SAYDNARA", MR. SHIRREI

ou have been a true pioneer in the job you have held as director of a WRA center, the prime importance in which was the re-creation of the broken lives of 15,000 human beings as a consequence of the most imprecedented event in the history of our land.

You have done the job well, for which we are all very grateful. It is to the credit of your personality, as exemplified in the strongth of your character and your conception of humanity and true denocracy, that there has never been an unfortunate incident occurring in our community during your administration.

No doubt the times have been most trying to you, as a government agent, and to us, as evacuees, during the past half year of our residence in Tule Lake. Y u have spent many a sleepless nights over the deep-rooted problems involved in the administration of a community of this type. For, these problems were the problems of humanity, and not mechanics; not political science or economics.

You have weathered these stormy days with flying colors. The days are peaceful and calm in Tule Lake You have won the respect and confidence of the Colony, so much so that our older residents are now able to come out in the public to say, "our father," in calling you.

That feeling of appreciation toward the goodwill of the civil government of the United States, as manifested through your personality, is being openly declared among our colonists here today. This has been a slow process, but it is a healthy sign that our evacuoes are able to look upon the future with hope and confidence. Your successor, whoever he is, will have a comparatively easy job as director of the Tule Lake WRA Project.

So, then, "sayonera" to you! It means, till we meet again, for surely we can mover forget "our father." Good luck, and the sensen's bost wishes .- HMI

LET'S MAKE-BELIEVE

By Clara M. Bode When bells ring out this Christmas Eve, Let's play the gare of make-bolieve; Let's make-believe there is no war, No bursting bombs, no cannon roar, No call to arms, no quick goodbyes, No broken hearts, no stifled cries. Let's make-believe we see the star That led the wise men from afar. Let's make-believe that we can hear The angels' song, se sweet and elecr; The song they sang ge'r Bethlohem's hill, Of peace on ourth, to men good-will. Let's make-believe that we can see The shephords hastoning joyfully That they might worship and behold Their Savior-King, so long foreteld. Let's make-believe that we are there With Mary's child, so wondrous fair. Let's rake-believe that we can feel His holy presence as we kneel. Perhaps before, the bells shall coase Our hearts shall find. that perfect place :-That comes when men, bolieve again

The foregoing poem, written by Mrs. Clara M. Bode of New Knoxville, O. was meant for "Dear Friends" in the Tule Lake Colony. Her oldest son was due to leave for the Navy the day following this poor was written.

WHITE XMAS COMES TO LITTLE BOB

A TENDER STORY OF WARMTH AND BEAUTY OF WHITE SNOW

In a country not a million miles away, a story is told of little Bob who met an angel.

Little Bob lived in shanty town across a railroad track from a great big city. It was a dirty, a sordid, depressing place as you'll ever see anywhere. And little Bob hadnever known a Christ-

Came one Christmas eve. That year they say a huge star, bright as any three in the skies, seemed to hover over shanty town casting its crystal light downward. The populace of the big city look for it still when the 24th comes around each year. They look for it just above the church steeple down by the tracks.

But anyway, that night, a pale moon sprinkled silver on the white blanket of snow and the trees and shacks seemed to be halo-ed with a whiteness which gave breath to beauty, peace and love.

Little Bob was crying softly to himself. He had heard tell of a gold Santa, who filled stackings and base of trees with wondrous gifts. But his stockings had always been empty.

Bitterness swept into his heart. A crippling of his thoughts to all fine things set in. He was a world apart from happiness and love, he thought and he wept harder.

Tion, Little Bob, a voice called. He looked and there before him an angel with beautiful silver wings stood. She reached for him and held him close and kissed his tears away. And in that kiss of tenderness and caress of warmth bitterness took flight before a surge of peace and love.

Bob cuddled close to her and soon slept meeting a Santa whose gifts were love of fellow men, peace among all nations, and a world seeped in goodwill and beauty of clean white snow.

To little Bob, Cristmas came that night, a white Christmas with an angel Santa's gift.

THE Other Side

has always meantmore to us than any other period of the year ... When we were young, we liked it for the presents and the cheerfulness it meant. seems like yesterday when we were sitting under our gaily decorated Knns tree by our big front window eagerly opening the packages from ma and pa, brothers and sisters and friends ... From the radio we could hear the beautiful singing of the Kmas carols...Outside on the peaceful white blanketof snow we could see the kids snowballing and sledding down the hill past our house. Then we would excitedly join them ... Those were great days.

Later in our life when we worked downtown we loved the spirit of the people during the Xmas rush... It was fun being part of the buying and madding crowd...We bought 'til it hurt but we loved it for the joy that brought to cur loved ones . Then we would go to church, visit people, take in the big Xmas Eve hop at the Castle and perhaps even raise hell ... Those were also wonderful days.

Today, all of us with our memories locked in our hearts, are going to go thru a strange and different Xmas.

But let us not be bitter. People all over the world are suffering terribly this year. Let us in relocation centers carry on with the Xmas spirit.

Tomorrow, we have confidence that "Peace on Earth, Goodwill Towards Wen," will reign.

TERMITES, BL. 22 KEEP JR. LEAD

Tormites and Block 22 maintained their Junior Casaba League leadership this week as they both won their games last Saturday to keep undefeated.

Sac'to Frosh became another victim of the high-scoring Block 22 team as they were handed a 60 to 23 set-back, while the Termites nosed by the Spartans 34 to 29.

In a game which went into three evertime periods, the Placer Devils eked out a 16-14 win ever the Cardinals.

Rattler Jrs. were shoved into the league collar when the Ward 7 five took a 36-16 triumph, and the Leemis Zippers rallied in the second half to defeat the Rattlers 17-11.

GULLS BATTLE ALL-STARS TO 7-7 TIE IN BOWL GAME

In a slam-bang, hard-fought contest, the Senior All-stars held the league champion Seagulls to a 7-7 tie in the first "Sand Bowl" classic played here at Tule Lake last Sunday.

All-Stars coached by George Gekko, scored early in the first quarter when Frank Fujita fired a 30 yard pass to Yoshio Negi, all-star end, who was standing all alone on the Gull 30 yard stripe and he hit pay dirt without a hand touching him. Fujita heaved to F. Ikeda for the conversion.

Seagulls, who were held at baynearly 3 quarters, suddenly came to life in the third period. With the ball in their possession on the Stars' 25, Janus Kurahara, Gull halfback, spotted and passed to end Shig Takuma on the goal line and Takuma fell over for the precious touchdown. Kurahara passed to Jack Hayashida for the tying point.

In the thrill-filled fourth quarter, both teams threatened to break up the ball game. Gulls marched down to the All-Star 3 yard line but three scoring attempts thined, and in the closing 2 minutes the Stars moved the ball from their own 15 to the Seagull 4, but the time ran out before any damage was done.

Both lines played heads up ball and in the backfield, Janus Kurahara and Jack Hayashida for the Seagulls and Frank Fajita, Mike Mayeda, P.A. Shibata, and Frank Ikeda of the All-Stars were outstanding.
