. We probably will be here two or three days."

Man, Shot In Suicide Try, Is Near Death

R. A. Maertins, automotive mechanic who shot himself near the heart yesterday after kissing a woman friend farewell, still hovered between life and death today at Harborview County Hospital.

The woman, Florence Mizer, 28-year-old waitress, had told Maertins she intended to end their friendship and refused to see him again. They were talking in the McDowall Building office of R. G. Bomar, physiotherapist, where Miss Mizer had gone for treatment.

Maertins pleaded with her, asked for a "good-bye kiss," then drew the weapon and shot himself.

Knudsen to Head Church Missions

LONGVIEW, Friday, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The Rev. A. M. Knudsen, pastor of the Longview Trinity Lutheran Church for the past six years and president of the Pacific Lutheran Synod, has resigned his local post to become divisional secretary of English missions of the church, with headquarters in Chicago.

He also is missionary superintendent of the Pacific Synod and acting president of the Pacific Theological Seminary in Seattle.

YOUNG JAPANESE BEGIN PARLEYS

Second generation Japanese-American citizens must identify themselves closer with true American ideals of economic and social life, Dr. T. T. Yatabe, young Fresno dentist, said today as he opened the fourth national convention sessions of the Japanese-American Citizens' League.

The League began a four-day convention in the Seattle Chamber of Commerce building with about 300 in attendance, representing Pacific Coast units. Dr. Yatabe is national president.

Pioneers to Be Feted The convention tonight will fete Japanese pioneers at a banquet at 6 o'clock at the New Washington Hotel. Japanese who came to the Pacific Coast before 1900 will be honored.

An oratorical contest at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in Nippon Hall, Maynard Avenue South and Washington Street, will be another convention feature. Setsu Oka of Oakland and George Klotow of San Francisco will oppose Helen Kojima of Auburn and Florence Tateoka of Yakima in a California-Washington debate on "American Citizenship."

Picnic at Fortuna The convention delegates will go to Fortuna Park on Mercer Island Sunday for a picnic, after leaving the Canadian Pacific Steamship Company pier on a chartered boat and cruising through the Lake Washington Canal.

A farewell dance will be held at 9 o'clock Monday night in the Spanish ballroom of the Olympic Hotel. New officers will be elected at the final convention sessions Monday afternoon.

Women Will Help Moore In Campaign

As a result of a conference meeting of club women active in child welfare work held this week in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, Harold N. Moore, candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, today has a committee assisting him in his campaign. A statement issued by the committee says:

"We feel it is essential that we have a strong advocate of child welfare at Olympia next winter. As presiding officer of the Senate, Moore would be in a position to advance the plan to have welfare work included in school activities."

Moore, as relief administrator, made a success of Camp Ward in 1935, where hundreds of underprivileged children were cared for. In his campaign for lieutenant governor he has emphasized the necessity for public interest in child welfare and the establishment of camps similar to Camp Ward in various parts of the state.

Even in Europe, experts say, you won't find a finer Pilsner

The first time you bury your nose in Brown Derby's fragrant collar...you'll confirm the opinion of beer experts here and abroad:

Brown Derby is one of the world's finest beers... the equal of imported Pilsner!

Its flavor is unmistakably that of Old World Pilsner. Rich, but not sweet. With the full bouquet of perfect hops... and not the least bitter.

How does Brown Derby do it? Brown Derby uses only the finest grades of malt and hops. The yeast is from an original Old World culture. The water is remarkably like the famous water of Pilsen.

That's why Brown Derby can offer you more real refreshment in every glass—and more per dollar. Have a carton put in your car today. It's easy to stow away, and there's nothing to return.
