OLYMPIA, May 1.—(AP)—The call went forth today to high school pupils and college students to register for work on Washington farms this summer. F. Hardy, state director of the United States Employment Service, expects approximately 20,000 to volunteer. Registration is being undertaken through the schools.

Fourteen to 30 elements are needed for the optimum growth of plants.

Japanese Sells Store, Buys $13,500 Bonds

PORTLAND, May 1.—A 24-year-old, American-born Japanese, Chicalo Shiochi, gathered his belongings yesterday and prepared to enter an assembly camp, after closing his grocery store and buying $13,500 worth of war bonds with profits accumulated in five years of operation.

RUBBER OF COAL UPSETS EXPERTS

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP)—Within a week or two, government experts will crowd into a little glass laboratory not very far from Washington and demand a put-up-or-shut-up showdown from a man who says he can make rubber from natural gas, grain, and either wood-pulp or coal.

The turn of events in that laboratory may spell the end of the nation's rubber shortage—or spell D-U-D in large, crest-fallen letters.

Product's Quality Good
It's the consensus that there's never been any material quite like it—except rubber itself. Known synthetic rubber reactions are missing, analyses seem to show crude rubber, while actual tests with tires indicate qualities superior to synthetic and equal or superior to crude.

Scientifically, the experts say, it's almost unbelievable; therefore, they have their fingers crossed. Thus far, the inventor has refused to disclose vital details of his process or permit government representatives to witness actual production.

U. S. Ready to Pay
On the strength of the long chances, it was agreed that the inventor would build a small model production plant—of glass, for reasons of economy—and arrange for the show-down. To date, the government hasn't spent a dime and hasn't made any commitments, but Uncle Sam's hand is ready in his pocket on this one.

Retreads Perform Well
In Washington, using materials supplied by him, officials have supervised the retreading of four tires. All have been placed on taxicabs and now have run about 3,000 miles. Under stress of taxi driving they have performed notably.

Easy to Remember
The poster showed a big photograph of the Arizona's tripod mast and turret, wrecked and burned, thrust up from the water at Pearl Harbor.

Diver Brings Up Safe
Weeks later, a diver working in the Arizona's hull, brought up the safe from the commander's cabin. The $20 bill, soggy and oil-stained,

$20 Bill, Off Arizona Hulk, Seeks Revenge Via War Bond

COMDR. L. A. PUCKETT, $20, WAR SAVINGS BOND, and POSTER

A stained $20 bill, which sank with the battleship Arizona when Japanese bombs wrecked her at Pearl Harbor, went looking for revenge today.

The owner of the currency, Comdr. L. A. Puckett, who was the Arizona's supply officer and is now assistant district supply officer for the 13th Naval District, bought a war savings bond with it.

Commander Puckett was keeping the bill for reasons of economy—he lost all his clothes except a set of underwear, two shirts and a civilian suit when the Arizona went down. But when he came down to his office this forenoon, someone had put a new bar-bond poster on the wall.

COUNTY E. O. P. SUPPORTS JONES

King County Republicans, led by County Chairman David J. Williams, gave approval today to the election of Wilder R. Jones of Wenatchee, as state chairman, announced yesterday by the state central committee at Spokane. The King County group also endorsed the program of holding conventions in the six congressional districts instead of one large state convention.

Unanimous Election
Although half a dozen candidates for state chairman were discussed informally at the meeting of the state central committee yesterday at Spokane, no other nomination was made at the election of Jones was unanimous. As an indication of the support of widely separated counties, the nomination made by Joseph Wicks of Okanogan was seconded by George Vogel of Sedro Woolley, Mrs. F. W. Contrell of Toppenish and Warren H. Lewis of Seattle.

Baker Sought for Post
Frederick E. Baker of Seattle informed the committee that National Committeeman William G. Reed and National Chairman Joseph W. Martin had requested him to serve in Reed's post while the latter is in the Navy. Baker attended the recent meeting of the national committee in Chicago.
