Michigan Club to Meet. The Michigan Club will hold a meeting this evening at 8 o'clock in the Alaska Club rooms, Alaska Building. An enjoyable program is promised. This club recently requested the Michigan Legislature to appropriate $75,000 for the A-Y-E Exposition. A bill lately introduced in the Michigan Legislature to appropriate $50,000 for that purpose. There are about 5,000 Michigan people in Seattle as near as can be estimated. Director-General Nadeau is a member of the club and it is thought it may accomplish much good for the exposition.

More Lights for Georgetown. The city council of Georgetown last night approved an ordinance in which the mayor was authorized to make a five-year contract with the Seattle Electric Company for lighting the suburb. A number of new arc lights are to be installed at once by the company, the price being $5 an arc a month. The city now has a street lighting contract with the Seattle-Tacoma Power Company, which expires next October, and the Seattle Electric Company in the ordinance passed last night will be authorized to keep up these lights, as well as to furnish the additional ones.

TWICE SENTENCED TO PRISON

Thomas Warner, Arrested in Seattle on Suspicion, Was Convicted in King and Snohomish Counties for Burglary

If a Third Felony Charge Can Be Made to Stand Prisoner Will Be Sent to Penitentiary for Life.

THOMAS WARNER, who has served two terms in Walla Walla penitentiary for burglary, was arrested last night by Patrolmen Dunlap and Vallandingham, who found Warner wandering about the streets in the lower part of the city, acting in a manner that aroused the suspicion of the men. In his possession was found a kit of mechanical tools, which the police say Warner did not explain satisfactorily how he got possession of. While the police at this time have no felony charge which they can file against Warner, his case will be closely investigated. If it can be determined that he stole the tools he will be charged. Then upon conviction, he would be charged with being a habitual criminal and sentenced to life imprisonment under the cumulative sentence law. Warner was arrested in this city December 25, 1901, on a charge of burglary. Detectives Byrne and Kennedy capturing him in the lower part of the city with tools in his possession which he had taken from a room. He was tried soon afterward and on January 9 following, was sentenced to two years in Walla Walla prison. Warner served more than a year of this sentence and then returned to Seattle. He went to Snohomish and there was caught in another burglary and arrested. He was sentenced to five years more. That sentence he served, and he was released about a month ago. He is said to have been in Seattle about a week. Many of the men at police headquarters recognized him this morning. When accused of being an ex-convict, he readily admitted it. He declares, however, that he has not done anything wrong since he was released. Warner is this year one year old.

CAMPAIGN CANARD SQUELCHED

Ballard Annexation Club Obtains Denial of Story That Judge Thomas Burke Opposes the Movement.

A report circulated by anti-annexationists that Judge Thomas Burke of Seattle had stated that Ballard would be foolish to annex to Seattle at this time has been given the quietus by the Ballard annexation club. The club appointed J. B. Lucas and Ole Thompson to interview Judge Burke to learn if the statement attributed to him was authorized. Judge Burke promptly informed the Ballard delegation that he had never entirely without foundation, and that moreover he would be more than willing to go to Ballard to discuss the matter at a meeting in behalf of the annexation movement. He will probably be asked to do so. According to the report which was put into circulation, Judge Burke said that it would be very wise for Ballard to annex to this city under present conditions, and that Ballard should wait until Seattle has paid off the various debts which she now has before she annexes. Judge Burke, however, says that he views the matter in an entirely different light, being unable to see any reason whatever why Ballard should not become a part of Greater Seattle immediately.

BUILDING PERMITS FOOT UP WELL

Total for February, a Short Month, Represents an Expenditure of More Than a Million Dollars.

Unusual activity marked building operations in this city in February, a short month and one usually quiet in the office of the city building inspector, Louis G. Whittier, chief clerk in the building office, reports that by last night 1,666 permits had been issued, carrying a total expenditure of more than $1,000,000. Up to noon today eighteen permits were issued, representing an expenditure of $4,500. During the year there were but 482 permits issued and $765,755 spent upon building. In addition to this fact that this month has less days than January, and that there were two legal holidays in the month, the showing is considered excellent. It is many thousands of dollars in advance of February of one year ago. Following are the permits issued up until noon:
