

U. S. BOMBS SINK JAP SHIP

YANKS' TARGET—This close-up view of a Jap merchantman being bombed by a United States Army Air Forces bomber in the Southwest Pacific was taken by Sgt. John A. Boiteau of South-bridge, Mass., on his first photographic mission. He was awarded the Air Medal. The ship was sunk. The circles indicate crouching Japanese sailors trying to dodge the death-dealing bombs.—A. P. wirephoto from United States Army Air Forces made public today.

SALAMAUA ATTACK

"BEAUTIFUL PICTURE"—While on a bombing run over Salamaua, New Guinea, before its capture by the Allies, Sergt. John A. Boiteau, Army photographer aboard a Liberator bomber, said he couldn't help taking this picture, "It was such a beautiful shot." Note bomb bursts lower left and ship on beach, upper right.—A. P. wirephoto from United States Army Air Forces.

NO—NOT 'GRAPES OF WRATH'

SOMEWHERE IN ITALY—A British soldier who are tramping wine grapes—a method of juice extraction since time immemorial.—A. P. wirephoto.

CALIFORNIA FIRES CONTROLLED

IN SAN DIEGO COUNTY YESTERDAY—Billowing clouds of smoke rise from one of four major fires in San Diego County as flames slowly creep over a ridge near Otay. Today brush fires that have plagued Southern California from the Santa Monica Mountains to the Mexican border, a distance of 160 miles, for several days, are reported virtually under control.—A. P. wirephoto.

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Nov. 10.—(AP)—A glittering chain of brush fires extending 160 airline miles from the Mexican border to Ventura, Calif., was controlled or near control today after devastating thousands of acres of range land and watershed, killing cattle, razing dwellings and threatening an important oil field. In the Santa Monica Mountains, flames which have destroyed 150 houses and cabins since Saturday were pocketed in Dume Canyon, six miles west of the Malibu Beach film colony, where County Forester Spence D. Turner said they had been "pretty well checked" by 1,500 service men and civilian fire fighters. He declared he believed incendiarism responsible.

Congress May Act to Head Off Railway Strike

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Congressional intervention to head off a threatened strike of 1,100,000 railroad workers became increasingly likely today. A Senate subcommittee called on Fred M. Vinson, economic stabilization director, to defend his order rejecting the non-operating brotherhoods' demand for an 8-cents-an-hour pay boost. Before the committee is a joint Senate-House resolution designed to override Vinson and put the increase into effect. Chairman Johnson, Democrat, Colorado, predicted approval of the resolution "unless Mr. Vinson presents some very sound reasons why we shouldn't." At a hearing yesterday, George M. Harrison, president of the railroad clerks, one of the largest of the brotherhoods involved in the wage dispute, said the heads of all 15 of the nonoperating brotherhoods are ready to fix a date for a strike upon completion of a vote among the unions' membership. He pledged, however, that a walkout would be put off until Congress had had time to act.

Miners Ask $1.30 to $2.30 A Day Pay Increase

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, affiliate of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, yesterday asked for pay increases ranging from $1.30 to $2.30 a day, a closed shop, 5 and 10 per cent pay premiums for afternoon and night work and seven days' sick leave, in hearings before the nonferrous metals commission of the War Labor Board at the Utah Capitol. The hearings involve 12,750 nonferrous metal miners employed by 21 companies in Utah, Nevada, Arizona and Idaho. The union seeks increases of $1.30 for muckers and common labor, $1.50 for workers in certain smelter classifications, $1.80 for muckers and $2.30 for miners.

Spaniards Home From Russia

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, Nov. 10.—(AP)—A contingent of 819 officers and men of the Spanish "Blue Legion" under command of Maj. Jose Allique has arrived at San Sebastian from the Russian front. The group was the largest to return to Spain recently. The original Koh-i-noor diamond weighed slightly more than 185 carats.

Gift Hobby

IN TORONTO—This stern-faced man is Harry F. McLean, 60 years old, of Merrickville, Ont., who has brought good cheer to the tune of $15,000 in cash gifts anonymously during the past ten days. Giving away money—$100 here, $50 there—is this war contractor's hobby and he doesn't talk about it.—A. P. wirephoto.

Tule Victim

BEATEN—Edward H. Borbeck, assistant internal security policeman at the Tule Lake, Calif., Japanese relocation center, who testified yesterday he was beaten by Japanese internees November 4, just before the Army moved into the concentration camp to preserve order. The California State Senate investigation is continuing.—A. P. wirephoto.

Yank Raider

HITS NAZIS—First Lieut. Jack E. Knuppenburg of Bellingham, Wash., a United States Army Air Forces bombardier, who has been raiding Nazis over Italy and Greece in the Flying Fortress, Little Red Head.—A. P. photo.

Permanent Army Rule At Jap Camp Urged

TULELAKE, Calif., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Retention of Army control over the Tule Lake Segregation Center for disloyal Japanese was advocated today in the wake of a two-day state senatorial investigation. Representative Claire Engle, Democrat, California, who came out from Washington to sit in on the hearing into last week's disturbances at the camp, said he believed "it would be a calamity to prevent them from driving a truck into the prohibited administration area. This incident was simultaneous with Japanese convergence on the home of Ray R. Best, the project director, who quickly telephoned for the Army. Army tanks, armored cars and troops immediately moved into the center and quieted down the 15,000 internees. "Conchie's Work in Camp Miss Seemah Bottat, a W. R. A. secretary at the center, testified at last night's wind-up session that some women employees who were "conscientious objectors in theory" had told the Japanese they were "justified at Pearl Harbor" and had sympathized with the Nipponese to the point of entertaining them in their homes. A quantity of weapons, including guns, home-made bombs and hundreds of knives, and short-wave radio equipment has been found by soldiers searching the Japanese colony, it was learned. Testimony brought out that most of the knives were manufactured in the camp's machine shop. There was no indication the radio equipment had been set up for transmission. George B. Lueck, assistant fire-protection officer at the Japanese colony, testified that Japanese flags had been flown by the inmates as recently as last week, and that Nippon flags and photographs of Emperor Hirohito were displayed together in the outdoor theatre of the camp. Clifford Kallam, former W. R. A. farm superintendent, testified that a group of Japanese jumped him, threw him to the floor, and forced him to sign a statement that the only farm work they should do was to help provide food for their own mess halls. Robert Cozzens, regional W. R. A. director, testified to his belief that the ringleaders of the group largely responsible for the violence and trouble were members of the Buoku-Kai, a Japanese-American society which has been accused of acting as a Japanese military intelligence organization. Cozzens said "they are the type of gangster Jap that has been trying to get control of the colony here."

Yesterday's testimony included that of Edward Borbeck, assistant chief of internal security at the center, who said that Japanese clubbed him unconscious last Thursday night as he attempted to prevent them from driving a truck into the prohibited administration area. This incident was simultaneous with Japanese convergence on the home of Ray R. Best, the project director, who quickly telephoned for the Army. Army tanks, armored cars and troops immediately moved into the center and quieted down the 15,000 internees.

"Conchie's Work in Camp Miss Seemah Bottat, a W. R. A. secretary at the center, testified at last night's wind-up session that some women employees who were "conscientious objectors in theory" had told the Japanese they were "justified at Pearl Harbor" and had sympathized with the Nipponese to the point of entertaining them in their homes.

A quantity of weapons, including guns, home-made bombs and hundreds of knives, and short-wave radio equipment has been found by soldiers searching the Japanese colony, it was learned. Testimony brought out that most of the knives were manufactured in the camp's machine shop. There was no indication the radio equipment had been set up for transmission. George B. Lueck, assistant fire-protection officer at the Japanese colony, testified that Japanese flags had been flown by the inmates as recently as last week, and that Nippon flags and photographs of Emperor Hirohito were displayed together in the outdoor theatre of the camp. Clifford Kallam, former W. R. A. farm superintendent, testified that a group of Japanese jumped him, threw him to the floor, and forced him to sign a statement that the only farm work they should do was to help provide food for their own mess halls. Robert Cozzens, regional W. R. A. director, testified to his belief that the ringleaders of the group largely responsible for the violence and trouble were members of the Buoku-Kai, a Japanese-American society which has been accused of acting as a Japanese military intelligence organization. Cozzens said "they are the type of gangster Jap that has been trying to get control of the colony here."

Yesterday's testimony included that of Edward Borbeck, assistant chief of internal security at the center, who said that Japanese clubbed him unconscious last Thursday night as he attempted to prevent them from driving a truck into the prohibited administration area. This incident was simultaneous with Japanese convergence on the home of Ray R. Best, the project director, who quickly telephoned for the Army. Army tanks, armored cars and troops immediately moved into the center and quieted down the 15,000 internees.

"Conchie's Work in Camp Miss Seemah Bottat, a W. R. A. secretary at the center, testified at last night's wind-up session that some women employees who were "conscientious objectors in theory" had told the Japanese they were "justified at Pearl Harbor" and had sympathized with the Nipponese to the point of entertaining them in their homes.

A quantity of weapons, including guns, home-made bombs and hundreds of knives, and short-wave radio equipment has been found by soldiers searching the Japanese colony, it was learned. Testimony brought out that most of the knives were manufactured in the camp's machine shop. There was no indication the radio equipment had been set up for transmission. George B. Lueck, assistant fire-protection officer at the Japanese colony, testified that Japanese flags had been flown by the inmates as recently as last week, and that Nippon flags and photographs of Emperor Hirohito were displayed

Rising Tide Of Short Haircuts Worries Trade

By NICK BOURNE
United Press Staff Correspondent
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—Barber-college heads and union officials today sought to stem the rising tide of men's high-water, or porcupine, haircuts. New customers meeting strange barbers because of the wartime shift in population and the 33 per cent shortage of barbers have men's hair standing on end, an under-the-hat survey showed. American men are bristling between their ears because: 1. Many star barbers have gone to war. 2. New barber-college graduates tend to cut hair too short, like the man trying to even up the legs of a wobbly table by cutting one leg, then the others, until no legs are left. 3. Men hurry during wartime, order haircuts shorter. 4. Barbers work at a faster clip during wartime. 5. There are very few young dandies left out of uniform for the barbers to practice the long, flowing styles on. 6. More men than ever tell the barber: "Take off lots of it but not too much."

French Political Shuffle Hasty, Say Communists

ALGIERS, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle was left in virtually undisputed control of the French Committee of National Liberation today after the resignation of Gen. Henri Giraud as co-President and other sweeping changes which drew Communist censure of hasty action in the committee's reconstruction. Giraud's withdrawal, which, however, left him in command of the French armed forces, came at an unannounced meeting yesterday at which the committee adopted two decrees dropping five members, adding seven others and ordaining a separation of civilian and military powers. An official announcement said that both decrees were signed by all members present, including Giraud. The reshuffle gave the committee a completely De Gaulle tinge and left the Communists unrepresented. One Communist assemblyman, Andre Mercier, assailed the De Gaulle lists for too much speed in reshaping the committee, criticizing them for not waiting until changes could be discussed "in broad daylight."

Anthony Eden Home
LONDON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden returned today from the tri-partite conferences in Moscow after a stop-over in Cairo, where he talked with Turkish Foreign Minister Numan Menemenciozlu.

LUXURY TREAT WHEN GOOD FRIENDS MEET...

Famous OLD FORESTER

There is nothing better in the market

PINT—$2.47 QUART—$4.86

BROWN-FORMAN DISTILLERY COMPANY, INC.; at LOUISVILLE in KENTUCKY

