

DEMOS PLAN TO NAME MARTIN

Having obtained the liberal pension allowance provided in Initiative No. 141 at the hands of the people, and an allowance of more than $98,000,000 for the Department of Social Security at the hands of the Legislature, the advocates of bigger pensions temporarily are resting.

The political feud between the forces affiliated with the Washington Commonwealth Federation and Martin began in 1936 when John C. Stevenson was endorsed for governor. It continued throughout Martin's second term.

It was in 1936 that the W. C. F. attained its greatest strength. It dominated the Democratic state convention at Aberdeen when E. A. Carroll of East Wenatchee was elected Democratic national committeeman, and Mrs. Eileen Baumgarten of Seattle was elected national committee woman.

The Democratic state central committee named Roscoe Drumheller national committeeman and Mrs. Elsie Gardner Pickens as national committee woman. Eventually, after a year of bickering, James A. Farley, national chairman, decided in favor of the convention-elected members of the national committee.

Left-wing Falls Off Since the group of ultra-liberals led by the W. C. F. attained its greatest strength in the Legislature in the session of 1937, there has been a steady falling off in the so-called left-wing bloc.

It was in the last session that it attained its greatest success in the liberality of the allowance for old-age pensions. While both major political parties maintain sparsely manned headquarters this year, the lack of interest in the Washington Commonwealth Federation and its subsidiary, the Old Age Pension Union, is probably the result of prosperity and the attainment of its principal objectives.

Political leaders will inform former Governor Martin that his foes during the four years of his second term have either disappeared or are preoccupied with other matters.

DAILY HINTS: MONDAY—The casserole dish would be good to take on the holiday picnic, keeping it hot by sufficient wrapping.

TUESDAY—Use the pork remaining from Sunday's roast to make the barbecue slices. WEDNESDAY—Use dehydrated soup for lunch. SATURDAY—Save one-half of the can of peaches for molded salad on Sunday.

Cecil Solly's GARDEN HELPS

Still Time to Plant Squash, Beets, Carrots, Corn, Beans

By CECIL SOLLY About this time the gardener must courageously take account of stock and fill his memo pad with a bunch of "musts." Early July is the last time to get the garden into shape and really going on all fronts.

The Vegetables Push along early planted ones with a side dressing of 3-8-7. Much rain has leached out the initial application. Keep it from coming in contact with the foliage and cultivate it into the soil along both sides of the row.

Plant More Cabbage and Cauliflower While the ground is still soft and moist is a good time to set out at least 20 more plants each of cabbage and cauliflower.

Vine Will Very soon the bush peas will be picked. The vines should be immediately chopped up and spaded back into the rows while still soft and green.

Fertilize Now Fertilizer is applied to the ground around plants so that they may have additional food and thus make stronger growth from which to set superior fruits.

Complete commercial fertilizers such as the Victory fertilizer sold this year, should never be so carelessly applied that any of this material would come in direct contact with the stems or foliage of the plants.

Don't use so much fertilizer, that is just as bad as not at all. For most vegetables, a tablespoonful applied in a ring around each plant is sufficient if the fertilizer is used in a dry form.

Fertilizer applied in liquid form is the best method. As plants must have food at all times, it is much better to use fertilizer in that way in the beginning rather than to apply it in dry form and then water it into the ground.

String Beans "Snap" Beans are so popular that they are grown in most gardens. Not only because they are good to eat, but because they average such a large yield for the amount of space planted.

Victory Gardener's Nine Points Here are nine things we are striving for, as set forth by Albert C. Burrage, author of "Twenty-Minutes-a-Day Garden."

SOLONS FAVOR JAP SEGREGATION

By United Press. WASHINGTON, July 3.—(UP)—The Senate military affairs committee today recommended enactment of a resolution calling for segregation of Japanese of "questionable loyalty" in the United States from loyal Japanese in internment camps.

Senator Sheridan Downey, Democrat, Calif., author of the resolution, said he would bring the recommendation before the Senate on Monday.

The resolution requests President Roosevelt to direct the War Relocation Authority to weed out disloyal Japanese and to set up "additional safeguards" against sabotage. It also demands a complete "authoritative public statement" by the W. R. A. as to conditions in war relocation centers.

Committee Investigates Camps The committee's investigation was patterned on recommendations of a military affairs subcommittee headed by Senator A. B. Chandler, Democrat, Kentucky, which investigated war relocation camps.

Masaoka's charge that a rift existed between civilian and military authorities in the War Department on the question of removing Japanese from the West Coast brought an immediate denial from a War Department observer at the hearing.

Officer Denies Rift The charge was contained in a letter from Masaoka and read by committee investigators. The hearing was interrupted at this point by Capt. John M. Hall, from the office of Assistant Secretary of War John J. McCloy, who declared: "As far as I was concerned—and I was in a position to know—no such rift did arise."

Masaoka's letter said Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson had "taken steps to slap" Lieut. Gen. John L. D. Witt for statements opposing return of Japanese-Americans to the Pacific Coast. De Witt, chief of the Western Defense Command, had said, "A Jap is a Jap."

Masaoka's letter asserted "reliable sources" informed him all government branches "except the military favored" the "humaneness" program to permit Japanese-Americans to return to the Pacific Coast.

Monday, July 5 This is an unimportant day in planetary direction, but fortunate for leaders who influence public opinion. Speakers and writers should be able to arouse patriotic feeling and stimulate war effort.

Heart and Home: Work instead of play will be most sought on this day which will be marked by historic events for us in foreign lands. Under this configuration little interest in entertaining or the usual gaieties may be manifested.
