FOR MILLIONS

James Cooper Smith of Vancouver May Share in the Fortune of $75,000,000 Left by "Silent" Smith.

The Times Special Service.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Tuesday, April 23.—James Cooper Smith, who has been traveling in the Far East for some months and who by this time is supposed to have left India for Europe, may return to Vancouver many times a millionaire; in fact if rumor is more reliable this time than usual he will lave sufficient wealth to buy and sell Vancouver, pay off the provincial bonded debt and still have enough money left to buy a few automobiles and treat his friends to panatelas.

The fragments of the story behind this sudden accession of Smith to the ranks of the wealthiest of millionaires which have drifted through to his friends in Vancouver are romantic in tings but are thoroughly believed nevertheless.

The man from whom Smith inherits

Itings but are thoroughly believed nevertheless.

The man from whom Smith inherits this wealth died recently in Japan while on his honeymoon tour. He was known to the world as "Silent" Smith. of New York. Since his death the newspapers of the continent have been full of articles dealing with the manner in which he acquired his great wealth and stories of probable contests for it in the courts. The fortune left by "Silent" Smith is estimated at between $50.000,000 and $75.000,000.

Smith of Vancouver walks into this story by several routes, all more or less the creation of rumor. However, the most likely one seems to be that he became a beneficiary through his connection with the Cooper family of Aberdeen, Scotland. Sir George Cooper many years ago married the sister of "Silent" Smith and he and his wife are now on their way to New York in connection with the settlement of the affairs of the decased.

Old George Smith of England was the man from whom "Silent" Smith inherited his great fortune. His sister, Lady Mary Cooper, also came in for a share of George Smith's money.

One report circulating among the friends of Smith is that he was left $25,000,000 directly by "Silent" Smith, the story being to the effect that old George Smith when he died left $25,000.000 directly by "Silent" Smith, the story being to the effect that old George Smith when he died left $25,000.000 incently by "Silent" Smith,

Smith is a large realty owner in this city. For a number of years he was manager of the Bank of British Columbia here bia here.

The Duke and the Duchess of Manchester and Mrs. J. P. Smith, the widow of "Silent" Smith, are passengers on board the Pacific Mail liner Siberia. The remains of Smith are also aboard the Siberia.

Wealthy Brown Man Wanted to Wed Clerk Turns Him Down.

PORTLAND, Ore., Tuesday, April 23.

—M. Kamuria, a member of the wealthy commission firm of Kamuria & Co., of San Francisco, and a descendant of one of the noble families of Japan, was refused a marriage license here yesterday to marry an American girl. County Clerk Fields forbade the license on the grounds of miscegnation.

Kamuria was keenly disappointed. He could not understand why he is not permitted to marry an American girl, provided she is willing, and appealed to the clerks in the county clerk's office. The Japanese said he will try to obtain a license in other counties of the state. He would not give the name of his prospective bride when he learned he could not get a license, and the girl who accompanied him to the courthouse also refused to give her name. She is a pretty brunette about 20 years old. Kamuria, is short of stature and was faultlessly dressed with white vest and silk hat.

BELLINGHAM, Tuesday, April 23:—
C. T. Canfield, fruit inspector for Whatcom County, who has held the position for eight years, has announced that he will perform the work for nothing if the commissioners will again appoint him to the place. He says he will labor in the interests of the fruit industry whether he gets any pay for it or not. A plan was on foot to change his title and have the board of commissioners pay him for the work. County Auditor James A Miller stated emphatically today that he will sign no warrants for a fruit inspector, no matter what title he bears.

DOCTORS MISTAKES Are said often to be buried six feet under

But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kid-ney disease, enother from nervous pros-tration, another with pain here and there tration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or overbusy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The Obysician, squorant of the couse of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are myde. # DAM COMPLETED

Big Gates Closed and Project for Reclamation of Lower Yakima Valley Inaugurated by Government.

Work Was Hastened to Utilize Great Downpour From Sides of Mountains in the Spring Freshets.

The Times Special Service,
LAKE KEECHELUS, Tuesday, April 23.—The storage dam at the source of the Yakima River at Lake Keechelus was completed today, which marks the inauguration of the jugantic project for the reclamation of the lower Yakima Valley. The big gates were closed for the first time and the waters of the lake allowed to rise to the height of the dam, passing over the spillway. All preparations were completed for the event one week ago and Engineer Jacobs, supervising engineer of the project visited the scene of operations and expressed his approval of the construction work.

ject visited the scene of operations and expressed his approval of the construction work.

Owing to the plans of the reclamation service, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railrond, which skirts the entire west shore line of the lake, was forced to change the original plans and run the right of way above the proposed elevation of the lake.

The dem itself is known as the "log rock-ribbed type" and is 256 feet in length from bank to bank. It has a spilliway ten feet above the mean elevation of the lake and will impound $74,000,000 cubic feet of water. The construction of the dam was begun last September and involved an expenditure of $25,000. Eighty men have been engaged upon the work. The material, consisting of rock and earth, was blasted from the bed of the river.

Every effort was made to complete the dain before the spring freshets, so the flood waters might be conserved for summer consumption in the lower valley. This was made possible by the lateness of the spring season and the increased force of employes.

The raising of the lake will submerge a valuable tract of timber at the head of the lake and cause the removal of the present quarters of the rairond construction crews on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Road.

to Double Price of Large Area Desired by Grand Trunk.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Tuesday, April 22.—News was received on the steamship Camosun from the North a few evenings ago that there probably will be a prolonged dispute over the sale of Indian lands to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company, as the Indians have refused to sell their land for $15 an acre.

Passengers on the Camosun reported that things were at a standstill at Prince Rupert. Nothing except the lumber mill is running. Many engineers and surveyors are at Kitamaat, surveying for the government. The telephone wires at Prince Rupert are being strung and will be as far as Aberdeen, on the Skeena River, in less than a week.

COLVILLE, Tuesday, April 23.—Mary Ang Lassinger, an Indian woman of the Colville tribes, was found by Mrs. Charley Smith, the wife of a halfbreed, dead, in the Kettle River, the other morning. They indulged in a free for all fight before leaving the north side of the river at 8 o'clock in the evening. They rode in a spring wagon, and took supper at Smith's where they had another fight. They left the Smith place about midnight, and it is thought the killing must have been done by one of the River and the body there thrown into the stream.
