

JAPANESE RETURNED TO JAIL

Three Japanese are shown yesterday as they returned to their cells in the King County jail. Center, with the moustache, is Kenji Ito, and ducking his head beside him is Thomas S. Masuda, both Seattle Japanese attorneys charged with acting as agents of Japan without having registered with the State Department. Ito's trial yesterday was set for March 3. Masuda was denied a request to have his bond reduced from $25,000 to $5,000. His trial date has not been set. At the left is Shigeyoshi Waki, 41, charged with violation of the Alien Registration Act. At the right is County Jailer Jim Sullivan.
