

NINE GUILTY OF REGISTRY CHARGE

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Nine Friends of Progress members today stood convicted of failure to register the Los Angeles organization as subversive but court prosecution was not over for two of them.

Robert Noble and Ellis O. Jones, who with seven others were convicted of the state's charges last night by a jury of ten women and two men, now face trial in Washington, D. C., on an indictment which says they tried to undermine the morale of the American armed forces.

These two also were convicted of sedition last July 11 in Los Angeles United States District Court.

Other defendants who will be sentenced Monday morning by Judge Raymond T. Coughlin are F. K. Ferret, Barton van Meter, Daniel van Meter, James McBride and his wife, Joan; Leone Menier and Genevieve Kerrigan. They face $5,000 fines, five years in prison or both as maximum penalties.

The state maintained at the 12-week long trial that the Friends of Progress advocated overthrow of the United States government and was dominated by foreign forces, particularly the German Nazi Party.

Noble, founder of the group, denied it was subversive but expressed praise for the Axis powers. He said the organization's aim was to keep America out of war.

YANK PILOTS BEAT OFF MASS ATTACK

CAIRO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A United States desert air task force of medium bombers and fighters again hammered enemy landing fields yesterday, scoring at least two direct hits among grounded Axis planes, United States Headquarters announced today.

Royal Air Force communicos said that British fighter planes shot down six Axis aircraft—to which United States fighters added a seventh—over the Egyptian battlefront yesterday, and many more were destroyed in bombing attacks on Axis airbases.

The plane downed by United States fighters on Oct. 30 was a Messerschmitt-109 which attacked an escorted American bomber formation. United States fighters and fighter-bombers also destroyed several enemy vehicles in attacks on transport along desert roads.

In addition, the British bulletin said, four enemy raiders were shot out of the sky over Malta.

The communicos also reported that a number of grounded Axis planes were set afire by heavy bombers which attacked the airbase at Malme, Crete, the night of October 21.

The Germans reported that their planes had sunk a 5,000-ton merchant ship in the Red Sea the night of October 21 and said that Axis air formations were continuing their attacks on Malta.

Oregon's Election Registration Drops

SALEM, Or., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Oregon registration for the November 3 general election totals 534,522, a 12.7 per cent decrease since the 1940 general election, and the lowest figure since 1934, the State Department said yesterday.

Republicans outnumber the Democrats 272,323 to 255,464.

'High Wine' Makers Get U. S. Sales Price

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Office of Price Administration today authorized producers of "high wines" to establish ceiling prices for sales to the government-owned Defense Supplies Corporation, at their costs of production plus 2 cents a gallon.

The War Production Board is encouraging production of "high wines" in order to augment ethyl-alcohol supplies, important in production of rubber, explosives, and many other products needed for war purposes. "High wines" is a trade term for ethyl alcohol of less than 188 proof.

Tube Rule Waived On Service Gifts

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Gift kits containing shaving cream or toothpaste can be purchased for friends or relatives in the armed forces without turning in old tubes. The War Production Board said today that to make sure the kits go to service men, however, the gift boxes must be delivered or mailed by the merchant.

To be eligible for this exemption, the kit must contain sufficient other articles so that the shaving cream or toothpaste does not exceed 25 per cent of the value of the kit.

Adm. Darlan's Son Reported Poisoned

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—With Adm. Jean Darlan, chief of Vichy French armed forces, on tour in French Africa, the Axis radio circulated today a story that his son, an officer of the Vichy fleet, had been poisoned.

In roundabout fashion, the German radio quoted a Rome dispatch based in turn on a report to the newspaper Il Messaggero from Tunis. This dispatch said that young Darlan, the admiral's only son, had been taken ill suddenly with symptoms of paralysis but that the first clinical examination showed that he had been poisoned.

The Argentinian government has established a corporation to stimulate the growing of olives.

Vanderveer's Colorful Life Recalled by Members of Bar

Members of the Seattle bar recalled today some of the outstanding events in the colorful career of George F. Vanderveer, which in its more important aspects, began and ended in Seattle.

At the Bonney-Watson Chapel tomorrow at 2 o'clock, private funeral services will be held.

The summation of his life and works was made in the little scrupulously kept office of the stirring events which filled his career.

It was his early career in Seattle which began 40 years ago, that attracted most interest. As deputy prosecuting attorney in the office of Kenneth Mackintosh, he attracted public attention by his skill in handling criminal cases.

Becomes Prosecutor In 1908, John F. Miller, who later was a member of Congress for a decade, resigned the position of chief deputy prosecuting attorney to take the office of mayor. Mr. Vanderveer succeeded to the post of chief deputy and later to the position of prosecutor.

As adviser to the grand jury of 1910, he became familiar with one of the least admirable periods of life in the city and King County. The grand jury denounced conditions in the city and made disclosures which led to the recall of Mayor Hiram C. Gill a few months later.

Rewrites Criminal Code At the 1909 session of the Legislature, Mr. Vanderveer was chosen by the Prosecuting Attorneys' Association of Washington to rewrite the state's criminal code. The laws defining criminal offenses and prescribing penalties were a hodgepodge. Disparities and contradictions abounded and everywhere it was recognized that the code needed complete revision.

The greater part of the body of Washington's criminal statutes is today contained in the language of Mr. Vanderveer. It has been added to substantially during the past 30 years and modified in some particulars, but for the most part it represents the ideas of King County's brilliant young prosecutor.

Becomes I. W. W. Attorney Although Mr. Vanderveer won distinction as a prosecutor, he later became one of the ablest defense lawyers in the state.

His defense of the Everett dock rioters in 1916 and his defense of the men accused of slaying members of the American Legion following the Armistice Day parade of 1919 in Centralia are well known. It led his selection as the foremost attorney for the I. W. W. everywhere.

During the years when his practice led him to many states, Seattle lost sight of him. However, in conservative circles a strong prejudice was built up against his clients.

This prejudice flared up when Mr. Vanderveer returned to this city to make his home.

Although many persons had cause to resent Mr. Vanderveer's resourcefulness and energy in conducting his cases, nobody ever questioned his honesty. In his most frequent moods he was affable and kindly. He was always regarded as loyal to his friends and faithful to his pledged word.

'Moonshiners' May Make Own 'Gas' in South

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Victor F. Barnett, chairman of Tulsa's War Transportation Committee, warned today that gasoline moonshiners may make enforcement of rationing a problem in some oil-producing areas.

"It is too easy to make gasoline; much easier than it is to make moonshine whiskey," Barnett declared.

"This section abounds in crude oil. A motorist can make his own gasoline from crude. It's unsafe, but all he needs is a drum which can stand some heat."

Barnett said that by heating a drum of crude oil and condensing the vapors that boil off, a gasoline of about 50 octane could be obtained. Standard-brand gasolines are about 70-72 octane.

Barnett said that this section of the nation was geared to automobile transport, with many railroad passenger lines long discontinued and the rails pulled up for use elsewhere.

Eden Internee Killed TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Yae Kato, 40 years old, Japanese beet-flier worker and mother of two children, died Wednesday night from injuries received when a wheel of a loaded beet truck passed over her body.

She is survived by her husband, a son and a daughter. The family resided at Seattle before coming to the relocation center near Eden.

Frank R. Phillips Dies VALLEY FORGE, Pa., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Frank R. Phillips, 65 years old, chairman of the board of the Philadelphia Company, died today at his farm near Valley Forge.

Phillips in January resigned as president of the Philadelphia Company and was elected board chairman and chairman of the executive committee.

From 1784 to 1788, a State of Franklin was established to govern citizens of what is now the State of Tennessee. The area had been ceded to the United States by North Carolina, and residents feared the national government would not make provisions for their government.

Armed Civilian Ends Oregon Felons' Dash

KENNEWICK, Benton County, Oct. 23.—(AP)—An armed horseman last night captured Roy H. Randall and Charles E. Owens, Oregon prison trustees, after they had driven to within 20 miles of here in a stolen automobile.

Delegates said the problem of excess labor in shipyards would be discussed, but added there was no excess in the Puget Sound yard.

P. P. Dolan, one of three supervisory observers from Puget Sound, said the conference was a great "pep talk" and there were some things labor leaders wanted to ask, but they had been limited to 5-minute factual reports.

Club members who successfully completed a year's work and received their first-year pins, were: Bonnie Gilmore, Alice Luke, Ruth Hendricks, Lila Sager, James Lillquist, Marvin Runyan and Eugene Schloesser.
