

MOTORISTS BEGIN TO FEEL EFFECTS OF ADDED POLICE

Traffic Division Receives 40 'Rookies'; 500 Tickets Handed Autoists in Three Days; Lower Toll Foreseen

Unwary motorists already are beginning to feel the effects of the rejuvenation of the Police Traffic Division last week when forty "rookies" were added to the division. During their first three days in uniform, the rookies handed 500 tickets for improper parking and speeding, and the Traffic Violations Bureau was busy yesterday with motorists coming in to post bail. With the new men bringing the strength of the traffic division up to ninety-three men, Capt. Joseph E. Prince, traffic chief, has been able to make several changes he believes will cut down the traffic toll. Nineteen of the new men are assigned to traffic patrol cars, used to investigate accidents and warn motorists of imminent dangers. Six of the cars are painted white, serving chiefly as reminders to the public of the traffic laws. Five of the rookies have been assigned with three regular men to handle parking in the central business district between 7 and 9 o'clock in the morning and 4 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon. Several of the new men have been assigned to direct traffic at busy intersections in the central business district. All motorized men have instructions to proceed to Spokane Street in the event there is a fire on Harbor Island. They will stop at specified intersections and reroute traffic so fire engines can get through. The men who have been doing the "real damage"—from the violators' viewpoint—are the eight rookies and twelve regulars who have the job of stopping speeders. They are on motorcycles. Habitual speeders who drive with one eye on the rear-view mirror are being caught. Motorcycle men have instructions to hide themselves and pounce on such motorists. They want rear-view mirror speeders to think there's a motorcycle cop around behind every corner in the city," Traffic Sgt. C. A. Wilson said. Four rookies are assigned to "paddy" wagons. Their job will be to pick up staggering drunks, especially in the south end of the business district. Several thoroughfares where bad accidents have occurred have been specially marked for watching. These are Eastlake Avenue; Fourth Avenue South; Spokane Street; Dearborn Street; Alaskan Way; East Marginal Way; Aurora Avenue; Elliott Avenue; 15th Avenue West and 15th Avenue South.

Colonel DeLong Has Smile Despite Tiring Army Job

(Continued From Page One.) headquarters building and the DeLong home nearby. He either is a Collie or a Shepherd, Colonel DeLong doesn't know which, so he has attached to him the general label: "Farm dog."

The colonel is well liked and respected by fellow officers because he "knows" men. His study of men and his ability to analyze their minds isn't promoted by political ambitions. Back in 1932 he worked out a self-help plan on his Spokane County farm for men on relief.

County Adopts Idea

Men walking the streets were asked whether they wanted to work for their board and room. Those that did were taken to the DeLong farm and given their "keep" for performing routine tasks. Spokane County officials thought so highly of the system that they subsidized it.

'People Shouldn't Be... Alone'

Colonel DeLong gives only one reason for the movement: "Old people shouldn't be left alone, wandering the streets." And now back to his other hobby: The Army.

The colonel's interest in military life began when he was 6 years old. He learned to blow an Army bugle and sound Army calls. He then was sent to a farm near Vancouver, Pend Oreille county, where his parents moved from his birthplace, Angelo, Wis.

Enlisted With Engineers

Colonel DeLong's military career began May 9, 1918, when he enlisted in Company C, 52nd Engineers, and later was transferred to the Transportation Corps of the same outfit. He was overseas thirteen months.

Ross told Ito he hoped the league's fifty-six chapters on the Pacific Coast will follow the Seattle chapter in purchasing bonds. He also urged league members to buy defense savings stamps as well.

Mercer Island Home Looted; Sun-Bathing Mermaid Held

A voyage from Seward Park to Mercer Island and a sun bath ended in tears yesterday for three young women, one of whom was held in the city jail without charge last night after she confessed to Detective Capt. Clyde V. Dailey she looted a Mercer Island home.

Jailed was Miss Leona Marklund, 24 years old, 1408 14th Ave. Captain Dailey said Miss Marklund admitted in a signed statement she looted the home of William Morrison, Lake Isle, Mercer Island, Friday.

Radio and Camera Taken Taken from the Morrison home were a radio, a camera, two dresses and a swimming suit, a roast chicken and a banana cake. These articles were recovered on the shore near Seward Park by Detective Lieut. Mario Zuarrri, M. C. Griffin and William Morrison.

Events which lead to the arrest began when Miss Marklund and her two companions, about her own age, rented a rowboat at Seward Park Friday afternoon. After the young women rowed across the lake, Captain Dailey said, they swam and lolled on the shore in the sunshine. Becoming restless after lolling, Miss Marklund, scantily clad, explored the shoreline and then entered the Morrison cottage through a window. She carried out two suitcases laden with loot, Captain Dailey said.

The suitcases were found early yesterday afternoon and Miss Marklund, a waitress, was arrested at 2:10 o'clock. Islander Notifies Police Captain Dailey said a Mercer Island resident saw Miss Marklund entering the Morrison home and notified police. Detectives traced Miss Marklund through the address she left when she and her companions rented the boat at Seward Park.

"The whole thing sounds like a prank, of course," Captain Dailey remarked, "but we can't permit a woman to enter a private home without answering to the law."

MILLION-DOLLAR PROJECT CALLS FOR 200 HOMES

New North End District to Be Known as 'Wedgwood'; Community Center, Playground Planned

A million-dollar housing project, involving 200 homes to sell at approximately $5,000 each, will get under way immediately in the area bounded by 30th and 35th Avenues Northeast and East 80th and 85th Streets, it was announced yesterday.

The project is being sponsored by Al Balch and Maury Setzer, who announced they have obtained Federal Housing Authority funds for construction of the first group of fifty homes, to be ready by next fall.

The sponsors announced the plan after conferring with County Commissioner Tom Smith, who assured them the county will open and gravel East 80th Street past the site.

The new district will be known as "Wedgwood" and will have a community center and playground area, the sponsors announced. Plans for the homes are being drawn by Thomas, Grainger & Thomas, Seattle architects.
