ARMY MAY GUARD DAMS NEAR JAPS

LOS ANGELES, June 17.—(AP)—A congressional committee, investigating conditions in Japanese relocation centers conferred today with an Army representative on measures for adequate protection of dams, reservoirs and other strategic installations in the vicinity of the camps.

The Dies subcommittee yesterday heard a former employee of the Heart Mountain relocation center, Wyoming, testify that large stocks of food had been hoarded there, some of which he said he believed had been traded by the Japanese for whiskey.

Earl A. Best, a wounded veteran of Dunkerque, who said his son, Clifford, was killed in Africa last January, told the committee yesterday he was sent to Heart Mountain last December as an associate steward after having served for a time as chief steward at the Poston, Ariz., relocation center.

During a month-long inventory of food at the Heart Mountain camp, Best said, he found 36 of the center's 42 kitchens had supplies hidden in their attics.

At one time while I was there, there were 10,000 gallons of mayonnaise, when they were using only 600 gallons a month," Best testified.

Expressing the belief that "it was a case of their wanting to steal it and trade it for whiskey and other things," Best declared he had heard from Japanese at the camp that a chef was trading hams for whiskey with Japanese soldiers from the United States Army who visited the camp on furlough.

Best said the garbage collector was selling chickens to the Japanese and that many of the chickens had as much as 200 to 300 pounds of chickens on hand. No money was ever seen to change hands in such transactions, Best added.

Auxiliary South End Rifle Class Opens

An auxiliary rifle school, to serve residents of the south districts of the city, will start at 8 o'clock tonight at the West Seattle Golf Course clubhouse, 35th Avenue Southwest and Avalon Way.

Ammunition and equipment is available for men and youths 16 years of age and older who register for the 12-week course, said Verne Haroldson, manager. Classes will be held Thursday evenings.

C. M. Sizer, secretary of the Washington State Rifle Association, is class director. Wally Burnham is assistant director, Cecil McKinstry, executive officer, and Frank Weston, head coach. Other

Awards Given Cadets

Outstanding-cadet awards at the Puget Sound Naval Academy, Bainbridge Island, were given to Leo

Jason Healey, son of Mrs. Dorothy J. Healey of Olympia, and Neil Camp Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fowler, Everett. Healey was awarded a medal as the outstanding cadet of the year, while Fowler won the athletic award. Venezuela is tightening its control over food prices.

W. R. A. Attorney Makes Unusual Move in Arizona

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 17.—(AP)—The Arizona Corporation Commission announced today that John H. Terry, War Relocation Authority attorney, who threatened during a three-day hearing before the commission to sue its members individually for damages, requested the short hand reporter to permit him to examine his remarks before a transcript is made.

In a letter to the reporter, Louis L. Billar, the commission director, requested as "amazing and highly unethical" and suggested it "should be brought to the attention of the appropriate state bar."

Terry, formerly of New York City, represented the Rivers, Ariz., relocation center at a hearing requested by the W. R. A. to protest the commission's cancellation of articles of incorporation of a Japanese cooperative. The fate of the cooperative was taken under advisement.

The commission instructed Billar to disregard Terry's request and deliver the transcript "without the change of a word."
