

NAZI, RUSSIAN LOSSES HEAVY

 long ago had been picked as the place for an emergency capital.
 The Russians had nothing to say on the situation in Odessa, Black Sea port besieged by Germans and Rumanians since August 19, although the Rumanians reported their troops were mopping up the Odessa streets.

Cavalry Rushes Tanks
 Spectacular attempts of Russian cavalry to check the advance of German tanks and armored cars across the Eastern Ukraine were reported. The Germans termed it warfare of a century ago pitted against modern mechanization.

In one instance, German reports said, four to five squadrons of Soviet cavalry, supported by artillery and some planes, charged headlong against German tanks. The dispatches said the ranks of the cavalry were decimated, and that 800 prisoners, 500 horses and 51 pieces of artillery were captured.

Adolf Hitler's High Command reported Nazi planes in attacks on Soviet troopships fleeing Odessa, had sunk or damaged fourteen ships and that the pursuit of "the beaten foe" was continuing between the Sea of Azov and the Donets River.

Hitler's High Command said German-Allied Rumanian troops captured Odessa yesterday, but L. B. C. quoted the Moscow radio as saying that Axis forces striking at the city had been "checked and forced to dig in," suffering heavy losses.

Leningrad apparently was still in a state of static siege.

There have been repeated demands in Britain for an invasion of the Continent to help Russia. The government has indicated it thought such a move at present was not wise and sections of the British press found more ammunition against the invasionists in the official report of Lord Gort, commander of the British Expeditionary Force which the Germans pushed off the Continent in 1940.

Lack of Equipment
 Lord Gort, in the report published today, told of shortages of equipment and failure of coordination among the Allied armies.

The London Daily Telegraph said editorially that the "supreme lesson for today" from the Gort dispatches "is the folly of sending inadequately trained expeditions beyond these shores."

The Daily Express in London said the report "ought to be enough to stop the invasionists . . . Brave men must never be sacrificed again by being sent to war without proper weapons."

2 Sentenced After Confessing Assault

Bise and Stecher, charged originally with robbery, pleaded guilty to the lesser complaint. They were accused of assaulting a taxi-cab driver, C. Thompson, last July 25, and taking $6 from him.

HOME COMING QUEEN GWYNETH OWEN
 Queen kicks her way through welcome sign

Beautiful Gwyneth Owen today was beginning two weeks of excitement as homecoming queen at the University of Washington after being chosen last night from forty-five co-eds.

Miss Owen, tall, composed and casual, could only say, "Oh, my goodness!" when her victory was announced. And a few minutes later, as she was being congratulated, added, "I'm awful hungry."

Miss Owen, the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. R. W. Owen, Captain Owen is flight commander of the 116th Observation Squadron, Gray Field, Fort Lewis. The queen likes badminton, swimming, journalism, sailing, and good books. She is a junior and an English major.

"I study hard during the week," she added, as she left for the Delta Gamma Sorority house, "but not on week-ends."

She likes to attend parties, and she will have her chance Saturday, October 25, when she reigns at the annual homecoming dance.

WELDERS PLAN BONFIRE FETE

Seattle welders will build a big bonfire next Sunday, feeding it with their American Federation of Labor union cards, to celebrate their independence, Dave Basor, executive secretary of the Seattle Welders & Burners' Council, said today.

Basor said the bonfire demonstration is planned to follow the welders' mass meeting at the Labor Temple at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Nearly 1,000 welders will meet to form a new union, independent of both the A. F. of L. and Congress of Industrial Organizations, he said.

The welders' action is a result of the A. F. of L. convention refusing to hear the welders' plea for a separate craft union.

"The A. F. of L. now is attempting a form of appeasement to the welders, but it is too late," Basor said. "The men won't stand for it."

Welders in the San Francisco Bay area "went independent," last night, Basor reported.

Early in November, Basor said, welders from all parts of the United States will hold a national meeting to expand the independent union to a nation-wide organization.

Welders are now affiliated with about fifteen international A. F. of L. unions.

GARBAGE FIRM'S BOND INCREASED

The City Council today required Diamond Tank Transport, Inc., city garbage contractor, to increase by $10,000 its security with the city for performance of its contract as a consideration for the Council's revising the method of paying the company to a basis of population served.

At a conference this forenoon, Council President David Levine said, the Council unanimously agreed that the company should be paid on the basis of present population figures, instead of figures of fourteen months old.

The plan will add $34,713.41 to the city's cost for garbage collection.

ACTION DELAYED IN HATUPIN CASE

Superior Court Judge Roger J. Meakim this afternoon granted an arrest of judgment in the case of John Hatupin, 63 years old, a real estate dealer, convicted earlier this month by a jury of second-degree perjury.

The Court's action amounted to a dismissal of the charge against Hatupin. Deputy Prosecutor Patrick Tammany said he intends to appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Judge Meakim granted the motion for arrest of judgment made by Hatupin's attorney, George Crandell, who argued that Hatupin had no criminal intent when he signed an affidavit for a real estate dealer's license last June, stating he had not been convicted of a crime.

In 1938, after a series of court battles in which Hatupin sought to escape imprisonment, Hatupin was convicted of second-degree assault and was sentenced to the state penitentiary, where he served more than a year.

Japanese-Americans Assert Loyalty

SAN FRANCISCO, Friday, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Protesting that its members are good Americans, the Japanese-American Citizen's League today asked for a congressional inquiry to clear it of charges league members helped to raise money for Japan's war chest.

Mike Masoaka, national secretary and field executive of the league, said he had sent letters to President Roosevelt and all United States senators denying charges that the league had shown un-American tendencies.

"As citizens condemned without a hearing, we demand an investigation to prove our loyalty," Masoaka stated.
