

WOODWORKERS' STRIKE AVERTED BY AGREEMENT

150 Lumber Companies and Union Will Arbitrate Differences Over New Scale; $1-a-Day Raise Asked

Removing threat of a strike in the Washington-Oregon lumber industry, representatives of 150 lumber companies and the International Woodworkers of America, affiliated with the Congress of Industrial Organizations, signed an agreement in Washington, D. C., yesterday to arbitrate differences over a new wage scale.

The national War Labor Board has held hearings on the dispute, which involved about 40,000 workers.

A similar dispute between lumber operators and American Federation of Labor unions already is in arbitration.

Unions have been demanding $1-a-day wage increases, one week's vacation with pay, the 40-hour week.

The arbitration hearing on the C. I. O. dispute will be held Wednesday or Thursday in Salt Lake City, with any wage increase made retroactive to April 1.

ALIBI: 'BROTHER DID IT'

Whenever there's a penalty to pay, involving Mablon (left) or Merwyn Banks, 3 years old today, it usually is difficult for their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mablon L. Banks, 11650 20th Ave. N. E., to find the guilty one—even if the parents managed to see the "crime" from a distance. For not only do the youngsters look almost alike, but they have been quick to learn their resemblance is in their favor. It's always "Brother did it." They are shown, in Navy suits, with their individual birthday cakes.

Common Sense, Not Science, Urged to Correct Wayward

Common sense and not the high-sounding terms of sociology and kindred sciences is needed to solve the problems of delinquent boys and girls, Miss Florence Monahan, superintendent of the State School for Girls at Grand Mound, said here yesterday. She was attending the Washington State Conference of Social Work. Although appointed to the position at Grand Mound a month ago, Miss Monahan took charge of the institution within the last few days. "Many persons can use the vocabulary of institutions, of psychology or of sociology, who know little of the fundamentals of putting wayward girls and boys on the right track," Miss Monahan said. "It is idle to talk of 'frustrations,' 'emotional drives' and a score of similar terms when a girl needs to have her thinking re-organized. "A child becomes delinquent when she needs affection and/or when she is belittled or humiliated. She needs to be built up spiritually; to feel that she can accomplish something. She doesn't need the jargon of the sociologist or the psychologist." Miss Monahan has had more than twenty years' experience in reform institutions. She was superintendent of the Reformatory for

JAPANESE GROUP PLEDGES TOTAL EVACUATION AID

League Praises Treatment Given Persons Removed to Interior; Meeting Observes Curfew Rule

Full and willing cooperation with the government in all evacuation steps was pledged last night by 100 members of the Japanese-American Citizens League in Seattle in a session, which may be their last prior to removal to the interior. Appreciation of the "extraordinary measures" taken to safeguard safety and economic welfare of evacuated persons also was expressed in the resolution which was introduced by James Y. Sakamoto, editor of the Japanese-American Courier, and adopted unanimously. The session was held at 517 Main Street.

Clarence Arai, attorney, presided. Discussions were ended early to enable all members to be in their homes not later than 8 o'clock, the curfew time set by military authorities. "Whereas, the military authorities of the United States have decreed that all persons of Japanese descent must be removed from certain zones designated as military areas, and whereas such steps have been taken as a matter of strategic necessity to the safety and defense of the United States; "And whereas, no sacrifice is too great in realizing our avowed objective in prosecuting this war to a successful conclusion, and whereas the government of the United States has taken extraordinary measures under the circumstances to safeguard the comfort, safety, and economic welfare of the persons due to be evacuated; "And whereas, it is the first duty of loyal Americans to obey the orders of their government; "Therefore be it resolved that the Japanese-American Citizens League of Seattle go on record as endorsing cheerful and willing cooperation by the committee with the government agencies in carrying out of evacuation proceedings; and that individual members of the League set an example of good Americanism by doing everything possible to facilitate the execution of a measure deemed necessary to the victory effort of our nation."

Close Houses Of Vice, Army Tells Tacoma

TACOMA, April 18.—(UP)—Tacoma has been given until 9 a. m. Monday to eliminate all houses of prostitution within the city limits or it will be declared "out of bounds" by the Army and troops will not be permitted to visit here. The ultimatum was delivered to T. A. Stevenson, secretary-manager of the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce, today. Stevenson reported to Mayor Harry P. Cain, who hurriedly summoned city councilmen and a citizens' committee to inform them of the Army plans. Police Commissioner Holmes Eastwood failed to attend the meeting. Threats were made by some citizens at the session to begin recall proceedings against the commissioner if he failed to cooperate with the Army. Col. Ralph Glass has prepared a request to be submitted to Fourth Army headquarters at San Francisco asking that the May Act, covering operation of houses of prostitution in restricted areas near Army centers, be enforced unless Tacoma clamps the lid on houses of vice. Houses had been closed in the city during the past few months, but began reopening recently. Police last night notified every operator of a brothel to leave the city.

Timber Guerrillas Ready If Japs Invade Oregon

By United Press. SALEM, Or., April 18.—Out where the West and the threat of a Japanese invasion begin, 60 rough-and-ready Oregon lumberjacks today polished up their own unusual technique of guerrilla warfare, utilizing the tools of their trade—tractors, trucks, trees and dynamite. They are the La Creel guerrillas, modern Paul Bunyons organized into one of several anti-invasion units throughout the state. They took their name from a forest stream originally called "La Creel" by French-Canadian lumberjacks of an earlier day. Charles H. Greenwood, logging superintendent who organized the WAR SUPPLIES TO RUSS UP 250 PCT.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(UP)—President Roosevelt's urgent orders that aid to the Soviet Union be stepped up resulted in March shipments of supplies increasing 250 per cent over February, a lend-lease report showed tonight. Lend-lease aid to all nations friendly to the United States exceeded $3,000,000,000 through March. A third of this entire amount was distributed in February and March, reflecting the extent to which United States war production has been accelerated since all-out conversion began. Lend-lease expenditures were $600,000,000 in March. These disbursements covered all types of lend-lease aid, but provided mainly for supplies actually sent abroad. Requirements of the United States Army and Navy following the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor caused lend-lease shipments to Russia to fall below the promised amounts. President Roosevelt, after reports of Russian complaints, twice ordered shipment of war supplies stepped up until they met the schedule. The resulting increase in shipments to Russia was disclosed in a report of Thomas B. McCabe, acting lend-lease administrator. The report was made public by Stephen T. Early, White House secretary. Early did not know if the Russian deliveries actually have been brought up to date, but said that the lend-lease summary "would indicate that there has been at least some progress."

Governors To Give Permits For Assemblies

FORT LEWIS, April 18.—(UP)—Applications for permission to hold large public gatherings in Oregon and Washington should be addressed to the governor of the state concerned, military authorities said today in clarifying the Army's policy concerning fairs, festivities, parades, conventions, sports contests, meetings and demonstrations. Applications for all large assemblies west of the Cascades should be accompanied by plans outlining the proposed methods for control of traffic and the crowd so as to avoid congestion. Similar plans should be included with applications for assemblies of 5,000 or over regardless of location. For gatherings of less than 5,000 east of the Cascades, plans need accompany only those applications for assemblies which are to be located on arterial highways. It was further explained that authorization for an assembly cannot be granted more than three months in advance and that applications which involve submission of plans should be offered at least one month before the date of the gathering.
